CHAPTER 1

It was still dark, Ocean was sleeping peacefully in the back seat of the car. Her father, Sam Knight was driving the car and her mother Carla was talking to him.

Carla: She doesn't feel comfortable with the triplets.

Sam: Come on honey. They aren't that bad.

Carla: Tell that to your daughter. She told me that it's her condition to visit Jack, that she'll get her private room. She's not gonna share it with her cousins.

Sam: Okay fine. I'll tell Jack. He'll arrange her a separate room.

Carla: Yeah you better.

Sam: Okay wake her up, we're almost here.

Carla tapped on Ocean's shoulder to wake her up. It took her a minute to understand her surroundings.

Carla: We're almost here baby.

Ocean: Yeah! Can we go to the woods please? I wanna see the rising sun.

Sam: No baby! Uncle Jack is waiting for us and your Aunt made you lots of cookies. Do you wanna Miss that?

Ocean: But daddy?

Sam: No buts. We've already talked about it.

Ocean: Fine.

She said as she leaned back to her seat. Ocean Knight is the only child of Carla and Sam Knight. She's 10 years old, she's a very smart, sweet, cute and very obedient child. Summer vacations were about to end. Ocean and her parents were visiting Sam's younger brother Jack Knight. Jack lived in New Orleans and Sam lived in New York City. Ocean loves her uncle and Aunt, but their bratty 3 daughters, they were the worst nightmare for Ocean. They always trouble her.

Her father parked the car and Ocean and Carla came out of the car. Her uncle called her and she ran to him. Jack knelt down on the ground, and pulled his niece in a long embrace. Ocean is the youngest child of the family. She was born 8 years after her parents wedding. Because of her obedient and loving behavior, everyone loves her more than her cousins.

Jack: I've missed you so much.

Ocean: I've missed you too uncle Jack.

Jack: Really, I thought you might have forgotten your uncle.

Ocean: No...

Lora: Darling, you're not the only one here. Come her baby girl.

Jack's wife, Lora hugged Ocean and Carla. Jack helped his brother with the luggage. Lora invited everyone in the Villa. They all made their way to the dining room. Ocean gasped as she looked at the table, full of all her favorite baked goods. Lora loved baking, and every time Ocean visited them, Lora baked her a lot of things.

Lora: I didn't know what you would like to eat, so I baked a few things you like most, tell me how it tastes?

Ocean took a big bite of chocolate chip cookies and moaned.

Ocean: Mmmmm.... It's amazing Aunt, thank you so much.

Lora sat beside Ocean and they all enjoyed their breakfast together after a long long time. After they finished, they all went to their rooms. As promised, Sam talked to Jack and Ocean got her separate room. She ain't had to share the room of her evil cousins, Monica, Marina and Melody. Jack helped Ocean to unpack her stuff, after an hour or so she set her room and went out to play with her doll in the garden. She wanted to go to the forest behind her uncle's Villa. She always wanted to see that forest but her father never allowed her, saying it's not safe for her to go into that dark forest. Sam always feared that forest, but his daughter loved it.

Ocean was playing peacefully when her evil triplet cousins came and Monica took her doll from her hands.

Ocean: Give it back to me please!

Marina: Come and get it.

Ocean stepped forward to get her doll back but instead of giving her doll back, they threw it in mud. Laughing hysterically, triplets left Ocean with her doll. She picked up her doll and went to her room. She bathed her doll. She put the doll on the bed and sat beside it. There was a window above her bed's head. She sat with the window, looking at the forest. She has seen so many woods and forests in New York City, but this forest, it was something else. Like it has so many mysteries hidden deep inside.

It was the weekend and second last day of Ocean and her parents in New Orleans. After that they will be leaving for New York City. Ocean secretly requested Jack to set up a picnic in the forest. Triplets didn't like the idea, but Jack said Ocean visits them once a year. So it's her time to enjoy the way she wants. Triplets were playing together but Ocean chose to play alone. Walking here and there, looking at trees and flowers, Ocean was enjoying. In a while she heard the evil laughter of her cousins. She followed the direction, voices were coming from. She gasped at the scenery in front of her. It was like a piece of heaven on Earth. It was a beautiful and Crystal clear lake. Seeing her there, her cousins left. She came close to see what they were doing. It was a fish out of water, and they left it on the ground to die. She quickly grabbed the fish and ran to the lake and gently left it in the lake. It took a few seconds, and the fish started swimming again. Ocean's lips curled up in a cute smile. She stayed there for a minute or two and went back to the picnic spot.

Lora: Did you enjoy your time here?

Ocean: Yes. Thank you Uncle Jack and Aunt Lora.

Jack: When you visit next, we'll go to the forest again, okay?

Ocean: Really, thank you.

Ocean and her parents bid their goodbyes and left for the airport. They had a highway to cross first. Ocean had a great time, she enjoyed her visit as always but the most she enjoyed her time in the forest. She wanted to spend some more time in the forest. Ocean looked out, enjoying the scenery in front of her. Suddenly she saw someone following the car on foot. Sam always drives faster than the limit.

Ocean: (It must be an illusion. Who can follow us this fast on foot?)

She looked again but nothing was there. She sighed in relief and leaned back on the seat. She put earphones and played her favorite song on her music player. She closed her eyes and inhaled the crispy fresh forest air. Suddenly, she felt as if their car hit something and the father hit the breaks as hard as he could. Sam and Carla got out of the car and looked around.

Carla: Sam, what did we hit?

Sam: Nothing, can you see anything here?

Carla: Sam looked at the car, it bumped into something.

Sam: It's nothing.

Carla: Oh my God, there is blood on the road Sam. And it's fresh.

Sam: But nobody is here.

Carla: I told you not to speed up but you never listen to me.

Sam: I was driving on the highway and....

Carla: And you hit something or someone.

Sam: Do you see anything or anyone around here?

Carla: We need to look around. Maybe someone needs our help. We can't just leave. At least I'm not leaving until I'm sure that we didn't hit anything or anyone.

Sam: Okay fine. Let's go.

Ocean heard the whole argument. Her parents disappeared into the woods and she stayed in the car. She sat quietly in the car. She again felt that she's being watched. She looked through the car's windows but no one was there. She tried to shake off the feeling but she couldn't. She heard her parents voice from a distance. She sighed in relief that now they will leave this creepy place. They weren't late for their flight. The feeling of being watched was still there. She looked around then locked all the car doors. Her parents came out of the dark woods. They were still arguing. Sam was irritated that his wife wasn't listening to him.

Sam: You're being worried for nothing. That blood ain't look that fresh.

Carla: Oh it's fresh. Don't teach me that. I'm a doctor, I know these things not you.

Sam: You're overreacting Carla.

Carla: I'm not overreacting. We need to check again

Sam: No way.

Carla: Sam please, I can't shake the feeling that someone is hurt. Please, just one last t.e.

Sam: Okay fine. Last time, then we're out of this creepy place.

Ocean was alone again. She felt again that someone was watching her. She looked around and to her surprise, she actually saw something, actually someone. She focused on the element she saw. She saw two shining green orbs, sparkling like two stars in the dark forest. She felt the world around her started to turn dark. Slowly, everything vanished. The only thing she could see were those beautiful eyes. She opened the car and got out. She stood at her place for a minute, then she started to move in the direction of those eyes she saw. Her brain completely shut down and her legs were obeying those eyes. Slowly she walked towards the forest and in that moment, she felt nothing but the urge to get closer to those stars.

CHAPTER 2

Ocean was moving slowly towards the dark yet breathtaking forest. She couldn't feel a thing. Sam and Carla came back as they saw the car door was open and Ocean wasn't in the car. They looked around and found her walking towards the forest. She was almost in the woods. Sam and Carla called her a few times but she didn't even stop. She kept walking. Sam ran towards her and grabbed her by her elbow. Her eyes were pitch black and she looked like she was sleepwalking. Sam cupped her face but no response. Sam grabbed her by the arms and shook her body. That's when she looked at her father. She was confused. All she could remember was she fell asleep.

Ocean: How did I get here?

Sam: What do you mean? Why did you get out of the car?

Ocean: I was in the car daddy. I don't know how I got here.

Sam: That's it. This place is freaking crazy and creepy. We are leaving, right now.

Carla: But Sam....

Sam: No more buts. Now get in the car both of you or I swear to God you both are going to regret it.

Ocean: But daddy, I swear I don't know how I got out of the car.

Carla: Baby, have you seen someone?

Ocean: Nothing mommy. I was in the car. Then I locked it as you both went into the woods. Then next I was standing in the woods.

Sam: Enough! Both of you IN THE CAR RIGHT NOW. We are not staying any longer in this creepy place.

Carla: Sam why are you yelling at us. Just calm down.

Sam: Calm down. Really. I told you both, warned you not to go in this stupid creepy forest. You both didn't listen to me. Now all this is happening.

They all sat in the car. Ocean eyes were filled with tears.

Sam: Ocean is never coming back here, EVER...

6 years later.

Ocean came back home after a long tiring day at school. She was excited to see her parents. They were out in the country for some business deal. On Mr. and Mrs. Knight's order, the whole house was decorated.

Ocean: (Finally. It's my birthday and they will be back tomorrow I hope so they will.)

Ocean went to her nanny Tara and asked her.

Ocean: Hey Tara. Did they tell you when they'll be here?

Tara: I don't know baby. But they won't be able to make it till your birthday. They are busy. Maybe the day after tomorrow.

Ocean: What? But they promised me.

Tara: They did but honey, they are working there.

Ocean: They are the worst.

Ocean said that and ran to her room. Tara felt bad after lying to Ocean. But her Master ordered her and the others that their arrival should be a surprise for Ocean. Tara told Ocean's reaction to her Master.

On the other hand, Ocean locked herself in the room. She didn't even come out for dinner. She was crying in her room. Tara tried to make her open the door or at least eat something but she started sobbing harder, so she left. In all those sobs and tears, Ocean prayed to God for her parents' arrival by dawn. Between tears and prayers, she didn't know when she dozed off. She heard the door b rung twice, just like Sam rings it every time. She opened her eyes, it was dawn. Her heart welled up with happiness. She got up, unlocked her door and ran out of her room. She heard voices coming from the living room. She tiptoed and hid behind the wall so no one would see her. She wanted to surprise her parents.

Man: Where is she?

Tara: Master, she's in her room. Locked inside since last night.

Mar: At least I don't have to deal with the hard part right now.

Tara: What is it Master, Is everything okay?

Man: Nothing's okay Tara.

Ocean heard the man start crying, she got curious. She decided to walk to the door of the living room. The man talking to Tara, was none other than her Uncle Jack.

Jack: They were on their way back to New York City, but their plane crashed. Rescue team is working there but there is no way they have survived it. They are gone Tara. It's over. Sam and Carla are dead.

Jack and Tara heard a loud gasp by the end of Jack's sentence. They both turned and looked at Ocean's shocked state.

Ocean: You're lying....

That's all she managed to say as darkness enveloped her. Jack ran to her and was able to catch her before she could hit the ground. He carried her to his car, got in and kept Ocean in his lap. He ordered the driver to take them to the hospital as fast as he could. In 30 minutes, they reached the hospital. Jack carried her to the emergency room. Doctors checked Ocean and Jack waited outside.

Jack: How is she?

Doctor: She is in shock. She needs some rest, she'll be fine.

Jack: Thank you doctor.

Doctor left and Jack dialed his wife.

Lora: "Did you tell her? How did she react?"

Jack: "She's in the hospital. She fainted because of the shock."

Lora: "Oh my God."

Jack: "I'm bringing her with me."

Lora: "Okay. I'll set her room."

Jack: "I'll see you in a few hours."

Lora: "Take care of yourself too Jack."

Jack: "Yeah, bye."

Jack hung up and sat down beside the hospital bed. In a few minutes he received another call. It was the Chief of the rescue team, looking for Sam and Carla.

Chief: "Good morning sir."

Jack: "Good morning. Did you find them?"

Chief: "Yes sir. I'm so sorry. We have found their bodies. They jumped out before the crash but they weren't really lucky."

Jack:" How much time will it take to get them to New Orleans?"

Chief:" The chopper is here sir. It will take a few hours."

Jack: "Okay. Thank you for your help."

Jack looked at Ocean. He knew it would be difficult for him to handle his niece alone, so he called Tara and ordered her to pack Ocean's personal belongings as she won't be living here anymore. On the other side, Jack ordered the pilot of his private plane to get ready as they will leave New York City in an hour. Jack talked to doctors for Ocean's discharge, he signed the discharge papers and took his niece with him. On their way to the airport, they picked up Ocean's luggage. In an hour, they were in the air and on their way to New Orleans.

Ocean opened her eyes and everything was charged. She looked around, the room looked familiar but it wasn't her room. She got up and looked through the window above the head of the bed. She saw a dark forest. The same forest she dreams about every night. That's when she got it that it's her uncle's house. But she didn't know when and how she got here? Her father did as he said, she never came to New Orleans after that incident. So how come she's here? She couldn't remember at all. All she knew was that she was praying for her parents arrival on her birthday and she must have fallen asleep with that. She leaned to the window to look at the dark forest. It was as beautiful as all those years ago. Then the picture of those two stars came in her mind again and her room started to become all dark. Slowly, her surroundings vanished and all she could see or feel was the forest. Lora came into her room to check her if she's okay. Lora found her leaning with the head of the bed as her forehead was in the glass of the window. Lora called her many times but she didn't move an inch. Lora got scared and called Jack. Jack came running in Ocean's room. Jack sat at the edge of the bed and turned Ocean's body to him, now she was face to face with Jack. He saw Ocean's once sky blue eyes were pitch black. It was like she was in a deep sleep and dreaming. Jack grabbed Ocean by her shoulders and shook her hard. That's when her eye color changed back from black to blue. She looked at Jack with confused eyes. It was like she just woke up from deep sleep. Then all the things that happened in New York City came rushing into her mind. Her eyes welled up and all she said was.

Ocean: They left me alone.

CHAPTER 3

After her parents' funeral, Ocean locked herself in a room. Jack tried a lot to get her out and make her come back to her life, but she refused. Seeing her like this Jack's heart ached. He was sitting in his garden when Lora came and patted his shoulder.

Lora: Talk to me Jack, I'm worried about both of you!

Jack: I just want to do something that can ease her pain, her sorrows. I know she misses them. But locking herself like that and crying all the time isn't going to help her.

Lora: Once she'll join school, she'll feel better and it will ease up her pain too.

Jack: I didn't even think about it. You're right, thanks love.

Jack fished out his phone and dialed Principal Albert. In an hour Jack and Lora met him and showed him Ocean's past history and grades. Principal Albert was impressed with Ocean's profile. He gave her a seat in his school. Jack and Lora happily went back to the Villa to tell Ocean about her school. They bought her cookie and ice cream treat. As they reached home and went straight to Ocean's room. They told her how easily she's got admission and how principal Albert was happy seeing her grades and past records. A cute smile made its way to Ocean's lips. She finally smiled.

Jack: Are you happy?

She nodded her head in agreement and hugged Jack. He told her that she could join school tomorrow and also told her that he's taking her shopping so she can buy things she needs for school. She got up and went to the bathroom. She took a quick shower and changed into jeans and a t- shirt. She went downstairs where Jack and Lora were waiting for her. Ocean hopped into the car and they drove off to the mall. Lora helped Ocean to pick up some decent dresses and casual clothes for her. Also she helped Ocean to buy some shoes bags and basic necessities for school. After an hour or so they went to the cafe, Jack finally saw his niece happy again. They had their lunch in a cafe then they went back home.

Next day brought hopes for Ocean. She wore her skinny blue jeans and white buttoned up shirt. She wore her shoes and went downstairs. Triplets were on the dining table. They thought she's just up early. But Jack told them that Ocean is joining their school, he also warned his daughters not to trouble her or Jack will punish them. The triplets left for the school but Jack drove Ocean himself. Ocean pecked Jack's cheek, got out of the car and walked through the school's main gate. Jack told her to find the principal's office and talk to him only. She was walking towards the school's main building when a tall and handsome guy blocked her way. She tried to walk away but he didn't let her. She felt scared, things like that never happened to her in her old school. Her cousins were standing in the crowd and we're enjoying everything. She was looking at her feet nervously. Moon noticed her nervousness and spoke.

Moon: You can only pass if I let you. Now tell me, what's your name?

Ocean: Ocean, my name is Ocean Knight.

Moon: Another Knight. You ain't look all nerdy and bratty like the other three.

Ocean: They are my cousins.

Moon: look at me then answer me. I don't like being avoided.

She looked at the Moon. Moon looked straight in her beautiful blue eyes. She also looked straight in his eyes. She felt something familiar in those green orbs. Moon smiled and got out of her way.

Moon: You can go.

Melody: Just like that. That was way too easy Moon.

Moon gave Melody an angry glare and pointed his index finger on her.

Moon: Firstly, it's Mr Kart for you. Secondly, she passed that test a long time ago. Now tell me where you are going?

Ocean: To the principal's office.

Moon: Do you know where it is?

Ocean: In the main building.

Moon: Yes. You can go.

Ocean: Thanks.

She walked to the main building. Moon couldn't get his eyes off of her. It's her, he knew it's her. Ocean stepped in the main building, she roamed around but couldn't find the principal's office. She was lost. She initially cursed herself for refusing the help moon had offered her. She called her cousins but they cut the call. Then she saw two guys, she went to them for help. They looked at her like she was their prey. Before they could do anything wrong, Moon found her. He reached to her.

Moon: What are you doing here?

Ocean: I'm lost, I thought they could help me.

Moon told her to wait for him and went to those two guys.

Moon: I very well know what's going on in your dirty little head. If you ever looked at her again, I'll make sure to make your colorful life nothing but dark.

They nodded and left. Moon took Ocean to the principal's office and left. She sighed in relief and knocked at the office door.

Principal Albert: Come in.

Ocean: Good morning sir.

Principal Albert: Ahh.. Good Morning. You must be Miss Ocean Knight. You're very punctual. I like that.

Without wasting any time, the principal handed her all her stuff and notes she needed. Then he called a girl from her same standard. Angella came in and saluted principal Albert.

Angella: How can I help you today?

Principal Albert: Miss Nathan, meet Miss Knight. She's new here. I want you to be her guide and be friends with her as well.

Angella: I'll be more than happy to help her. Hi, what's your name? My name is Angella Nathan. You can call me angella or Angle as all my friends call me.

Ocean: Hi, I'm Ocean Knight.

Ocean followed Angell. She showed Ocean a bit then they both heard warning bells. Angella gave Ocean the direction to her class and went to take her class. Moon was standing in front of the class, talking to his friends. He saw Ocean coming his way. He stood straight but Ocean pretended like she didn't see him. He saw Ocean went to the same class. Moon smiled and was about to get into the class when Jake, his best friend called him.

Jake: Dude! Where are you going?

Moon: To the class.

Jake: Dude, are you alright?

Moon: Yeah! I'm fine. I'll see you all after the class.

Jake and the others stood there, shocked. Moon got into the class and spotted Ocean sitting in the third row, he went to her and sat beside her. Ocean shifted in her seat uncomfortably and Moon noticed that. He tapped on her shoulder and spoke.

Moon: You know, I don't eat people.

Ocean didn't reply to him, he tapped on her shoulder again. She fully ignored him. Moon tapped on her shoulder again and Ocean gave him a deadly glare. Moon chuckled, seeing she looked more cute when angry. He roze both of his hands in the air in surrender. Teacher got into the class and froze seeing Moon in the class.

Professor Mitchell: Today must be a lucky day for us all. Mr Kart has finally decided to attend the class. What so special today Mr Kart that brought you here today?

Moon: The Moon has found it's Sky in your boring class today, Mr Mitchell.

Professor Mitchell: And where is your Sky?

Professor Mitchell: At least you're here to attend this class.

Moon: Whether I take your class or not. I'm always the one here who gets A+.

Professor Mitchell: Sometimes I get really curious, how do you actually get A+ every time?

Moon: You wanna test me again old man. Wanna see again whether I cheat or not? You've already lost that bet about thirty times in 2 years.

Professor Mitchell: No I'm not in a mood to place a bet with you again on this.

Everyone settled in their places and the professor started his lecture. After 10 minutes Mala Brooke got into the class. Professor Mitchell started clapping and hinted to the others to stand up and clap either. Ocean was watching all this, she was confused.

Professor Mitchell: We are so blessed today. First Mr Kart and now Miss Brooke here as well.

Mala: If you missed me that much, you would have called darling.

Professor Mitchell: What is so special today? Please tell me somebody.

Moon: Don't look at me old man, I've told you already.

Andrew: It's the new girl in our class that brought Moon to your class.

CHAPTER 4

Professor Mitchell walked to the new girl. He was curious to know what brought Moon Kart to his class. Moon was a very intelligent student. But he never attended anyone's class and because of his grades principal Albert was on Moon's side. And because of his support, no teachers were allowed to punish Moon. Professor Mitchell stood right in front of Ocean. She was chewing her bottom lip in nervousness. Professor Mitchell asked her.

Professor Mitchell: So you're the reason for the miracle we have witnessed today. What's your name?

Ocean: Sir, I'm Ocean Knight.

Professor Mitchell: Oh! Another idiot Knight you are.

Ocean: Pardon please.

Professor Mitchell: Don't be so surprised.

Ocean: How can you say that? You don't even know me!

Professor Mitchell: I know you all. Those three brats weren't enough for principal Albert. He allowed you too. I'm tired of handling stupid mistakes of Knights.

Ocean didn't say a single word, but her eyes said everything to Moon. She picked up her stuff and ran out of the class. Moon followed her behind. Professor Mitchell called him many times but all he could hear was Ocean's sobs. Ocean went to the washroom and locked herself in. She was sobbing hard. She was so sad. No one ever talked to her that way. In her sobs and hiccups she complained to God, (Why mom and dad left me? Why do I have to go through all this? What have I done to anyone?) Moon reached to the washroom and knocked many times, but she didn't answer him. A loud sob escaped her mouth and anger shot through Moon's body. He was pissed. (Why would someone hurt a pretty thing like her?)

Professor Mitchell always tried to find a way to find a way to make principal Albert punish Moon and finally he got one. He went to the principal's office.

Professor Mitchell: I'm sick and tired of Mr Kart. Today he came to my class and then left in the middle of the lecture. This is too much Mr Albert.

Principal Albert: Calm down professor Mitchell. You have to be thankful that he finally attended your class.

Professor Mitchell: He left it in the middle of the lecture. I called him but he ignored me like I'm nothing. I can't work like this Mr Albert.

Principal Albert: Fine, where is he?

Professor Mitchell: Like I know.

Principal Albert called his assistant Mr Saeed and told him to find and bring Mr Kart to the principal's office. Mr Saeed went straight to the monitor room and searched Moon. He found Moon in front of the ladies room. He reached the ladies room and spoke.

Mr Saeed: Mr Kart, principal wants to meet you.

Moon: Tell him I can't come. I'm busy.

Mr Saeed: I'm sorry to say Mr Kart but I've never seen you standing outside the ladies room like a culprit.

Moon: I'm not a culprit. A girl is crying inside.

Mr Saeed: Okay... you better go. I'll bring the girl there too.

Moon: If you don't.....

Mr Saeed: Mr Kart, you know me for two years and you very well know that I keep my words. Now you go and I'll bring her.

Moon: Fine.

Moon yelled and left for the principal's office. Mr Saeed we went to the ladies room. He found Ocean. She was sitting on the floor, hugging her knees, she was crying. He went to her side and asked her.

Mr Saeed: Are you okay? What's your name?

Ocean: Ocean Knight.

Mr Saeed: Ah... the brilliant one I was told about. That she'll be joining today. It's a pleasure to finally meet you.

Ocean nodded in agreement.

Mr Saeed: Why are you crying?

Ocean hesitated first but then told everything to Mr Saeed. Mr Saeed fumed in anger. It was habitual of Mr Mitchell. He never reads the student's profile and judges them without knowing them.

Mr Saeed: Come on Miss Knight. We need to meet the principal.

Ocean: Why? I didn't do anything.

Mr Saeed: No no, you haven't done anything but Mr Mitchell is in a lot more trouble then he can imagine.

Ocean: Why?

Mr Saeed: You'll see. Now get up and wash your face. We are going to the principal's office.

Ocean: Okay.

Ocean washed her face and Mr Saeed took her to the principal's office. As they reached closer, they heard yelling. Mr Saeed opened the office door and held it for Ocean. Mr Mitchell was trying so hard to yell louder than Moon, but couldn't.

Professor Mitchell: He's lying principal Albert.

Mr Saeed: Pardon Mr Albert but Miss Knight here told me the exact same story as Mr Kart here telling us. It's Mr Mitchell who's lying. Mr Mitchell ignored the student's profile again. He didn't read it and insulted Miss Knight without knowing her.

Principal Albert: Not again Mr Mitchell.

Mr Saeed: He didn't just insulted Miss Knight in front of the class but also gave his stupid remarks over Miss Knight's beloved late parents.

Professor Mitchell: What do you mean by late?

Mr Saeed: I think late in my sentence meant that they are no longer alive.

Principal Albert: Mr Mitchell. You are a bad news to everyone. Do you have any idea what you have done? Mr and Mrs Knight died in a plane crash 2 weeks ago and if we're talking about Miss Knight here, she's a very brilliant student.

Professor Mitchell: I didn't know Sir.

Mr Saeed: You would have known if you would have read the student's profile you were provided by the school.

Principal Albert: Mr Kart, please take Miss Knight back to the class.

Moon: Yes sir.....

Ocean: Thank you but I can go by myself.

Ocean got out of the principal's office and Moon followed her behind. He smelled fear while following her. She was afraid of him. (But why?) He thought. He didn't follow her anymore. Ocean went back to her class and moon went to the school's garden. He sat under the shade of a tree, thinking about Ocean. He was expecting a smiling Ocean as he had seen 6 years ago. He didn't know what happened to her. All he could see was sorrows and pains in her eyes. He didn't know the reason until he heard everything in the principal's office. Death of her parents was the reason behind her dim eyes. He wanted to do something to make her feel better but didn't know what to do. (Till now, girls had kissed my toes, followed me to be with me. And here came this girl Ocean. God she's making me crazy.)

Jake: Dude, are you planning to stay here the whole day?

Moon: I'm not taking any else classes man.

Jake: Dude! Are you okay?

Moon: Yeah why? What's wrong?

Jake: What time is it?

Moon: 10am maybe 10:30am.

Jake: Check your watch dude.

Moon looked at his watch with an annoyed look but in a second his expressions changed when he realized what Jake was trying to say. It was 4:30pm. He was confused. It never happened to him before. He got up and started walking to the school's main gate. Jake called him many times but he didn't listen. Jake ran to him and patted his shoulder.

Jake: Dude. What are you doing?

Moon: Going home.

Jake: On foot. Dude you have a car.

Chapter 5

Moon went to his car. He was unlocking his car when a familiar scent hit his nostrils. He looked around and found Ocean standing near a car. She was smiling, he looked at her smiling face and a smile made its way to his lips. "Ocean has a really gorgeous smile." He thought.

Ocean felt someone's staring at her, she looked around and found Moon drooling over her with a sexy smile on his face. Her heart skipped a beat. "(Stupid heart." She thought. "I'm not interested in him, I'm running away from him. Then why? Stupid heart." She quickly hopped into the car and locked the door. Jack thought she might be tired or hungry or maybe both, he drove off fast. She caught a site of Moon, who's smiling face was suddenly sad. His shining eyes were dim. It squeezed her heart and she felt bad. She knew, she was the reason of his sad face. She tried to brush off the thoughts but she couldn't. Her tongue started to move itself and she asked a question to Jack she wasn't expecting!

Ocean: What if I feel like I'm the reason of someone's pain? What should I do?

Jake: I don't think you can hurt anyone. But if you have and you think you're the reason of someone's pain or tears. Then go talk to them, clear things up, apologise.

Ocean: What if they won't forgive me?

Jack: If you will apologise pure heartedly then they will.

Moon went back home. He didn't eat anything, since he came back home, he just locked himself in his room. At the time of dinner, Maria Kart, Moon's mother sent a maid to called him for dinner but he replied he ain't hungry. Maria got worried and went to his room. He was sitting at the edge of the bed, arms around his legs. He was looking at the dark forest from his wide window. He was so deep in his thoughts that he didn't even noticed Maria. Maria sat besides Moon and rubbed his back lovingly. Moon looked at her and forced a smile on his face. He laid down and put his head in her lap. Maria was sure that something was troubling her son. She asked him.

Maria: What's troubling my Moon so much that he's so lost and sad?

Moon: It's a girl ma.

Maria: She must be so so special that she has effected you this much.

Moon: She is ma. She sweet, she's cute, she's innocent, she's stunning and I love the way her dimples get deeper when she smiles.

Maria: Slow down. Who is she? Now I'm more curious, no one's effected you this much ever before.

Moon: When you'll meet her, you'll say the same.

Maria: Okay wait. This feels like a deja vu to me. Are we talking about the same girl 6 years back or it's someone else?

Moon: Ma, I might be a bad boy but I'm not a play boy. It's the same girl.

Maria: What's her name?

Moon: Ocean Knight.

Maria: Is she Jack Knight's daughter?

Moon: Nope. A: she's not a brat like them and B: her parents died 2 weeks ago.

Maria: That's so bad.

Moon: Yeah. Ma, I don't know why, but she's running away from me. She doesn't even look at me. If she does, I smell fear from her.

Maria: What did you do?

Moon: random stuff ma, like I do to all the new students.

Maria: Looks like she took it a lot more serious than it was. Your random joke might have scared her.

Moon: No no no ma. That can't happened. I didn't know. Please help me ma.

Maria: Why don't you just talk to her? Tell her it was just a joke.

Moon: You're right. I'll talk to her on Monday. Even better, I'll apologise to her.

Maria: I thought my Moon never apologise!

Moon: Yeah, but for her I can kiss her toes.

Maria: That's a new Moon for me. Now come on. Everyone's waiting.

Moon: What's for dinner?

Maria: Roasted lamb.

Moon: I love you ma.

Maria: I love you too my baby boy.

Moon had his dinner with his family. After dinner, he went back to his room. He was lying on the bed when Ocean's memories made it's way to his mind.

10 years ago

Moon was swimming in the lake when three girls tricked a fish and got it out of the lake. Until moon could reach it, the fish was already out. It was fighting for it's life and those three brats were enjoying it. Moon wasn't allowed to show himself to the others like that. He was watching it, slowly dying, helplessly. Then another girl came to that fish. Moon looked at her she was so pure like river water. He thought she would do the same as those three brats were doing, but she didn't. She quickly grabbed the fish and threw it back into the lake. She was biting her lower lip in nervousness, in a minute fish started to move and it swam back to depth. She smiled cheekily. The dimples on her cheeks got deeper as she smiled. She stayed there a minute or two then left. Moon carefully followed her every where. But as the sun started to settle down, She left with her family, Moon recognized her family, he knew them. But he never had seen that beautiful girl before. Moon went back to his home. She was humming a song all day. Her sweet voice was sweeter than a bird. He closed his eyes, the sweet humming became his lullaby and he drifted off. Next day, he woke up early and left. He wanted to see her again, but she was leaving. They drove off and moon started to follow the car on foot. The car picked up the speed and so did moon. Then he decided to hit the car. He ran faster and hit it. He was a kid and it hurt so bad. But he didn't care. All he cared about to see her one last time before she'll be gone for God knows how long. Her parents stepped out of the car, they were yelling at each other. Then they looked for anyone or anything they might have hurt. They went to the woods and moon cheered in happiness. He was staring at her, she must have felt that. She locked all the doors of the car. Moon smiled and kept staring at her. Suddenly, she looked straight in his eyes and her eyes turned pitch black. She opened the car, stepped out and slowly started walking in Moon's direction. Moon tried to stop her but couldn't. Soon he was lost in her eyes too, they kept staring at each other's eyes. The whole world vanished. She kept on walking towards moon until someone grabbed her arm and turned her. Their eye contact broke and moon felt like he just woke up from a deep sleep. He didn't understand what happened to him. He didn't move and kept admiring her beauty. Her father took her to the car, they all got in and he heard her father.

Sam: Ocean is never coming back here, Ever.

By the time he moved to stop them, they were gone. Moon went back to his home, he was crying and didn't eat whole day. His mother asked and he told her everything about the girl.

Maria: Shhh.... It's okay son. If she belongs to you then she'll come back. The destiny will bring her back to you.

Chapter 6

Ocean woke up the next morning bright and early. She went to the bathroom, took a quick shower and changed in skinny blue jeans and pink floral top. She went downstairs and enjoyed her breakfast with Jack and Lora. After breakfast Jack and Lora left for shopping and ocean went to the garden. She was watering the plants when the triplets came from behind. They nicely asked ocean to join them for adventure. They told her that they wanted to take her to the forest. Ocean agreed excitedly, she loved that forest. She felt something was weird but she brushed it off and went with her cousins. While on their way to the forest, the triplets apologized for their behavior with Ocean in the past. She was happy that finally they realized and she forgave them. The triplets took her to the lake. It took a bit of time for Ocean to recognize the place but she remembered it. This was the same lake years ago where she saved a small fish. The lake was beautiful, just like she witnessed years ago. It was deep as well. Monica took Ocean close to the lake and told her to look for all the beautiful fishes swimming in the lake. Ocean was admiring the view when suddenly, her feet tipped and she fell in the lake. That's what Ocean thought but in reality Monica pushed Ocean in the lake. Laughing hysterically, Monica left with her sisters. She didn't even look back at Ocean once. Ocean didn't know how to swim, she tried her best to keep her head above the surface of the water but it was getting hard. She was sinking down. She gathered everything she had left, went above the surface and screamed for help as loud as she could. She closed her eyes and darkness enveloped her.

Moon was up early as well, he didn't eat anything but left to swim in the lake. He was close when a familiar scent hit his nostrils. He inhaled deeply. He was enjoying the sweet smell of vanilla and roses when a scream made its way to Moon's ears. It was a familiar voice. Moon quickly ran towards the lake. As he reached he saw Ocean sinking down into the water. He quickly ran and jumped in the lake. He grabbed Ocean by her waist and pulled her out of the water. She was unconscious. Her pulses were weak and she was pale. Moon pumped her chest and kept praying to God. It took a minute or two, Ocean opened her eyes and with a loud gasp she threw up the water in her stomach along with the breakfast she had a few hours ago. She was coughing hard when she sat up. Moon was rubbing her back soothingly. She looked at him and suddenly she wrapped her arms around his neck. Moon froze for a few seconds then quickly he wrapped his arms around her waist and they both hugged each other tightly. Ocean felt her pulses went normal and she pulled away. Moon cupped her face and caressed her cheeks with his thumbs. Silently they both stared into each other's eyes. Moon flashed her a sexy smile and Ocean's cheeks turned pink along with her nose. Moon found it adorable the way she blushed. Seeing her reaction Moon laughed. She smiled at him but suddenly her smile fell and her eyes welled up. Moon got even more close to her and whispered softly.

Moon: What is it? Tell me.

Ocean: I hurt you yesterday, didn't I?

Moon: Hey...

Moon kissed the top of her nose softly and then spoke.

Moon: You can never hurt me, don't you dare think like this.

Ocean: I'm so sorry, I didn't mean to hurt you I was....

She couldn't complete her sentence as Moon placed his index finger on her lips and spoke.

Moon: If you tried to apologise to me ever again I will make sure to kiss you hard enough that you won't be able to breath for a good minute.

Ocean's eyes widened as those words made its way to her ears. She wasn't expecting that kind of answer. Her cheeks turned red. She was blushing hard, narrowed her eyes. Moon smiled and sat besides her.

Moon: Hey, were you running away from me? Did I scare you?

Ocean: You did! I was scared of you.

Moon: And not still scared?

Ocean: No.

Moon: Why were you scared of me?

Ocean: The way you talk to melody and shut her off, I got scared of that. It's not easy to shut her up.

Moon: Is that so?

Ocean: Yes!

She said with a smile that made her dimples get deeper than before and Moon controlled himself from kissing her. She has visible dimples and whenever she smiles the dimples get deeper on her cheeks. He tore his gaze away from her face, he didn't want to scare her again. He wanted to be close to her.

Moon: So why aren't you still scared of me?

Ocean: Because you just saved my life. I love this lake but I wish I could swim as well.

She said, changing the subject.

Moon: You don't know how to swim?

Ocean: No, we had a pool in our Villa back in New York City. But when I was born, my dad turned it into a kitchen garden. He never allowed me to get into the water.

Moon: Why so?

Ocean: I don't know, I never even asked him. But I guess, he was just afraid that he'd lose me.

Moon: He must have loved you so much.

Ocean: Yeah, he did.

Moon: I'm so sorry about your parents.

Ocean: Thank you.

Moon: So I was thinking, as you're not scared of me anymore and you aren't like your bratty cousins. Can we be friends?

Ocean: Yeah, sure.

Moon: I'm allowed to annoy you too?

Ocean: Haha! Yes sure you can. I won't mind at all.

Moon: Okay then, come with me.

Ocean: where to?

Moon: You're all soaked, you'll get sick. Come with me and I'll get you some dry clothes.

Ocean: I don't know.

Moon: Are you worried that I might lose my control and try to seduce you.

Ocean: Shut up.

Moon: You look cuter while angry. Anyways, I'm not gonna try anything. I'm just trying to help my new friend and I don't want her to fall sick. If you're not comfortable with that, I can bring you some clothes here. I ain't live too far, it'll take 2 minutes only.

Ocean: Okay, I can work with that.

Moon: Okay then, I'll be back in a few and you stay away from water.

Ocean smiled at the care and concern he showed to her. She sat down on the ground, deep in her thoughts she kept staring at the lake. Moon ran like a normal human being until he was out of Ocean's site. Then he zoomed to his Villa, took a jeans and t-shirt for ocean and zoomed back. No one ever knew the reason how Moon could run with such high speed. He was a male-undine, breathing under water was normal but zooming like a vampire wasn't normal. But Moon never cared about it, he wasn't allowed to show his powers, not even around the pack members. He carefully went back to ocean and gave her dry clothes. She stood up and Moon turned around to give her some privacy. When she was done with changing she called him out. Moon turned back to Ocean. A smile made its way to his lips. He was drooling over her but she didn't feel scared or creepy. She narrowed her eyes in nervousness with a shy smile on her lips.

Moon: It's like these clothes are made for you.

Ocean: What do you mean?

Moon: I mean you look beautiful in my clothes.

Ocean blushed even more and Moon chuckled.

Ocean: I need to get back, uncle Jack must be worried about me.

Moon: Hey! When will we meet again?

Ocean: Monday, at school. Bye Moon

Moon: Bye Ocean. Take care of yourself.

CHAPTER 7

Ocean went back home. It was dusk by then. She didn't know how but she spent a whole day with Moon. As she stepped into the Villa, Jack came to her and wrapped his arms around her. For a moment she didn't understand what happened. He broke the hug and yelled at her.

Jack: Where the hell have you been?

She got scared, no one ever had talked to her this loud. Her eyes welled up and she ran back to her room. She locked herself in and sobbed hard. Ocean was a very pampered girl. Being an only child, her parents never scolded her, they never even raised their voices in front of her. She kept crying until all the tears engulfed her and she fell asleep.

On the other hand, Moon went back to his Villa and was welcomed by his angry, older brother, Zeus. Zeus wasn't just Moon's older brother but also the Alpha of the pack Moon's parents and all other creatures followed in New Orleans. He was strong, wise and very smart. All the other packs respected him. Moon was about to step in when Zeus blocked his way and asked him angrily.

Zeus: Where were you the whole day?

Moon: Chill bro, I was at the lake.

Zeus: The whole day?

Moon: Yep. Anything else, I'm hungry.

Zeus shook his head, seeing the childishness of his younger brother. Zeus knew about the gifted powers of Moon. It was his idea to keep it all a secret. He loved his younger brother so much and couldn't see him getting hurt ever. So they decided to keep Moon's powers a secret. He went back into the Villa, went to him and engulfed him in a long, strong bro hug. He had missed him. Moon was still a baby for him. He took all the responsibilities of the pack just because he never wanted his brother to bear all these burdens. He wanted Moon to live his life the way he wants. He broke the hug and they went to the dinning table together and ate together with so many brother to brother chats they hadn't had in a while.

Ocean woke up when she heard a knock on her bedroom door. She got up and slowly opened the door. Lora was standing on the other side of the door. She had a tray full of food and a glass of juice. She came in and sat at the edge of the bed. Ocean came and sat beside her. Lora didn't speak a single word. She filled a spoon with pasta and held it for Ocean to eat. Lora fed Ocean by her hands and she silently ate it all. As she finished her dinner Lora gave her the glass and she drank all the juice. Ocean gave the glass back to Lora, it was then she spoke in a low and loving tone.

Lora: What happened honey? Tell me.

Tears welled up in Ocean's eyes again as she slowly explained everything to Lora. It was then, she realized that she didn't tipped off but was pushed into the lake. Lora fumed up hearing all of the events that had happened in the morning. Ocean also told her that if it wasn't for Moon, she would have died. Everyone knew that Ocean can't swim. Her father never let her. Fuming in anger, she held Ocean's hand and took her to the living room where the triplets were watching a movie along with their father. Lora turned off the TV and angrily asked them. They tried to deny it but Jack always knew whenever his daughters tried to lie. Guilt washed over him and it was soon turned in anger. He stood up and spoke to his daughters.

Jack: Today you have done something that will never be forgiven. How could you even think of pushing her in that lake? And here you have told us a totally different story. I am grateful to Mr Kart who saved her. From now on, you three have restraining orders, all three of you staying far away from Ocean. I will speak to principal Albert and tell him that too. As I know none of you share a single class with her, if I found out any of you ever tried to lay a finger on Ocean, I won't hesitate for a single second to send all three of you to jail. Understood?

They all nodded and left the living room. Jack turned back to face Ocean, his eyes filled with fear. A tear escaped his eye and ocean wiped it off of his cheek. He pulled her in a protective hug, sobbing hard on his chest Ocean couldn't hold back her tears. Jack took her back to her bedroom and stayed by her side until she fell asleep, dreaming happily.

Weekend passed like a flash and Monday morning came. Both Ocean and Moon were excited to see each other back to school. Moon got ready, ate his breakfast real quick and ran to his car. Maria knew the reason for his excitement, she shook her head, smiling cheekily on his happiness. Moon got into the car and drove off fast. He reached the Knight's Villa in 15 minutes. He pressed his hand on the horn and Ocean came out.

Ocean: Hey!

Moon: Hey!

They didn't speak much, Moon started the car and drove off fast. They reached the school, Moon parked his car and they both got out. They held hands and walked into the school. They were looking so cute. Everyone admired their couple where Mala and the triplets were burning in rage. They wanted to murder Ocean. Mala has been after Moon for so long and he never even looked at her. How could he? He was waiting for the angle of his life. Ocean was the only girl who caught Moon's eye. He was crazy for her. They happily went to their classes together. To their surprise, they had all the same subjects. Moon sat beside Ocean in each and every class and this time, Ocean happily sat with him. It was the break time, they both were sitting in the cafeteria together. Moon pushed a lock of hair behind her ear and she blushed hard. Smiling shyly, she looked in the other direction. Moon knew his effects on her. She looked more cute while blushing. He noticed everyone was looking at his Ocean, he angrily got up and yelled at everyone around him.

Moon: What? If you're hungry then eat something eatable, she's off limits. Now stop staring at her or I swear to God you all will be blind by tomorrow.

Ocean smiled at his over protectiveness, he was acting like her father, protective and possessive. He sat back down and spoke.

Moon: What are you doing today after school?

Ocean: I don't know. I have homework and test preparation.

Moon: That's all?

Ocean: Yes!

Moon: Okay then, I'll drop you back to your Villa. And we'll meet at the lake side in an hour again. I will help you with your test and the homework. Then we will have some fun together. What do you say?

Ocean: I don't know Moon.

Moon: What, say yes!

Ocean: I can't say yes before asking my uncle or aunt.

Moon: Then call them now and ask them.

Ocean: I can leave a message, aunt will reply as she will see it.

Ocean messaged Lora and she replied back in a minute. She allowed Ocean that she can go with Moon. Ocean happily told Moon whose smile was wider than before.

After school, Moon dropped her back to the Villa. She got in and went straight to her room. She took a quick shower and changed into an orange summer dress that reached to her mid thighs. She wore her pumps and went downstairs. She was looking pretty. Lora served her some snacks, she had it. After a bit of time, she pulled her bag over her shoulder, bid her goodbyes and went to the woods. She reached the lake side in 20 minutes, but Moon was nowhere to be found. She put her bag on the ground and enjoyed the nature and beauty around her. She was carving the wood of a tree when she felt hot breaths on the nape of her neck. She panicked and tried to turn around but whoever it was, they were a lot more stronger than her. She couldn't move an inch. Her heartbeat rose, tears blurred her vision as she sobbed quietly and prayed to God for Moon's arrival. She knew he would save her.

A loud sob escaped Ocean's lips and Moon turned her around. She was scared and crying. Seeing Moon, she quickly wrapped her arms around his neck. Moon felt bad for scaring her like that. He sat on the ground with Ocean on his lap. She kept crying and Moon rubbed her back soothingly. She buried her face in the nape of his neck, inhaling his scent. It calmed her down, Moon smiled, knowing his effects on her. He pecked her forehead and she stopped crying. He rubbed the tip of his nose on her cheek, her cheeks turned pink along with her nose. She was blushing. Ocean had never been with a guy before, Moon was the very first guy in her life. She put her head on his shoulder and Moon inhaled deeply. He was happy that finally he was with his Ocean. He cupped her face and wiped her tears by his thumbs. They both stayed like this for a while. Then Moon made her sit on the ground and went to pick up their bags. He returned with both bags and they spent the next few hours doing homework and preparing for their tests. Moon was attending all of his classes now, principal Albert was really happy seeing this. After when they were done with their studies, they both sat together, talking to each other. It was getting dark, Moon walked with Ocean as he didn't want her to get in any sort of trouble. It was a forest and it was getting dark. They walked back, Ocean waved at him and turned around to leave but stopped in her tracks. She turned back to Moon and went close to him, he had a questioning look on his face as he didn't understand why she came back. Moon froze and his mouth hung open when Ocean pecked his cheek and ran back to the Villa. He touched the spot with the tip of his fingers where Ocean pecked him. He smiled and went back to his Villa. Jack saw the way Ocean behaved with Moon. She came in and greeted Jack and Lora. Jack was happy to see his niece smiling like she used to smile, before her parents died. Ocean had her dinner and then she went back to her room. She changed into a loose shirt and laid down on her bed. With all the events with Moon, she drifted off.

Moon's heart was beating so fast when he reached his Villa. Zeus noticed that, and asked him the reason. Moon brushed it off and went to his room. He didn't eat anything and went to bed. He wanted to see her again, but that could only happen in the morning. Next morning Moon woke up all fresh. He took a quick shower and changed into Black jeans and gray t-shirt. He went downstairs and had his breakfast. Zeus was getting worried about his behavior, Moon used to wait for his brother and whenever he visited, they used to spend a lot of time together. But this time he was barely talking to Zeus. Moon bid his goodbyes and went to his car. Zeus asked his mother in curiosity.

Zeus: What is going on with him?

Maria: What do you mean?

Zeus: Why is he acting like this? Is everything okay?

Maria: Everything's fine dear. Your brother has a girlfriend now.

Zeus: Wait what?

Moon reached first at the lake and was waiting for Ocean. He was getting bored, so he decided to swim in the lake. He stripped off his clothes and jumped in the water. Ocean just heard a splash, like someone jumped in the water. She reached the lake side. She saw Moon's clothes but he wasn't there. She sat on the ground, knowing that he must be in the lake, swimming. Time passed by but he didn't come out. Ocean got worried but she couldn't do anything, she didn't know how to swim. She panicked and started calling him. At first Moon heard nothing, but then she screamed his name and it made its way to Moon's ears. He quickly went out. As he came out of water, Ocean quickly ran to him and hugged him tightly. Moon initially cursed himself and rubbed her back. She pushed him back and spoke in anger.

Ocean: What the hell Moon? What kind of sick prank was it?

Moon: Calm down Ocean, I was just swimming.

Ocean: You've been under the lake for more than 30 minutes, you didn't come out for a second.

Moon: No no. I was just in there for 5 minutes.

Ocean: Don't fool me Moon. I've been here for 30 minutes.

Moon: No, you're imagining things that's all.

Ocean: I can't believe you're lying to me. If you want it this way then it will be this way, good bye.

She turned around to leave but Moon stopped her.

Moon: Okay fine, I'm telling you everything. But you have to promise me to keep it a secret.

She nodded her head and he made her sit. He took a deep breath and started speaking.

Moon: I'm not a human. I'm a supernatural creature called undine. We can breath under water. We can swim fast like a fish. But we can't survive without water. I come here daily and swim for hours.

Ocean: You want me to believe this. I can't believe you are lying to me again.

Moon: I'm not lying to you, I swear. You don't believe me, I can show you. Please, just let me show you.

She sighed in defeat and nodded her head. Moon told her to strip off her clothes and she did. He took her hand and went to the water. Moon told her to hold her breath. He took her inside. Under the water, Ocean saw Moon's skin was green and glowing. He was right, she saw him breathing underwater, like he's a fish. She got scared, Moon noticed her expression and he got her out of the water. She quickly wore her clothes back and left. Moon was now hurt, he felt an ache in his heart. He went back to his Villa, and went straight to his room. He didn't speak to anyone, not even Maria. He couldn't tell anyone that he told his secret to Ocean or her life could be in danger. Ocean went back to home, but she couldn't focus on anything. After dinner she went to bed, she was scared of him. Next morning, Moon had his breakfast and then he left for school. Jack dropped Ocean at school. She ignored Moon all day, he tried to talk to her but she didn't let him. He was feeling really low by the end of the day. He asked Jake to drop him back to his Villa as he wasn't feeling well. Jake dropped him and he went straight to his room. He laid on his bed and drifted off. Zeus came to check on his brother, he was worried. He knew something was off about him. He wasn't eating well, he wasn't swimming, he didn't talk much. He sat at the edge of the bed, Moon was in deep sleep. Zues put his hand on his forehead and realized that Moon had fever. He quickly called the pack doctor. Doctor checked Moon and spoke.

Doctor: He's stressed about something, something is bothering him. Let him sleep. He will feel better by the morning.

Zues nodded, the doctor bowed his head and left. A few days passed by, Ocean daily attended school but Moon didn't come. She was still afraid of him, but she missed him more. She didn't have any ways to contact him. She went to Jake and asked him.

Ocean: Hey! Can I ask you something?

Jake: Sure, What's up?

Ocean: Why isn't moon coming to school?

Jake: He has been sick for a few days. That's why. I went to meet him. He's pale and he got a bit thin. I don't know what's wrong with him, but he's not good.

Saying that Jake left for his class and Ocean was feeling guilty. She knew it was her fault that he's sick. She made up her mind that she will visit the lake after school, hoping to find Moon there.

After school, she went to the lake. She saw Moon was sitting on the ground. Jake was right. His skin was pale and he was thin. He looked like a mess. Guilt washed over her as she quickly ran to him and hugged him from behind.

Ocean: I'm so sorry for being a total brat. Please forgive me. I hurt you so much. I'm so so sorry. But I promise I won't do anything like this ever again.

Moon smiled at her apology, he turned around and pulled her to his chest. He kissed the top of her head and spoke.

Moon: It's okay, everything is fine. Don't cry.

They stayed like this for a while then they both returned back to their homes. Moon went back and asked her mom for dinner. He felt hungry. Maria smiled and gave him pasta to eat. He felt a lot better after meeting Ocean, though he wanted to see her. After dinner he went back to his room, he tried for hours to fall asleep but he couldn't. He was missing his Ocean. He got up from his bed and looked out of his window. He wanted to see her now. It was 2 in the morning when he opened his window and jumped out. He went to Knight's Villa to see her. It was late but he couldn't help it. He hoped for her to be awake as he climbed up and entered her room through her window. She told him before about her room. It was easy to get into her room without getting noticed. Ocean came out of the bathroom, only in her bathrobe. She was humming a song. Suddenly someone grabbed her and pushed her to the bed. She came out of the shock when she noticed it was Moon who pinned her to the bed. They both stared at each other and Moon started leaning in.

CHAPTER 9

Moon pinned Ocean on her bed, her heart was jumping in her ribcage. Moon leaned in and pecked her lips. He smirked when he noticed her cheeks turned red. He intertwined his fingers with hers and kissed her. He bit her lower lip asking for entrance, she parted her lips and his tongue slid into her mouth. Her mouth tasted like chocolates. He broke the kiss and licked her saliva from her lips. She opened her eyes to look at him. It was her first kiss and she was glad it was with Moon. Moon grabbed her by her hips and with a swing she was on top of him. Moon wrapped his arms around her waist protectively. She put her head on his chest, listening to the sweet beat of his heart. Then she got up and Moon gave her a questioning look. She smiled shyly and spoke.

Ocean: I need to wear something.

Moon chuckled lightly as she ran into her closet. She came back in 5 minutes, wearing a long loose shirt that reached to her upper thighs. She crawled into bed with Moon, he held her small figure tightly and she put her head on his chest. Moon played with her long red hair and spoke.

Moon: Was that your first kiss?

Ocean: Yes.

Moon: How was it?

She raised her head to look in his eyes and then she spoke with a shy smile on her lips.

Ocean: It was perfect.

Moon smiled and kissed on top of her head. Moon pulled her on him and they both drifted off.

Next morning, Moon woke up before Ocean. He looked at his angle, sleeping peacefully on him. He gently put her on the bed and looked at her face. She was sleeping like a baby. He couldn't control himself, he kissed her both cheeks, then her forehead and at last he pecked her lips. She didn't wake up. He looked at her cylinder neck. He leaned in and placed a wet kiss on her neck, a moan slipped her mouth as she opened her eyes to look at Moon. She thought he would leave by the morning but he stayed, she was beyond happy. He again kissed her neck and she arched her back to give him better access. He took the cue and nibbled her pulse. She gasped and entangled her fingers with his hair. Before he could lose all of his control, he stopped. She gave him a confused look and he spoke.

Moon: If I don't stop now, then I'll end up doing something that you're not ready for.

She got even more confused, he smirked at her and reality hit her. Her eyes widened and her face blushed even more. He pinched her cheek and got up from bed. He kissed her forehead and carefully climbed down from her window.

Moon reached his home, Zeus saw him walking in and he ran to Moon. He stood in front of Moon and engulfed him. Moon was shocked with a sudden powerful hug. He broke the hug and spoke in a deep angry voice.

Zeus: Where have you been?

Moon: Out.

Moon said as he totally ignored his brother and went inside the house. Zeus followed him, fuming up more in anger.

Zeus: What do you mean by out?

Moon: Out means out...

He said as he downed a full bottle of water without taking a break.

Zeus: Do you have any idea how worried I was?

He said, getting angrier.

Moon: Oh for God's sake, I'm not a baby, stop being annoying. I know what I'm doing and you don't need to get worried every time I'm home late.

Hearing Moon, Zeus' anger rose even more. Moon never talked to him like that, he was about to yell at his brother but he controlled himself and walked away, huffing and puffing in anger. Moon went upstairs to his room, he hopped in a warm shower. Maria entered his room when he just came out of the bathroom only in his jeans. He saw his mother and covered his half naked body with the towel and spoke to his mother in an embarrassed tone.

Moon: Ma knock before you come in.

Maria giggled and replied.

Maria: You can spend a whole night in a girl's bedroom but you're embarrassed with your mother while you're just half naked.

Moon embarrassed looks were now replaced with a shock as he asked his mother.

Moon: How do you know ma, that I was with her.

Maria: I know you Moon. I know the way your eyes shine every time you see her. How are things now between you both?

Moon: It's been good ma. She's so cute. She blush even when I cup her face.

Maria: I'm glad that you are happy. I want to meet her now.

Moon: Ma you know Zeus is here and I can't stand anyone laying a finger on her. She's a human and I know Zeus will be mad at her.

Maria: He'll be leaving in two days, then you can call her to have dinner with us.

Moon: Okay that can work. I'm sure you're gonna love her. She's so so sweet.

Maria giggled, seeing his excitement. She got up and went out of his room. Moon got ready for school, had his breakfast quickly and left to pick Ocean.

Two days passed in a flash, Zeus was leaving. Moon told Ocean about the dinner his mother had planned to meet Ocean. Zeus bid his goodbyes to his parents and Moon walked him out. Hesitantly he spoke to his brother.

Moon: I'm sorry Zeus, I shouldn't have talked to you that way. Please forgive me.

Zeus patted his shoulder brotherly and spoke.

Zues: It's okay. It's not all your fault. So don't apologise.

Moon gave him a weak smile and Zeus spoke again.

Zeus: She's a very precious young lady, take care of her. She's actually the one for you.

Moon's mouth hung open as he spoke again.

Moon: How did you know?

Zeus: I'm your brother, I know you well. And it's not impossible for me to find her.

Moon gave him an understanding smile and Zeus left.

Zeus felt a bit guilty to treat a lady so horribly but he couldn't help. He loves his brother and he can't bear to imagine Moon being hurt.

Flash back

Ocean was going back home when Zeus followed her, he heard her saying that her uncle and his family will leave and she'll be alone at her place. He followed her and waited till Mr and Mrs Knight left with their daughters. Ocean stayed in because she had a test preparation and Moon didn't let her touch a book. He was so romantic and didn't let her off of his lap. She came out of the bathroom and screamed when she saw a stranger sitting on her bed. She asked in a fearful voice.

Ocean: Who are you? What are you doing here?

Zeus looked at her. He stood up and walked to her, he stood in front of her and then spoke.

Zeus: So you are that very girl who is manipulating my brother.

Ocean: You're Moon's brother?

Zeus: Yes. I'm his brother and I wanna know, what do you want from him?

Ocean: Excuse me!

Zeus: Don't be so surprised, I know girls like you. All you care about is money and fame. You can get it wherever you want. Stay away from Moon.

Ocean: I won't.

She said, keeping her head high.

Zeus: I'm going to say this once. Stay away from my brother or else.

He said angrily. To which she glared at him and yelled at him bravely.

Ocean: Or else what?

Zeus: Or else I will kill you painfully.

Ocean should have been crying by now but not this time. She fisted her hands and yelled at him again confidently.

Ocean: Then kill me. Because you can only separate me from moon by killing me. I'm not afraid of your stupid sick threats. I love Moon and I don't give a damn to what you think. I love him and he loves me back. And you can't separate us ever.

Seeing her confidence Zeus smiled and spoke in a proud tone.

Zeus: Now I understand what my brother has actually seen in you. You can be the only one for him. You're actually perfect for him.

Ocean was now confused and shocked at the same time. She spoke again in a few moments.

Ocean: What do you mean?

Zeus: I can see it in your eyes, he told you his secret, didn't he?

Ocean didn't hesitate for a single second and spoke back confidently.

Ocean: What secret?

Zeus chuckled at her protectiveness towards his brother. He was now sure that Ocean was the perfect person for his brother. He lightly patted her head and spoke again.

Zeus: You really are the perfect person for Moon. Moon is special and we all look after him. I know he told you everything, I can see it in your eyes. But I'm so sure that you will protect him and his secret. Now I know why my brother is crazy for you. You're not like the other girls. You're different. You don't just have a beautiful face but a pure and innocent heart. That now belongs to my brother and I'm happy for both of you. You both are born to be together.

Ocean was now shocked with the sudden change in his tone and his actions. Just a few minutes ago, he felt like he would kill her here and now. But now he's acting like a sweet brother. She didn't know what to do or how to respond to him. She couldn't recover from all the sudden shocks he gave her. "Huh..." Was the only response, came out of her mouth, as she kept staring at Zeus.

Ocean was really confused with the sudden change in Zeus' behavior. He noticed it in her eyes. He sighed and spoke again.

Zeus: I know what you must be thinking. I was just looking after my brother. For me, he's still my baby brother. I could never stand to see him hurt. And the way you talked to me, I'm sure you are perfect for him. I've seen pure love for you in his eyes. I wanted to be sure that you also have the same feeling for him. But what I witnessed was beyond my imagination. You know no one ever raised their voice in front of me. I'm impressed.

Hesitantly Ocean asked him.

Ocean: So you really don't have any problems with our relationship?

Zeus chuckled lightly and spoke.

Zeus: No, I don't. If you have any problem, never hesitate, just give me a call.

Ocean smiled and spoke.

Ocean: Thank you for giving me a chance to prove myself.

Zeus: Take care of him. He's so precious.

Ocean: I know.

Zeus turned around to leave but he stopped mid way. He turned around to look at Ocean. She understood the reason, she knew he was worried if she'd tell Moon about this little conversation. She gave him a small smile and spoke.

Ocean: I am not going to tell him. I know and I can understand. You love him and can do anything for him. Moon is lucky to have a brother like you.

By the end, her voice cracked and Zeus saw tears in her eyes. He walked to her and patted her head like a brother. He spoke.

Zeus: You know, I am brother for you too. So you don't have to be sad. Just give me a call if you need my help with anything. I promise, I will try my best to be there for my baby sister.

Ocean gave him a wide smile and Zeus left. She was glad to know that Zeus was now on their side.

Back in Time.

Moon happily went back inside and told everything to Maria. Maria was shocked, listening to moon about Zeus' reaction. But she didn't push it more, she was happy to see her Moon was happy. 6 years ago when Moon saw her the very first time and lost her the very next day, Moon wasn't the same person since then. He stopped enjoying his life, he used to lock himself in his room. So many nights Maria spent sitting besides Moon. But as she came back to his life, things changed. Now he's happy and lively.

Maria set up a lunch at weekend. Moon didn't tell her, he decided to tell her at the lakeside. Ocean reached to the lake, she was enjoying the cold breeze when Moon wrapped his arms around her waist from behind and placed a wet kiss on her sweet spot. She moaned and Moon smiled. He turned her around and picked her up. She wrapped her legs around his waist and Moon sat on the ground. Ocean put her head on his chest and they stayed like this for a while. Then Moon cleared his throat and Ocean looked at him.

Moon: You're invited for lunch on Saturday.

Ocean: What if they won't like me?

Moon cupped her face and pecked her lips, he gave her a sweet smile and spoke again.

Moon: Yep they will not like you, they will love you.

Ocean smiled and nodded her head. Ocean headed home and told Lora about her lunch with the Karts. Lora was happy for her. She even gave her some ideas for her appearance and advises to impress Mr and Mrs Kart. Ocean went back to her room, she took a quick shower and changed into something comfy. She came out of the closet laid down on the bed and drifted off.

Next day Derek Kart, Moon's father, came back from his 3 months business trip. He entered the Villa and saw Moon, who was humming a song and watering plants. He quickly ran to his wife, he didn't kiss Maria, not even greeted her. He grabbed her hand and took her to the garden where Moon was in a really good mood. He pointed his finger towards Moon and gave Maria a look that said, "what had happened to him?" Maria giggled and spoke.

Maria: Your son is in love. And get habitual of this Moon now, that's all you are going to get from now on.

Derek got tears in his eyes, he prayed so much for his son to be like this, like he used to be. But everything changed since he saw that girl. He knew it wasn't her fault, she never actually knew that Moon loved her. Derek walked to his son, patted his shoulder and as Moon turned around, he engulfed him in a bone cracking hug. Moon got worried but seeing his mother, giggling continually, he sighed in relief and wrapped his arms around his father as well. He had missed him a lot.

Derek walked in with Moon and Maria. Derek went to his room to get a shower. Moon sat with Maria. He was still thinking about what Ocean had said to him. It was something he couldn't stop thinking about. He was getting worried. Maria noticed his uneasiness and asked her.

Maria: What is it Moon? Are you worried about something?

Moon: Yes ma. Pa is here. I know you'll love Ocean, but I don't know about pa. Ma I can't live without her.

Maria: All she needs is a chance. I know Derek will love her too. The way you talk about her. I'm sure she is a very sweet and loving person.

Moon: And who'll tell pa?

They didn't notice that Derek was back down stairs. He wanted to spend some time with his super sensitive son. He heard Moon's question and asked them back to inquire more.

Derek: Tell me what?

Moon looked at Maria with pleading eyes and Maria understood that Moon ain't want to explain it to his father. Moon was worried about Ocean being a human. And his father will never allow him to be with a human. Maria made Derek sit beside her and told him about Ocean. Derek got up I'm anger and spoke.

Derek: That can never happen son. You can bring anyone, but not a human.

Moon didn't say anything. He ran up to his room and locked himself in. He didn't even have his dinner.

Maria: At least give her a chance Derek. I'm sure you're going to love her.

Derek sighed in defeat and told her. He never argued with his wife.

Derek: Call her tomorrow for lunch.

Maria: Yes, she will be here.

Moon texted Zeus, he knew Zeus is the only one who can convince Derek for Moon and Ocean's relationship. He told him how Derek dismissed it without hearing or giving Ocean a chance. Zeus replied to him not to worry about. He said if Ocean could easily change Zeus' mind then Derek is a piece of cake. He assured Moon that Ocean is smart and she will earn her place in Derek's heart. And if still Derek would say no, then Zeus will talk to him and convince him to accept Moon and Ocean and their relationship.

In a while Maria came in and told Moon that her father was ready to meet her. Moon hugged his mother and thanked her. Then Moon informed his mother that he'll be spending the night with Ocean. Maria smiled and told him to be back before breakfast. She fed Moon then left. As soon as Maria left, Moon jumped out of the window and ran to Ocean's. As promised, she was waiting for him. Moon came in and pinned her on her bed. She liked his dominant side and she felt safe with him. Moon softly placed his lips on hers. She moaned as he bit her lower lip, asking for entrance. She parted her lips and gave him full access to her mouth. He drank from her mouth like he was thirsty for days and he found water. He let her go when she was out of breath. She sat on his stomach and he held her by her waist. They talked for a while, then Moon went to the bathroom to get fresh. When he came out, he saw that she was lying on her stomach, her feet held high in the air. He came to her and laid on her. He moved her hair from her shoulder and placed a wet kiss on her shoulder. She gasped, Moon again kissed her shoulder and a moan slipped her lips. Moon smiled and turned her around. She was blushing, as always. Moon always liked the way she blush. He kissed her both cheeks and then he kissed the tip of her nose. He didn't say anything, they both crawled into bed, Moon held her tightly on his chest and they both drifted off in each other's arms.

CHAPTER 11

Ocean got ready to meet Mr and Mrs Kart. She was nervous. She wore white knee length dress with white heels. She didn't tie her hair. She was looking gorgeous. She went downstairs, Jack was waiting for her in the car. He drove her to Moon's Villa. It was her first time to be at Moon's place. Jack stopped the car and looked at his super nervous niece, he smiled, grabbed her hand and said.

Jack: Just be yourself Ocean and you'll be fine.

Saying that he kissed her forehead. Ocean picked up the flowers and got out of the car. She took 3 deep breaths and rung the bell. Maria opened the door and invited her in. She handed Maria the flowers she brought. Maria smiled and said.

Maria: Thank you young lady, come on in.

Ocean followed her behind. Maria led her to the living room where Derek was reading a book.

Ocean: Good afternoon Mr Kart.

Derek looked at her and froze for a moment. He was looking at her like it's a miracle standing in front of him. Maria cleared her throat and Derek greeted her back.

Derek: Good afternoon, so you're the very famous Ocean. You know Moon doesn't stop talking about you.

Ocean narrowed her eyes and murmured shyly.

Ocean: Oh thank you.

Ocean looked around for Moon who was nowhere to be found. Maria noticed it and told a maid to take Ocean to Moon's room. She entered his room and heard the shower running. He was still not ready. She sat on his bed quietly. Suddenly, he started singing a song and Ocean giggled. She fished her phone out of her purse and turned on the camera. Bathroom door was open and Moon didn't know that Ocean was in his room. She recorded everything quietly. When she felt he would catch her, she quickly got out. She was surprised to see this childish Moon. Around her, he was always protective and possessive Moon, even angry sometimes. She was watching the video and giggling, she didn't notice when he came out of the bathroom. He was only wearing a towel. He grabbed her hand and pulled her to his hard chest. He took her phone and threw it on his bed. He looked straight in her eyes, she narrowed her eyes and murmured shyly.

Ocean: I'm sorry.

Her cheeks were rosy red along with the tip of her nose. Moon chuckled and pecked her lips softly. Moon let her go and asked her with a smirk.

Moon: So you just to filmed me naked, so you can watch it when I'm not around?

Ocean's eyes widened in shock. She shook her head without looking at him and whispered softly.

Ocean: No, I was just...

She couldn't complete her sentence because Moon kissed her. He couldn't resist every time he sees her blushing. He broke the kiss, held her hand and spoke with so much love.

Moon: Never apologize for anything you do. I love whatever you do.

He tried to hug her but she backed away. He looked at her in confusion, he felt hurt. Ocean covered her eyes with her hand and said.

Ocean: Cover your body first. I ain't came here to see you naked.

Moon shook his head and chuckled on her innocence. He pecked her forehead and went to his closet. He came back after 10 minutes all dressed up and ready. He grabbed her wrists and spoke.

Moon: Now can I hug you?

She didn't say anything. She smiled cheekily and wrapped her arms around him. He held her tightly to his chest and inhaled her sweet scent deeply. He then pinched her chin and guided her gaze to him and softly spoke.

Moon: You look beautiful.

She smiled and buried her face in his chest. He grabbed her hand and led her back to the living room. Ocean was now a bit comfortable. She sat on a sofa and Moon sat with his dad. Derek cleared his throat and asked Ocean.

Derek: So you are a Knight?

Ocean smiled and replied.

Ocean: Yes!

Derek: Sam Knight's daughter?

Ocean: Yes.

Derek didn't ask her anything else. He was shocked for some reason. Moon noticed it but didn't say anything. He didn't want to scare or worry Ocean, so he stayed quiet. Soon Maria came and called everyone for the lunch. Moon sat beside Ocean, they all ate in peace. They didn't talk much, just enjoyed their food. Derek noticed Ocean didn't eat much. He asked her in a worried tone.

Derek: What's wrong? Don't you like the food?

Ocean smiled and replied.

Ocean: No, the food is amazing. I just don't eat too much.

Derek chuckled and continued eating. After lunch, Moon drove Ocean back to her Villa. He parked the car outside the Villa and asked her curiously.

Moon: So what do you think, do you like them?

Ocean quickly nodded her head and spoke.

Ocean: They are lovely. It was fun.

Moon sighed in relief and smiled. He pecked her forehead. She got out of the car and walked into the Villa. Moon then drove back to his Villa. Moon entered the Villa and he heard his parents talking to each other. More like whisper talking. He stood there quietly to listen what they would say about his Ocean.

Maria: I'm not sure if that's really possible.

Derek: We both have just witnessed it Maria. It's her.

Maria: But she was dead. She never survived.

Derek: We would have asked her father if he was alive.

Maria: What about his brother?

Derek: He knows nothing about it. Only her father knew. He took her away from New Orleans for a reason. I knew he would never stay after he would know the condition. But no one can trick destiny.

Maria: Are you a hundred percent sure it's her?

Derek: Not a hundred percent. But I can say those eyes looked really familiar to me. We have to ask the Master. He's the only one who knows.

Maria: If it's her then we have to tell everything to Zeus.

Derek: We'll see about that.

Moon was confused hearing their conversation. He didn't understand whether they were talking about Ocean or someone else. He went outside and stepped in again to show them that he just came back. He didn't ask them anything about her. He was more tangled in all the things he heard his parents talking about. He felt bad for listening to their personal conversation, but he wasn't expecting all that. He went to his room, completed his homework and laid on his bed. Maria came into his room to call him for dinner. He first refused but he didn't want to give her any hints that he heard their conversation. So he went downstairs to have dinner with his parents. He was extremely quite, Derek noticed it and asked him in a worried tone.

Derek: What happened son? Did she not like us?

Moon: No, she loves you guys.

Derek: Then why are you so quiet?

Moon: Nothing, I'm just missing Zeus.

Maria: Aww. He will be here soon. I know you both didn't get too much time together this time. He said he'll try to visit soon. You know your brother.

Moon: Yeah I know ma but can't he just live with us. I miss him a lot sometimes.

Derek: When he'll visit next time, ask him by yourself.

Moon: Yeah I will.

Moon said with a weak smile and focused on his dinner. Derek cleared his throat and spoke.

Derek: So you're not going to ask what we think about her?

Moon's face lightened up and he excitedly replied his father.

Moon: I know you both love her. I don't have to ask.

Derek: Really, what makes you think that? Maybe we don't like her.

Moon: Nah. You both love her. I know you both. If you wouldn't have liked her, you would have ordered me not to see her again.

He ended his sentence with a smirk. He knew his parents very well. Maria giggled and Derek slammed his fork on the table annoyingly. He thought to have a little fun with his son, to tease him a little but Moon already knew their reactions. He quickly finished his dinner, fist bumped his father, kissed his mother's cheek and went back to his room.

He sat on the edge of the bed and looked out from his window. He was in his deep thoughts. Suddenly something moved. He dropped all the thoughts and focused on the figure he saw. He stood up and looked out but nothing was there. He found it weird, because it was their personal property and no one ever intruded. He didn't do anything but decided to talk to his brother about it in the morning. He laid back on his bed and thought about the only girl ever caught his eyes, his Ocean.

After an hour of twisting and turning on his bed, Moon decided to go and see Ocean. He got up, wore his clothes, wrote a note to his mother to know that said, "Ma, I'm going to see Ocean and will be back by breakfast. Love you."

He left the note on his bedside table and jumped out of his window. He looked around, no one was there. He smiled to himself and in a flash, he was standing in Knight's Villa. He got into Ocean's room and found her sleeping peacefully. He stripped off his shirt and climbed into her bed.

As the bed moved a bit, Ocean opened her eyes and found Moon beside her. She smiled looking at his face. She brought her hand to his face and brushed her fingers over his cheek. He kissed her forehead and she whispered.

Ocean: I thought you said you'll be staying home because of your father.

She said it with a teasing raised eyebrow. A smirk appeared on his face and he whispered back seductively.

Moon: What can I do? I'm addicted to you now.

Ocean's cheeks turned pink along with the tip of her nose. She narrowed her eyes and just then she realized that Moon was half naked. She quickly tried to get away from him but he stopped her. He grabbed her waist and pulled her soft body to his hard chest. Her heart beat rose and her breaths became heavy. In a flash, Moon was on top of her, he pinned her to the bed and looked at her with that smirk still plastered on his lips.

Ocean tried to get herself free from his hold but he was strong and she couldn't fight him. He leaned in and pecked her lips. She gasped at the sudden contact with his cold lips. Her cheeks were red by now, she was blushing hard. Moon leaned down and captured her sweet strawberry lips in a toe curling and blood rushing kiss. He sucked her lower lip hard, asking for entrance. She parted her lips and his tongue slipped in her mouth. His tongue moved and roamed around every corner of her mouth. Her lips were also moving in sync with his lips. After a few minutes passed and he broke the kiss for her to fill her lungs with oxygen.

Breathing heavily, she put her head on his chest and he held her small figure tightly. He inhaled the sweet scent of her body and felt a spark all over his body. Ocean giggled cutely and asked him.

Ocean: Someone missed me so much in a few hours only.

He kissed the top of her head, pulled her body fully on his. Now she was lying on top of him. He guided her gaze towards his, he smiled looking at her stunning face and replied.

Moon: I can't stay away from you, it's not my fault.

She giggled again and put her head back on his chest, listening to his calmly beating heart. She closed her eyes and soon she was asleep. Moon stayed awake for a bit while, thinking about things his parents were talking about. He wanted to know more about it but he couldn't just ask them. He wanted them to trust him and tell him everything they have hidden for years from him. He doubted that Zeus even knew anything about it. He again inhaled the sweet vanilla scent of Ocean's body and closed his eyes. It wasn't long when they both were snoring.

6 Months Later:-

It's been 6 months, Ocean and Moon have been dating. Everyone in school knew about them being together. Moon already won Jack's heart when he saved Ocean's life. Their life was perfect. They both go to school together every day, stay together in school and after school they meet each other on the lake side. And on weekends, they spend most of the time together, some times at Moon's place and some times, into the woods. Zeus had also visited twice in these 6 months and everything was perfect. He was like a big brother to Ocean as well. She ever wanted an older brother and Zeus always treated her like a baby sister. They look really cute and perfect together and Everyone was happy seeing them both together except for Mala.

Mala was jealous of seeing Ocean with Moon. Moon was the most popular and handsome guy in the whole school and she wanted to be with him. She knew Moon and his family were loaded. It was Friday, the last day of school before the winter break.

Ocean was very happy and excited for Christmas this year. Mr and Mrs Kart had personally invited her to Kart's mansion. They wanted her to stay with them and celebrate Christmas and new year with them. Ocean got really close to Moon's family, especially his mother. She was really kind, loving and caring. She treated Ocean like her own daughter, saying that she always wanted a daughter but got two sons. Maria even requested Ocean to call her mom.

After the last class, Moon and Ocean made their way out of the car. They had planned to get Ocean's bag from her house and then they would be at Kart's mansion. Hand in hand, they were happily walking when Mala stopped them by blocking their way. She gave Ocean a disgusted look and spoke to Moon.

Mala: What's so special about her? She isn't even that pretty!

Hearing her, Moon got angry. He pulled Ocean to his chest and wrapped his arm around her waist. He then spoke to Mala but loud enough for everyone around them to hear him clearly.

Moon: What's special about her, I need days to just tell you her specialities. She's very kind and very caring and you know what Mala, she doesn't care for how much me or my family are loaded. She is not greedy like you. And that's the main reason I like her and I am with her. Now if you excuse us, my family is waiting for both me and Ocean.

Saying that Moon grabbed Ocean's hand and pulled her out of the school. They got in the car and drove off. Moon took her to Jack's Villa, She grabbed her bags which were already packed, bid her goodbyes to both Jack and Lora and went back to Moon's car. She got in and Moon drove off again. Moon stopped the car in front of his mansion's gate and turned to Ocean with a pleading smile on his face. Ocean giggled at his cute pleading look and asked him in a fake annoyed voice.

Ocean: Now what do you want?

Moon: Mom's gonna ask you about the room. Please tell her you'll be staying with me, please...

Ocean felt her heart warmed up, she wanted to kiss that cute face he was making but decided to tease him a little. She rolled her eyes at him and hopped out of the car. She turned to look at him and found him looking at her with the same pleading eyes. Ocean shrugged her shoulders and said with a smirk.

Ocean: Nope.

And with that she ran to the door and rang the doorbell before Moon could be out of the sudden shock she gave him. Until Moon could do anything, Maria opened the door and invited them both in. Ocean hugged Maria and happily went in, but Moon only gave a forced smile to his mother and followed Ocean in the living room. Moon sat Ocean's bags on the ground and Ocean greeted Derek. Derek happily greeted her back. Moon also greeted his father. Ocean looked at him and found a sad smile on his face. She didn't want him to be sad, she just wanted to tease him a little. Maria came into the living room and asked Ocean.

Maria: I have settled a room for you, but Moon said you both will be living in the same room?

Ocean had a cheeky smile and said.

Ocean: Yes, I'll be good with him.

Moon looked at her with a shocked look on his face, which was then turned into a big smile. Maria nodded and spoke again.

Maria: Okay then, go and unpack your stuff. I'll send some snacks for both of you. The dinner will be ready soon.

Moon and Ocean both nodded and Moon pulled her to his room. As soon as they stepped in his room, Moon locked the door and caged her between his arms and the door. Ocean looked at him through her long, thick lashes and her cheeks were pink. He leaned in and pecked her lips. He then scooped her up in his arms and took her to bed. He gently put her on bed and took her bags. He went to his closet and set all her things. He went back to Ocean who was nervously playing with her fingers. He sat beside her and pulled her in his lap. Her cheeks turned in a bit darker pink, she closed her eyes and buried her face in the crook of his neck. He chuckled, seeing her reaction. He grabbed her hand and kissed her palm. They stayed like this for a while, without a single word, they sat together.

Moon and Ocean made their way to the dining room. Moon sat on his chair and Ocean took a seat beside him. Derek came and took his seat. Both Moon and Ocean greeted him. Derek greeted them back and they all waited for Maria to come to the dining room. Maria came and took her seat beside her husband. They all ate without a single word. After dinner, Ocean helped Maria with the dishes and Moon sat with his father. Maria and Ocean came into the living room and joined Moon and Derek. They talked for a while and then they all went to their rooms.

Next night came and Moon took Ocean to his room earlier. Ocean was confused but didn't ask him. Ocean didn't know much but Moon knew it was a full moon night. And all the creatures would be blood thirsty. Moon came out of the bathroom, freshly showered and ready to go to bed. He was drying his hair with a towel when he looked at Ocean. She was lying on her stomach, her legs were hanging in the air. She was busy watching a movie that Moon played before he went to take a shower. His heart skipped a beat when his eyes fell on her bare legs. She was wearing her father's t-shirt that ended till her upper thigh. But she didn't realize that because of her current position, her shirt rose further up and her legs were fully on display for Moon. Moon threw the towel and went to her. Just like that, he laid his body on hers, careful not to hurt her. She gasped as his thigh rubbed her bare, soft skin. He buried his face in her hair and spoke.

Moon: You're so stunning. I don't know how I'm going to wait for us to turn 18. But I can't wait to make you completely mine.

Ocean smiled and hid her face in her hands. She was blushing hard. Salty smell of her arousal hit his nostrils and he smirked, knowing his effects over her. She was turned on. Moon pecked her shoulder and moved away from her. He laid down straight on the bed. Ocean quickly laid close to him. She wrapped her arms around his waist and rested her head on his chest. He kissed the top of her head and inhaled her sweet vanilla scent deeply. They both were still watching the movie. A yawn escaped Ocean's lips and she looked up at the Moon. Moon smiled and turned off the TV. He held her tightly and whispered softly.

Moon: Good night my Ocean.

Ocean: Good night my Moon.

With that, they both closed their eyes and fell asleep in each other's arms.

Ocean: Moon...

Ocean called his name. It was dark and she was cold. She wasn't in bed anymore but in the forest. Her hands and feet were as cold as ice.

Ocean: Moon...

Her voice came out hoarse. She looked around and tried to remember her way back home but her mind was blank. Suddenly, her eyes spotted something, something red and was glowing. Ocean clapped her hands on her mouth to block her sobs. She started to move backwards. It was him. She saw him again. The man with red eyes. She turned around and started running away from him. She looked behind while running, he wasn't there anymore. She stopped and looked back again to confirm. She was right, he wasn't there. She sighed in relief, turned around and was about to leave when someone grabbed her by her waist.

Man with red eyes: Where do you think you are going? I'm hungry, don't you know.

He dug his fangs in her neck and she gasped.

She gasped loudly and sat up on the bed. She was breathing hard and her heart was wild in her rib cage. She looked around, she was still in Moon's room. She sighed and wiped her sweat with a tissue. She filled a glass with water and downed it in one go. Still her heart was nowhere to be calmed. She decided to go out in the fresh air. She opened the door and went out of Moon's room. She went downstairs, opened the door and walked out. She was barefoot, the grass under her feet tickled her soft feet. She silently kept waking in the garden. She looked at the sky which was shining bright with the full moon. She smiled and sat down on the ground, admiring the view. She heard a crack, like a twig got crushed under a heavy foot. She looked around but saw nothing. She brushed it off and turned her attention over the moon again. She heard a low growl and turned to look around again. But this time, she found two wolves looking at her like a prey. They both were big, bigger than a grizzly bear. One of them had light grey furr and the other one had white and grey mix. Both of their eyes were glowing silver and they slowly started to March towards her. They both were blocking the main door, she couldn't go back inside the mansion. She turned around and started running. The only way to save herself was to run into the woods. That's what she thought, but she didn't know, she was going exactly where those wolves wanted her.

Ocean kept running deeper and deeper into the forest. After a few minutes, she stopped and turned around. She held a tree and tried to catch her breath. She heard a few cracks and looked around. She gasped out loud when her eyes fell on wolves around her. Not just two, but 30 wolves looking at her. Growling lightly they made their way to their prey. Tears welled up in her pretty eyes and a loud sob escaped her lips. One of the wolves was close to her. It lunged at her and she closed her eyes, but it never hit her. She opened her eyes again only to see Moon, he was holding the wolf's neck with one hand, like it was nothing but a small dog. Moon stood up and looked at the other wolves. They were still looking at her like they wanted a piece of her. Another one jumped on her from behind but Moon was faster than it. With an easy swing, he was between Ocean and the wolf. He punched it on its forehead and it flew backwards. With a loud thud, it landed on the ground. One by one they lunged at them and easily Moon sent them all flying back. They were all on the ground in a few minutes, trying to stand up again but failed. Moon smirked and looked back at Ocean. She was shivering with fear. He quickly scooped her up in his arms and carried her bridal style. She quickly wrapped her arms around his neck and hid her face in the crook of his neck. Moon looked at the wolves one last time before he zoomed back into the mansion.

Moon brought her back, she was still in his arms. He opened his room and walked towards the bed after locking his room door. He sat on the bed with Ocean still in his lap, sobbing quietly. He rubbed her back soothingly and kissed the top of her head.

Moon: It's okay Ocean, I'm here. You're safe.

But it didn't work. Her sobs got louder. Moon didn't know how to deal with it. He never had dealt with any girls in his life. Even if anything happens between him and Ocean, he always took his mother's advice. But not so lucky, Maria couldn't help him. He slowly rocked her back and forth in his lap, trying to calm her down. She was shivering in fear. Moon couldn't take it anymore. He couldn't see her crying. He grabbed her by her hips and swung their bodies. Ocean was now lying under Moon. He rubbed the tip of his nose with her nose. He started to rub his lips on her lips. She tried to hold his face but he pinned her hands above her head. He kept teasing her with his lips until she gave up and kissed him. The salty smell of her arousal hit his nostrils and he smiled. He intertwined his fingers with her and kissed her back with equal passion. He broke the kiss and started trailing wet kisses. He kissed her jawline, then her cheeks and then her neck. She moaned loudly when he bit her neck lightly. It was her weak spot. He kept nibbling and sucking her sweet spot until he wasn't sure that she's fine. He let her go and laid beside her. She quickly moved closer to his body, wrapped both of her arms around him and rested her head on his chest. He circled one of his arms around her waist, pulled her even closer. He kissed her forehead and spoke.

Moon: No one can hurt you Ocean. I promise you are safe with me.

CHAPTER 14

Moon woke up the next day earlier than Ocean. He looked down at his angel still asleep upon him. He stroked her cheek and she slowly opened her eyes. She gave him a wide smile and pecked his chest.

Moon: Morning beautiful.

Ocean: Good morning.

Moon: How are you?

Ocean: I'm fine as long as I'm with you.

She said with a cute smile on her face. He kissed her forehead and smiled.

Ocean: What was that? I mean last night, I mean those wolves, they weren't normal.

Moon: No, they weren't normal, they weren't even wolves. They were werewolves.

Ocean: Okay wait, werewolves are real too? Then Dracula, vampires, witches, fairies and mermaids would be real as well?

Ocean asked eagerly. Moon chuckled and sat up on the bed. Ocean was now sitting on his lap. She laid her head on his shoulder and he pulled her even closer.

Moon: I'm not so sure about all of them but I know witches are real.

He kissed her cheek and she giggled. He mentally awwed hearing her soft melodious giggled. He rubbed the tip of his nose on her cheek and she giggled even more.

Moon: You are everything to me. You have no idea how much I felt lost when you left New Orleans with your parents. My life was colorless without you.

Ocean looked at him. Confusion visible on her beautiful face.

Moon: You remember when you had visited your uncle 6 years ago?

Ocean nodded her head and he continued.

Moon: You went to the forest for a picnic. That day you went to the lake and that was the very first time I saw you. I followed you all day but when I saw you leaving, I was out of control. I tried so hard to stop you but I failed. And after when you left, I was devastated. I was actually the one who hit your car so I could see you for a bit longer.

Ocean: Why did you do that? It could've hurt you so bad.

Moon: It did, I was hurt baby, but I didn't care. All I cared about was to get a chance to see you before you would have left.

Ocean: I will never leave you alone I promise.

Moon: I know.

Ocean: So why did they attack me? The wolves I mean.

Moon: You were there, that's why. It was nothing like they would have targeted you. They weren't in control.

Ocean: Oh, that means there is no need to get worried.

Moon: Why were you out of the room in the first place? I thought you would fall asleep and you would be safe.

Ocean: I had a nightmare. I didn't want to wake you up and fresh air always helps me calm my nerves so I went outside.

Moon: Okay. Next time you'll wake me up. I don't want you getting hurt okay?

Ocean: How would we be safe here, in your room?

Moon: You see my brother, Zeus is the Alpha, the one who controls all the werewolves in New Orleans. He has created a boundary that no wolves can cross in order to keep them away from me and keep me safe. Zeus can control himself but my parents can't. So they are compelled to stay away from the boundaries or the Alpha can kill them.

Ocean: But they are his parents?

Moon: Yes they are, but once someone is chosen to become an Alpha, everyone is obligated to follow him. If any of the wolves disobey the Alpha, the Alpha kills them. It's part of the beast inside them. All the beasts are out of control but still obey their Alpha. For fear or because without him, they are helpless and can get killed, I don't know.

Ocean: This is so cool.

Moon: I know right.

Ocean: So why aren't you like them?

Moon: I don't know. They never tell me anything about it. I just know that I am not a werewolf. Why am I so different, I have no idea.

Ocean: Thank you.

Moon: For what?

Ocean: For saving me last night.

Moon: You don't have to thank me. It's my duty to keep my girlfriend safe.

He ended his sentence with a wink. Her cheeks turned pink along with her nose. She was blushing hard. He pinched her chin lightly and guided her lips towards his. He softly brushed his lips on her lips. He always loved to tease her this way. He kept teasing her until she gave up and crashed her lips on his. He smiled and kissed her back. Their lips moved in sync in a soft but lovely kiss. He pulled back when they both were out of breath. He crawled out of the bed with Ocean still on his lap. He carried her like a baby into the bathroom.

Moon: Go and get ready. I will be waiting for you.

He said as he exited the bathroom. She smiled, peeled off her clothes and hopped into the shower. Fifteen minutes later she exited the bathroom, a towel was wrapped around her body and she made her way into his closet. Moon wasn't in the room at that time. She quickly picked a fancy purple top with skinny blue jeans, wore them and exited the closet. As she was about to open the door, Moon opened it for her and she jumped.

Moon: You done?

She nodded her head with a cute smile. She noticed Moon was freshly showered and fully dressed. He was wearing a light grey t-shirt and blue jeans. He offered her his hand, she quickly accepted it and he pulled her out of his bedroom. He took her to the dining room where everyone was already seated and were waiting for them. They quickly took their seats and Maria served them first.

Derek: I thought I was always the first one to be served?

Derek asked as he made a fake hurt face.

Moon: Not today pa, maybe next time.

Ocean covered her mouth with her hand and giggled at the cute fight she witnessed between father and son. Derek got up from his seat and went to her. He stood behind her and patted her head lovingly like a father.

Derek: God bless you my lovely child. You returned our Moon to us.

Moon: Pa, come on.

Moon stood up, wiped Derek's tears and pulled him in a strong hug. Derek hugged him back and patted his back lovingly. Maria and Ocean looked at both of them and awed seeing their love towards each other. Moon broke the hug, took his father back to his seat, made him sit and served his father by himself. He then sat beside him, on his seat and started digging in.

Maria: Ocean, we are very sorry for last night. Moon must have told you that we weren't in control.

Ocean: It's okay Mrs Kart, please don't apologise.

Maria: Again Mrs Kart, I told you to call me ma, like Moon.

Ocean: Oops! Sorry ma.

Derek: That's like a good girl.

Ocean smiled and felt her heart filled with joys and happinesses. She never thought his parents would be this much welcoming. Not just that, she never thought in her dreams that they would be so loving and caring towards her. Spending time with Moon's parents always makes her feel like she is spending time with her own parents.

Moon: Why Zeus isn't here by now? I miss him.

Both Derek and Maria looked at each other and looked back at Moon.

Moon: Wait, why are you both giving me this awkward look?

Maria: Zeus can't make it this time honey.

Moon: Wait why? He never skipped the Christmas and New year.

Derek: He was told someone is stalking us. One of the wolves had seen some unknown creatures in our territory. They followed them but no one could actually reach them. They are fast and smart. Zeus said he needs to stay and look into this. At first we all thought we all were being followed but we were never the center of their attraction.

Moon: What does that suppose to mean?

Maria: Moon, it's not us who are being followed, it's you and Ocean. Those unknown creatures are following you and keeping eyes on you both.

Ocean's eyes widened in horror and Moon also felt the same horror.

Moon and Ocean said in union: What?

Winter break was over. Everyone was back to school. Moon and Ocean were restricted to come back home after school and not to visit the lake without the guards Zeus had sent for both of them. Zeus knew Ocean was Moon's only weakness. And anyone can use her to hurt Moon or use his special powers. That's why he had arranged a special team that is always around Jack's Villa and also followed Ocean wherever she went. Moon was also ordered to learn fighting techniques by his father. Derek was teaching him fighting techniques. Derek was a well trained wolf and Zeus could only trust Derek to train Moon as his friend Xander wasn't around. Moon never liked the idea of people following him and Ocean all the time but he was worried about Ocean. He couldn't bear if anything would happen to his Ocean. They visit the lake every day for 2 hours only and every time they were told to change their time to visit the lake. Zeus had visited home as well but only to recheck everything as he couldn't trust anyone blindly when it comes to Moon, Ocean and Zeus' family.

Ocean was sitting on the ground, a few feet away from the lake, and Moon went to swim in the lake. The guards were around but out of sight. Ocean was humming a song and looking at the beautiful lake in front of her. She felt someone's eyes on her. She looked around and found nobody. But this time she didn't brush it off because she knew last time, she was right. She stood up and looked around again.

Ocean: Hello, is anybody there?

Ocean asked and one of the guards heard her loud and clear. He quickly ran towards the lake. He came close to Ocean and sniffed the air.

Matt: Have you heard anything kid?

Matt, the guard asked Ocean while sniffing the air.

Ocean: I don't know, I felt like someone was watching me.

Matt: Maybe you're just feeling it?

Moon: No Matt, she's never wrong about these things.

Matt: Then we better get back home. I don't want anything to happen to any of you kids.

Moon nodded his head and quickly wore his clothes. He scooped Ocean in his arms protectively. Ocean quickly wrapped her arms around his neck. They started walking towards Jack's Villa. They first dropped Ocean then they went back home.

Ocean stepped into the house and found her Uncle Jack sitting in the living room alone. His face showed that he was worried about something. Ocean went to him, sat beside him and asked him.

Ocean: Are you okay uncle Jack?

Jack looked at his niece and forced a smile on his tired face.

Jack: Yes sweetheart, I'm fine.

Ocean: You don't look fine uncle, I'm worried about you.

Jack chuckled and patted her head lovingly.

Jack: Just work stress dear, nothing serious.

Ocean: I have noticed that you don't care for your health anymore. You are working all the time, always worried about something and you're having headaches very often. I'm not happy with all that.

Ocean said with a pout on her cute face. Jack chuckled and mentally awed seeing her care towards him.

Jack: It's okay dear. I'll be fine. I just need to finish this.

Ocean stood up and shut Jack's laptop.

Ocean: No, you are coming with me to your room and you are sleeping right now.

Jack: Baby I need to finish this please.

Ocean: No, I am not hearing a single word. Come on.

She grabbed Jack's hand and pulled him out of the living room. He gave up and didn't argue with her anymore. She pulled him into his room, made him lay down on his bed and started massaging his head. Her fingers started moving in circular motion and Jack closed his eyes, enjoying the massage. Soon, Jack was fully relaxed. It wasn't long when he was fast asleep. Ocean giggled when she heard her uncle snoring loudly. She stood up and went back to the living room. She opened his laptop, lucky, it wasn't locked. She quickly read all the papers and previous work Jack had completed. Ocean was a very smart girl. Her father had shown her and taught her so many things about handling important business works and sometimes, meetings as well. It took her 2 hours to complete Jack's presentation for his important business meeting. Once done, she rechecked her work, shut the laptop, ate her dinner and went to her room. She quickly showered and changed into her silky nighty. She crawled into her soft bed and closed her eyes. "Good night my Moon." She thought with a cute smile on her face. Soon, she fell asleep.

Moon went back to his mansion but froze at the door. He signalled Matt that he smelled strangers inside his house. Matt quickly ran to the door, opened it and sniffed around. Moon was right, some strangers were in the mansion. Matt instructed Moon to stay outside and he followed the stranger's scent he was sniffing. Moon stood by the door but he felt something was really wrong. Like his sixth sense telling him to follow Matt behind. And he did. Without making noise, Moon followed Matt. As he reached closer to the drawing room he heard his parents arguing with some strangers.

Maria: You can't do this to us. He thinks of us as his parents, his family. Please, I beg you. Don't take him away.

Strange male voice: I am sorry Mrs Kart but I can't leave my son here with you anymore. I am here to take him back.

Derek: You can't take him away from us like that. He is our son. We raised him with so much love.

Strange female voice: How can you keep our blood away from us. He is our flesh and blood. You know nothing about him.

Derek: Whatever, with just one call, I can throw you both out of our territory. So you better get out now and stay as far away as possible from our son.

Strange male voice: He is not your son. He is our son.

Maria: Where were you when he was dying? Where were you when we found him in that lake? We saved him, adopted him, cared for him, raised him like our own. We saved his life and you two were nowhere to be found.

Strange female voice: That doesn't mean he is yours now. We are his real parents and we are her to take our Moon back to his home, our home.

Moon: What are you talking about?

Moon roared in anger. His eyes were red and his both fists were in ball shape. He was controlling himself. He was angry because he heard someone threatening his parents.

Male stranger: Oh my God, look at you. You are all grown up. Look Linda, he's taller than me. I guess you won that bet, our son is taller than me.

Linda: Oh my baby, you have no idea how much we have missed you.

Moon: Who are you and why are you here?

Male stranger: Son, they haven't told...

Moon: Just answer the damn question I asked. Who are you?

Moon growled and both strangers took a step back.

Linda: We are your biological parents, son.

Moon: What nonsense? They are my biological parents.

Moon pointed towards Derek and Maria.

Male stranger: No son, they have lied to you all your life. You are our son and you belong to us.

Moon: Ma, Pa, kick these liars out of the house, Matt...

Moon called Matt but he didn't come. He looked at Maria who was crying.

Moon: Ma why are you crying? You know I will never leave you because of these liars. Listen to me both of you. I don't know who you are and I don't care what brought you here? But I am going to say this once, get out of this property or else you will regret it. You dare to make my Ma cry.

Moon was about to lunge himself on the stranger man when Derek said something that broke everything inside Moon.

Derek: They are your biological parents Moon. We adopted you.

Moon: What?

Moon turned around and went to his father. He grabbed his hand and asked him with teary eyes.

Moon: Pa, tell me you're joking. You both are joking, right?

Derek: No Moon. We are dead serious.

CHAPTER 16

It had been a few days since Moon had come to know that Mr and Mrs Kart aren't Moon's biological parents. Moon hadn't spoken a single word since then. He was so upset and heart broken. He was always either locked in his room or at the lake. He even started spending his nights at Ocean's. He even warned guards not to follow him. Derek told Zeus about Moon's behavior. Zeus left everything and went back home to find out what's troubling his baby brother. Ocean on the other side, was worried about Moon as well. She didn't ask him anything but she could feel that Moon wasn't feeling well. He was either angry all the time or lost in his deep thoughts. He was trying his best to hide his pain. He hadn't told Ocean about it all. Mr and Mrs Knight welcomed him with open arms when he asked if he could stay with them. Ocean was sitting on her bed. A movie was played on her television but her mind was nowhere to pay attention towards the movie. She was still thinking about Moon. Moon came into the room. He laid on the bed with his head on Ocean's lap. He wrapped his both arms around her small waist and his face was buried into her lap. He inhaled her vanilla scent and sighed.

Ocean: Moon...

Ocean whispered.

Moon: Hmmm.

He hummed.

Ocean: What is wrong with you? You can tell me anything, you know that, right?

Moon: I know Ocean. I'm fine. Don't worry so much about me.

He replied with a small smile that didn't reach his eyes. She could see pain in his eyes. She wanted to do something for him that would make him feel better. Every time she needed him, he was always there to help her. This time he was the one who needed her. An idea popped up in her mind and she smiled. She got up from bed, took her mobile from the bedside table and played, Hero of Enrique Iglesias. Moon was watching her but didn't say anything. She came to bed and offered Moon her hand. Moon stared at her hand for a few moments then took it. She pulled him off of the bed and dimmed all the lights of her room. She came close to him, wrapped her arms around his waist and started moving feet with the music. Moon smiled and wrapped his arms around her as well. They moved in sync with the slow music rhythm. Moon forgot all his worries at that moment, in her arms. He felt carefree. He wasn't worried about anything. He wanted his life like this, where he could hide in her arms and no one would ever trouble him. She was his escape from all the worries. He was glad that he had found her and she was with him in his hard time. Moon pinched her chin lightly and guided her lips towards his. He captured her lips in a soft kiss with both of their arms still wrapped around each other's bodies. Moon broke the kiss and carried her back to the bed. They both laid cuddling with each other. Moon kissed the top of her head and they both drifted off.

Zeus came back home after he made sure Moon was with Ocean. He stepped into the mansion and a few unfamiliar scents hit his nostrils. His eyes glowed golden and his claws and fangs grew. He went into the living room and found some people standing there. He growled loudly and everyone inside the room bowed, except for the strangers. Derek stood up and growled back, but it wasn't louder than Zeus' growl. Zeus looked at his father and nodded his head as an approval for him to speak.

Derek: They are Moon's biological parents, Kevin and Linda Samuels.

Zeus: Why are they here?

Kevin: Don't you know boy? We are here to take what belongs to us.

Hearing him Zeus' anger rose and he roared at Kevin.

Zeus: It's Alpha Zeus and don't forget, you are standing in my territory. If I want, I will rip both of your hearts out of your chest and dump your good for nothing bodies in the junkyard and not a single soul would have any idea what happened to you.

Kevin: You dear to threaten us?

Zeus: I can do more than just threaten you. Now get out of my territory or you both will pay the price for disobeying me in my territory and threatening me as well.

Zeus said it and Kevin started laughing hysterically.

Kevin: You think your pity little threats would scare me. No, no, no boy. You are underestimating me.

Linda: We are here to take our boy back and we will take him with us.

Saying that, Mr and Mrs Samuels turned around and left Kart's mansion. They went straight to Moon's school.

Finally, Moon was smiling. Ocean's plan worked and Moon was smiling again. It wasn't like he always smiled but Ocean was happy that he was taking baby steps. Hands in hand, both Moon and Ocean made their way to the parking lot of the school. Ocean was cracking silly jokes to make him laugh and he laughed. But his laughter died as his eyes fell on the people standing in front of his car. Ocean understood his uneasiness. She gave his hand a little squeeze. He looked at her and she gave him her cutest smile. They made their way to the car, he signalled Ocean to get into the car. She didn't ask anything and did as he told her to do. He unlocked the car and Ocean hopped in. He was about to open the door for himself when Kevin grabbed his elbow and turned him around.

Kevin: Avoiding us isn't going to change the fact that you belong to us. Today or tomorrow, you have to accept the fact and come with us. Now it depends on you whether you want to follow us happily or we have to take you forcefully.

Moon: Keep your hands to yourself Mr Samuels. And you dare to follow me in my school?

Linda: Son, you can't talk to us like this. We are your parents.

Linda said it as loud as she could. Moon looked around and found his school fellows staring at him with pity for him in their eyes. His heart started beating erratically as he never faced anything like this in his life. He took a few steps backwards, turned around and started running towards the forest. Ocean called him many times but he didn't listen. He kept running, tears stung in his eyes and they started flowing freely from his ocean blue eyes. He didn't bother to wipe them off of his face.

Ocean hopped out of the car. She saw Mr Samuels and a woman with him smiled mischievously. As Moon ran away, they both left as well. Ocean quickly locked the car. She was thankful that Moon dropped the keys on the ground beside the car. She quickly ran to find Jake, she gave him car keys and told him to take the car to Moon's mansion. Then she as well, started running towards the forest.

Jake: Ocean wait, you don't know where he would be?

Ocean: No Jake. I know exactly where he would be. I know my Moon.

Jake: Okay then, good luck.

Ocean: Thanks.

Moon reached near the lake and stopped. He punched a tree with his full strength and the tree fell on the ground. Moon's eyes were red with both anger and sadness. It was difficult for him to make a decision. He didn't know what to do. He wanted to talk with someone about it but he was afraid that they would suggest him to do something he didn't want to do. He kept it all secret from Ocean, he didn't want to pull her in his mess but Mr Samuels blurted it all out in front of Ocean. He knelt down on the ground, tears rolled down his cheeks and he cried silently upon his misery. His gaze was on the ground and he kept crying.

Ocean reached the lake side a bit later. She looked at Moon and her heart ached seeing him cry. A tear from his eye fell on the ground when Ocean ran to him and wrapped her arms around him. He quickly wrapped his arms around her as well and he cried his pain out. She sat down on the ground and Moon buried his face in the crook of her neck. She rubbed his back soothingly in circular motion. After a few minutes, Moon felt a bit better. He broke the hug and she wiped his tears with her soft fingers. She then sat on his lap and held him close to her.

Ocean: If you will not tell me what's troubling you, how will I help you? Moon, I know till now I was the one who needed your help and you were always there to help me. Then why can't I help you when you need it.

Ocean tried to convince him. He looked at her with his still red eyes. He closed his eyes and leaned his head over her shoulder.

Moon: I don't even know where to begin. I don't know anyone in this world. I'm all alone, Ocean. His voice cracked at the word "alone."

Ocean: You are not alone. Tell me what's bothering you?

Moon: My parents are not my biological parents. The people you saw in school, Mr and Mrs Samuels. They are my biological parents. They want to take me with them. I can't believe Ma and Pa had lied to me. Even Zeus never told me that I wasn't their blood. I have no idea what to do.

Ocean: Tell me one thing, have you ever felt in your life that Mr and Mrs Kart aren't your parents? Had they ever even scolded you for something?

Moon: No, they never did anything that would make me think that they are not my real parents.

Ocean: Moon, you might not be their blood but they love you more than they love Zeus. They have pampered you more than him. Even Zeus took all the responsibilities so you can enjoy your life as you want. He looks after you like a big brother. You told me, there were so many nights Mrs Kart had sat beside you all night because you had suffered from insomnia. Moon, it's not necessary if they are your blood or not. They raised you, fed you, cared for you, they had spent many sleepless nights because of you. They have supported you in every single decision you have taken in your life. And your biological parents, where were they when you couldn't sleep. When you had lost your smile. When you felt sick. Where were they for 17 years. Now they are claiming you and want you to go with them. Moon, this decision is very easy for you. The only people who have struggled with you for 17 years, they are your Ma and Pa and Zeus. Go and tell them that you belong here with them. You are hurt because they are hurt, because some strangers came into your life saying they are your real parents. Doesn't mean it will change everything. You are not alone. You have you ma, your pa, your brother Zeus and me.

Moon smiled and kissed her cheek.

Moon: You are amazing, Ocean. I don't know what I would have done if you were not here with me to help me out of this problem.

He stood up and scooped her up in his arms. He held her bridal style. She quickly wrapped her arms around his neck and he zoomed back home. In a few seconds they were standing in front of Moon's mansion. He grabbed her hand and pulled her into the mansion.

Zeus: He doesn't belong to you. Get out of his life or I will kick you out.

Zeus growled at them.

Kevin: Boy, I told you before to keep your voice down.

Moon: You can't tell our Alpha to keep his voice down at his own house.

Linda: My boy, you came back.

Moon: Keep your hands to yourself Mrs Samuels. I have made my decision. They are my family and I belong to them, not you. They were here for me whenever I needed them, not you. They loved me, cared for me and supported me, not you. So why don't you do me a favor. Go back where you came from, because I don't think you can try to force me to take me with you. Because believe me, I am more dangerous than my brother Zeus. Am I right, Ma?

Maria: Absolutely son.

Maria replied with tears in her eyes. Moon went to his mother and pulled her in a bear hug. Kevin glared at Ocean and she quickly hid behind Zeus. Zeus stood in front of Ocean like a protective wall and glared at Mr Samuels back.

Zeus: Now I think we all heard Moon loud and clear. So how about you both get out of my territory and never show us your faces again or else, I can't promise what I will do to you.

Zeus said and Mr and Mrs Samuels looked at Moon. He was happily hugging his parents. They looked at Ocean one last time and left. Zeus patted Ocean's head and pulled her in a brotherly hug. He broke the hug and Maria walked towards Ocean.

Maria: You are a pure blessing for our family by God. You gave us our Moon back once again.

She said and pecked Ocean's forehead lovingly. Ocean's cheeks turned pink along with the tip of her nose. She nodded her head and smiled cheekily.

Moon: if you are done with her, can I take her with me?

Zeus: You don't have to ask brother.

With that Moon grabbed Ocean's hand and pulled her to his bedroom. He locked the door and took her to the bed.

Ocean: What are you doing?

Ocean asked when she noticed Moon peeling off his shirt.

Moon: You are in big trouble today Miss Knight. You solved my problem today. Now I want to shower you with love and kisses. Prepare yourself.

He said with a smirk on his face. She laid on the bed and he laid upon her, carefully. He pinned her wrist above her head and she smiled. He leaned in and rubbed the tip of his nose with her neck. She shivered with his touches and he grinned.

Moon: You are the bright light of my life. You show ways out of my problems. And I can't wait to make you mine.

He whispered in her ear and kissed her forehead.

Kevin: We are sorry Young Master, but we couldn't do it.

Young Master: Tell me something new. You were given the opportunity to prove your loyalty to me. The task was simple to bring him to me and yet you came back empty with hands.

Linda: It was his foolishness, Young Master that we couldn't get him here. Give us another chance, I promise, we won't fail you again.

Young Master: I grant only one chance to everyone. You failed to complete the task, now bare the consequences.

Kevin: No Young Master, please. Give us another chance.

Young Master: Edmond, take them both and hang them before the sun comes up. I want to enjoy the flames of these failures today.

Edmond: Yes Young Master.

Kevin: No Young Master please.

Linda: We won't fail you again, please Young Master.

Young Master: He is smart, not a fool like his father. I promise you father, I will bring him here for you. You will kill him and then you will get all your powers back. I can't wait to see you, father.

Chapter 18

Everything came back to normal, Moon was now more close to his family than before. He trusted Ocean even more. It was their final year in high school. They both were excited. Ocean was happy to have Moon around her all the time. But Maria was worried about Moon. She started noticing his behavior was changing. He was angry all the time. So many times he even had shouted at Maria. She even had told Derek about it but he brushed it off saying she is just more worried about her son. Once Maria asked Ocean about Moon's behavior with her. She just shrugged her shoulders and said he was perfectly fine with her. It was strange, Moon was always normal around Ocean, but hyper if she wasn't around.

It was Moon's 18th birthday. Everyone was very happy. Ocean's birthday was two months later but they decided to celebrate their 18th birthday together. Everyone gathered at Kart's mansion. Zeus brought them special clothes. For Moon, he brought white tux with black shirt and bowtie. And for Ocean, he brought white knee length fluffy dress. It was evening when both Moon and Ocean made their ways to Moon's bedroom. Moon laid on the bed and signalled Ocean to use the bathroom first. She stepped into the bathroom and peeled off her clothes. She filled the tub with warm water and added her favorite moonlight path fragrance in the water. She hopped into the water. As soon as the hot water touched her body, she moaned softly. It soothed her tensed muscles and she relaxed in the water for a few minutes. Then she washed her hair and her body. She stepped out of the tub and wrapped a towel around her body. She dried her hair and stepped out of the bathroom. As soon as she stepped out, Moon inhaled the air deeply which was filled with Ocean's scent. He smiled as her original scent hit his nostrils. He tried to get closer to her but she pushed him away.

Ocean: If we get late, Zeus will eat you alive.

She reminded him and he ran into the bathroom. She giggled and wore her dress. She applied some makeup on her face and wore her shoes. Moon stepped out of the bathroom and came into the closet where Ocean was brushing her hair. She saw Moon walking towards her and held her hair up. She pointed her finger at the zipper of her dress. He chuckled and went to her.

Moon: You look amazing, stunning, beautiful. I don't have words to define.

He whispered in her ear while zipping her dress. She smiled and hid her face in her palms. He removed her palms and found her cheeks pink along with the tip of her nose. He opened his arms for her. She turned around and wrapped her arms around his waist. He also wrapped his arms around her and she rested her head on his wet chest.

Moon: You are the best thing that ever happened to me. You are the Moon of my dark night.

He whispered and kissed the top of her head. After a few minutes, she broke the hug and pointed her index finger towards the wall clock.

Ocean: We are late.

She said and Moon just smirked. In a few seconds she saw Moon got ready. Just in a minute he was ready and offered her hand to her. She smiled and took it happily. They both stepped out of Moon's bedroom and went downstairs. As they stepped into the garden, everyone clapped and sang happy birthday song for both of them. They all had dinner together and opened gifts. Derek lit up the candles on the cake and brought it to one of the tables. Moon and Ocean made their way to the table and Maria handed them the knife. They both held it together.

Zeus: Come on. Make a wish.

They both closed their eyes for a few seconds, then opened them again and blew off the candles. Moon's vision got blurry and he felt his head heavy. They both cut the cake and Moon felt dizzy. The whole world around him was spinning. Ocean cut a piece of cake and brought it close to Moon's mouth. Suddenly, darkness engulfed him and he closed his eyes. He collapsed on the ground. Before he could hit his head, Ocean grabbed his head and pulled it on her lap. Derek and Zeus ran towards them. Zeus sat on the ground and checked Moon. He sighed in relief when he felt his pulse normal.

Zeus: He is fine, just fainted.

He said to his parents and scooped Moon up in his arms and carried him to his room. Ocean followed behind. Zeus kicked the door open and gently laid Moon on his bed. Ocean sat beside Moon and pulled his head on her lap.

Zeus: I'll call the doctor. You are staying here with him.

He told her and she nodded her head. Zeus left the room and Ocean leaned in to peck Moon's lips. The doctor came rushing. He stood outside of the room, waiting for anyone inviting him in. Ocean called him and he came in. He checked Moon thoroughly. But he didn't find anything. Everyone was worried about Moon. Maria was crying and Derek had to take her out of the room.

Doctor: Pardon me Alpha Zeus but I can't understand what is wrong with him. He is perfectly fine for me but why has he fainted, I don't know.

Zeus: Then why are you here if you can't understand what's wrong with my brother.

Zeus growled at the doctor and he backed away. Ocean quickly got up and went to Zeus. She grabbed his hand to stop him from hurting the doctor.

Ocean: Maybe it's something he can't understand. Moon is strong, he will wake up.

Zeus looked at Ocean and took a few deep breaths to calm himself. After a minute he signalled the doctor. The doctor bowed his head in respect and left. Zeus turned around and looked at Ocean.

Zeus: Do you want to go back home?

He asked Ocean and she shook her head.

Ocean: No, I'm staying here with him.

Zeus nodded his head and sat on the edge of the bed.

Zeus: Do you want to eat something?

He asked and she shook her head. She went to the bathroom to change her clothes and Zeus changed Moon's clothes. As he finished, he pulled the comforter over Moon's body and stepped out of the room. Ocean came out of the bathroom in Moon's t-shirt. She closed the door and crawled into the bed. She laid down on the bed and pulled Moon's head upon her chest. She wrapped her arms around him protectively. She kissed his forehead and started massaging his head. She closed her eyes and in a few minutes she drifted off.

CHAPTER 19

Moon opened his eyes and found himself in Ocean's arms. She was sleeping so soundly and her arms were wrapped around Moon's neck. He moved a bit up and kissed her cheek. She smiled in her deep sleep. He mentally awed seeing her sweet smile. He snuggled even closer to her and closed his eyes. It took him a few minutes, then he also fell asleep.

Ocean woke up when she felt a feather-like kiss on her cheek. She opened her eyes and found Moon looking at her.

Moon: Good morning.

He said with a smile. She smiled and stretched her arms above her head. She sat up on his lap and brushed her knuckles across his jawline.

Ocean: Are you okay? How are you feeling now?

She asked with a worried look on her face. He smiled and pecked her forehead. She closed her eyes and leaned in to him more.

Moon: I'm fine. I'm just hungry.

He replied and his stomach growled loudly. They both started laughing. He scooped her up in his arms and carried her into the bathroom.

Ocean: What are you doing?

She asked and her heart skipped a beat when she saw a mischievous grin on his face.

Moon: We are going to bath together.

He said and she shook her head.

Ocean: I am not officially eighteen. We can't.

She said and he pouted. She smiled and pecked his lips. He left her into the bathroom and went back to the room. Ocean took a quick shower, then she brushed her teeth and stepped out of the bathroom with a towel wrapped around her body. He stood up and fell on the ground. He felt dizzy. Ocean quickly helped him up and made him sit on the bed. He laid back down on the bed and Ocean quickly called Maria into the room. Maria came running into the room. As soon as Maria stepped into the room Moon sat up and Ocean saw his eyes glowed. Maria came close to him and he angrily crawled out of the bed.

Moon: Stay away from me.

Moon said angrily. Maria felt hurt but did as he asked. Ocean went to him and wrapped her arms around his waist.

Ocean: Tell me what's wrong with you. I have never seen you talking to your ma like this.

Moon didn't answer her but wrapped his arms around her too. He couldn't understand what was wrong with him. He was feeling insecure while Maria was in his bedroom. But he was fine with Ocean.

Ocean: Don't worry. I am with you and it will be fine soon.

She whispered. He nodded his head and inhaled her sweet vanilla scent deeply. They broke the hug after a few minutes. He went to the bathroom and she went into the closet. She pulled out a black jeans with a pink Crop top. She was drying her hair when Moon came from behind. He was fully dressed in black jeans and grey t-shirt. He hugged her from behind. Then he took the brush and dryer from her hands. He started drying her hair. She smiled cheekily and sat straight. In a few minutes he was done, she grabbed his hand and pulled him out of the room. They went downstairs and Moon's stomach growled again.

Ocean: Promise me you will behave in front of everyone. You have no idea how much everyone was worried about you last night.

Ocean whispered angrily in his ear. He raised both of his hands in the air and bowed his head.

Moon: Whatever you say your highness.

He replied with a smirk on his face. They both stepped into the dining hall and took their seats. Zeus entered the dining hall and Moon stood up. Ocean grabbed his hand and pulled him back down on his chair. Moon was feeling so violent, he wanted to lunge himself on Zeus. He shook his head then picked up the bottle of juice. He was feeling thirsty. He uncapped the bottle and downed it's content in one go. He drank it all but still he was thirsty.

Ocean: Are you okay?

Ocean asked him. He nodded his head and smiled. Maria brought everyone's breakfast. She cooked omelette with garlic bread. It was Moon's favorite breakfast. Derek also came and sat on his chair. Moon felt uncomfortable around all of them. He wanted to eat alone. Ocean intertwined her fingers with his. He took a deep breath and forced a small smile on his face.

Zeus: Is everything okay, Moon? I can smell anger. Why are you angry?

Zeus asked worriedly. Moon gritted his teeth and replied.

Moon: Why do you care? It's none of your business.

Zeus stared at him with his mouth agape. Ocean lightly elbowed his arm. He turned to look at her and narrowed his eyes. He knew she was angry with him. But it was like he had no control over his emotions, especially his anger. Maria served Moon his breakfast. Ocean pointed her finger on Moon's plate. He narrowed his eyes and started eating. As he gulped his first bite he felt like he had gulped down thorns with it. But he didn't want to anger Ocean more, he brushed off the thought and took another bite. He gulped the second bite and started coughing hard. Ocean gave him a glass of water. He downed it but it wasn't helping. Coughing hard, he fell on the ground. Ocean knelt down beside him and rubbed his back. Moon stood up and ran into the bathroom. He sat beside the toilet and threw up in it. Ocean and the others followed him behind. Ocean handed him tissue and helped him to stand up. He felt his legs were like jelly. Zeus scooped him up in his arms and carried him back into his bedroom. Ocean looked into the commode and saw blood. She quickly flush out the commode and went to Moon's room.

Moon was breathing heavily and he looked pale. Zeus noticed his pale skin.

Zeus: Take a nap, you'll feel better.

Zeus said. Moon again felt rage boiling inside of him. He looked at Ocean's worried face. He didn't want to worry her more. He just nodded his head and closed his eyes. Zeus was stepping out of Moon's bedroom when Ocean stopped him on the door.

Ocean: I saw blood. Moon threw up blood. Something's wrong with him. He is angry all the time. I am so worried about him.

She said in a worried tone. Zeus patted her head.

Zeus: It's okay, he'll be fine soon. You stay with him.

Zeus said and Ocean nodded her head. She went back into the room and sat beside Moon.

Ocean: Does it hurt bad?

She asked in a worried tone and rubbed her hand over his tummy. He grabbed her hand and pulled her on top of himself.

Moon: Just stay with me and I will be fine.

He replied with a small smile. But she could see the pain he was trying to hide behind his smile. She pecked his forehead and he drifted off.

Zeus went back into the dining hall and picked Moon's plate up. He held it closer to his nose and sniffed the food for a few times. When he found nothing wrong and took a few bites from Moon's plate. It tasted fine and Zeus felt nothing wrong with the food. He went to the bathroom and looked into the commode. It was clear but he saw a few red drops on the floor. He dipped his fingers then sniffed his fingers. Ocean was right. It was blood. Zeus pulled his handkerchief out of his pocket and wiped the blood from the floor. He then wrapped the handkerchief in a plastic bag and stepped out of the mansion.

Chapter 20

A few days passed after that incident. Moon wasn't eating much, just boiled vegetables or boiled meat. Zeus hadn't returned back since that day. Moon was getting angrier and aggressive day by day. Derek requested Mr and Mrs Knight to allow Ocean to live with the Karts. Only Ocean was able to control him and his anger. Derek was getting worried about his son. But he knew nothing about him.

Moon and Ocean woke up in the morning. They got ready and went downstairs. Ocean had her breakfast and Moon only ate 2 apples. It was their exams. Final year and then they would graduate soon. They both bid their goodbyes and stepped out of the mansion. Ocean walked towards Moon's car but Moon stopped in the middle way. He felt a sharp pain on his skin. Like it was burning. Moon tried to brush it off but then, Ocean saw slitest smoke around his fingers. He quickly ran back into the mansion, followed by Ocean. He was breathing heavily like he had been running for days without stopping for a second.

Maria came rushing and found Moon in a miserable state. She went back into the kitchen and brought a bottle of water for him. He downed it's content in one go and asked for another. Ocean went to the kitchen and brought two bottles with her. Moon drank it all but still he felt so much thirsty. He asked for another bottle of water. Maria went to the kitchen and called Derek. She informed him what was happening with Moon. She took another bottle of water and went back to Moon. She gave him the bottle and he again drank the whole bottle.

Ocean noticed Moon wasn't just looking pale, his skin was white as snow and cold as snow. Moon was worried about his final exams. He was the topper and he didn't want to fail his last year. Ocean was worried about him as well, he wasn't fine.

Moon looked at her and forced a small smile on his face when he saw her worried face. Derek came and helped Moon to stand up and he helped Moon back to his room. Derek helped him lay down on his bed and Ocean sat beside him. He laid his head on her lap.

Ocean: Does it hurt?

She asked in a worried tone. He smiled and closed his eyes.

Moon: A little.

He replied in a low gruffy voice.

Ocean: Where does it hurt?

He pointed his finger towards his head. His head felt like someone hitting his head with hundred hammers. She started massaging his head. A smile made its way to his lips seeing her care. It wasn't long when his headache faded away and he fell asleep. Derek came into the room to check on Moon. Seeing him sleeping peacefully, Derek sighed in relief.

Derek: I'll talk to the principal Albert. You both will be able to attend your exams here, in our mansion.

Derek informed Ocean. She smiled and nodded her head. Derek came out of the room and went to the kitchen where Maria was sobbing. He sat beside her and wrapped his arms around her.

Maria: I was telling you all something is wrong with him. None of you paid attention. Now look at him. He is in pain.

She said between her sobs. He rubbed her back to calm her down.

Derek: I am going to the darker part of the forest. I know I will find answers. On my way I will request principal Albert to allow them both to attend their exams from home.

Derek whispered.

Maria: Okay, that's a good idea. Since Ocean is the only one who keeps him calm, I think it's a great idea.

Maria said and wiped her tears. Derek nodded his head and stood up. He kissed his wife and exited the mansion.

Moon opened his eyes and looked at Ocean who was in her deep thoughts. She was playing with the hem of his shirt. With an easy swing he flipped both of their bodies. Now he was on top of her. He pinned her with the bed and held both of her hands above her head. He stared into her eyes. She noticed his eyes weren't just dark, they were pitch black. She felt herself lost in his eyes. Like he was casting a spell on her, to cage her. She shivered in fear seeing his pitch black eyes. She sighed in relief when she saw him smiling. He leaned in and captured her lips for a passionate kiss. She moaned softly when he bit her lower lip.

He was drinking from her like he was thirsty for decades. She tried to get her hands free from his hold, but he didn't let her. He broke the kiss when she was out of breath. She gasped loudly and filled her lungs with the oxygen as much as she could. She opened her eyes to look at him. His eyes were green again. He smiled and pecked her forehead. Then he kissed both of her cheeks followed by her jawline. He let go of her hands and grabbed her by her waist. She intertwined her fingers into his hair. He reached to her neck. He trailed wet kisses all over her neck. He nibbled her neck and she gasped loudly. He chuckled and kept doing his work.

Suddenly, he felt something strange inside him. Something he never had felt before. Something that made his mouth full of water. He leaned in and started licking and nibbling her pulse that was bulging due to the steamy moment they were having. He nibbled her neck a bit harder than usual. She moaned loudly. Then she felt something as sharp as nails on her neck. She screamed out loud. Moon felt like he had woken up from a dream. She covered her neck with her hand and he gave her a confused look.

Moon: What happened?

He asked and removed her hand from her neck to examine.

Ocean: I felt something sharp on my neck.

She replied breathlessly. He looked at her neck. She was right. He left hickies all over her neck. And just about her pulse, he saw two dots. He examined it closely and found blood. His eyes widened in horror. He quickly crawled off of his bed. He went to one of the corners of his bedroom and sat on the ground. He held his head in his hands. Ocean also crawled out of the bed and went to him. She sat beside him and stroked his head lovingly. He backed away from her. He didn't even look at her.

Ocean: What is it, Moon?

She whispered softly. She felt hurt seeing him like that.

Moon: Stay away from me. I don't want to hurt you.

Moon replied. He had tears in his eyes.

Ocean: Why would you hurt me, Moon?

She asked and tried to get closer to him again but he backed away again. It was like he was running away from her and that was very painful for her.

Moon: Because I am becoming a monster.

He replied and tears flowed freely from his eyes.

CHAPTER 21.

Derek went to talk to principal Albert. He tried to convince principal Albert to allow both Moon and Ocean to attend their exams from Kart's mansion, but he wasn't listening. Derek told him that Moon was sick but he didn't want to fail in his last year. Of course, Moon was one of the most genius students and was a topper since his first year. Hearing Moon's excuse, principal Albert allowed Moon to attend his exams from home. But he didn't allow Ocean.

Derek was already worried about Moon and he knew, only Ocean could keep him in control. An idea popped up in Derek's head. He offered principal Albert five years' donation for the school. Principal Albert couldn't refuse to take this opportunity. It was Moon's last year, and of course after exams, Mr Kart would stop supporting the school. But this offer was huge. Principal Albert finally agreed to let both Moon and Ocean attend their exams at home and in return, Mr Kart would support the high school for the next five years. The deal was settled, both men stood up and shook their hands. Derek promised to get the official papers done as soon as he could. Principal Albert nodded his head. Once everything was settled, Derek bid his good bye and went back to his car.

Mara saw Mr Kart walking towards his car. She stopped him in mid way to ask him about Moon. Derek didn't have much time. He had to reach the darker part of the forest before noon, so he could get back before dusk. The darker part of the forest wasn't safe for anyone after the dusk. Derek just gave her a deadly look and went to his car. He stepped into the car and quickly drove off. After a three hours drive, he parked his car in front of a familiar cabin. He stepped out of the car, took a deep breath and went to the door. He knocked at the door three times and waited for a while. He was about to knock again when the door shook open.

He saw her familiar beautiful face. She was old but still so beautiful. As stunning as she used to be. Derek again lost in her beauty. She noticed his eyes all over her. She cleared her throat loudly, to wake him up from the dream he was lost into. He shook his head and smiled. She invited him in and he stepped inside the cabin. She shut the door and led Derek to her drawing room. She sat on her single couch and Derek sat on one of the couches in front of her.

Derek: Nothing changed in so many years. How are you Vivian?

Derek asked as soon as they both settled into their seats.

Vivian: I am as I always have been. You tell me, what brought you back into the darker part of the forest? After so many years.

Vivian asked suspiciously.

Derek: What else could bring me back to you? It's my son, Moon. He is... not fine, Viv.

She could see his tired eyes and worried face.

Vivian: What happened to him?

She asked and leaned back.

Derek: Even since he had turned 18, he is acting weirdly. He is always angry and aggressive. Now he is getting weak and sick. I am so worried about him.

Derek wiped a tear that was about to escape his eye. Vivian smiled seeing his worried eyes for Moon.

Vivian: Why do you care if Zeus is already on his way to find out what is wrong with his brother?

Derek: What? How did he come here? He knows nothing about this part of the forest.

Derek asked in confusion.

Vivian: Zeus is the strongest Alpha I have ever known. You can't imagine his power and his strength. He rules every single corner of New Orleans. No other Alphas dare to step into his territory. Two days ago, Alpha Zeus came here asking for answers. I was shocked, Derek, he is stronger than you. And smarter than you as well. He didn't come to me empty handed like you. He brought me so many clues.

Vivian replied and started laughing. Derek ran his fingers through his hair.

Derek: I don't understand, will you please tell me everything you know?

Vivian: Alpha Zeus came here two days ago. He had so many things with him. So many evidence to prove me that the most calm person like Moon was being aggressive. I have sent him where he could find all the answers about Moon and his family. He had told me about the mysterious visitors who claimed to be Moon's parents.

Vivian explained in a serious tone.

Derek: I don't care about them. Moon chose us over them.

Derek replied happily.

Vivian: You should care Derek. Those people weren't his biological parents. They were strangers who wanted to take Moon for I don't know what reason?

Derek's face changed it's colors as he heard Vivian.

Derek: What do you mean? How do you know they weren't his biological parents?

Derek asked in horror.

Vivian: Derek, Moon's parents died a few hours after his birth. That's why he was sent away. He was lucky that you both found him before he would have ended up like his parents, dead.

Derek: We didn't tell you anything about that.

Derek replied with a raised eyebrow.

Vivian: You don't have to tell me about it. I knew it.

Vivian replied and shrugged her shoulders proudly.

Derek: How?

Derek asked in a serious tone.

Vivian: I am an enchantress, Derek. I don't need you to explain situations to me. I know everything.

Vivian said with a proud grin.

Derek: Viv, I am already very stressed because of my son. Please tell me who told you everything about Moon?

Derek asked in a pleading tone. He was tired and he was worried about his son.

Vivian: Nobody told me anything about him at all, but Moon himself. As soon as he opened his eyes that day, I learned everything about him. But nothing too deep. Nothing which could explain his current situation to me. But enough things, that made me send Zeus to his family's territory.

Derek: Do you know everything about him?

Derek asked suspiciously.

Vivian: If I said I know everything about him, that would be a lie. I know a lot of things about him. I know he is the male undine. I know male undines and the Kings of the Oceans. That's why I told you, whenever he falls sick, take him to the lake. Didn't it work for him?

She asked and Derek nodded his head.

Vivian: But if you are asking his other powers like running faster than the thunder. I know nothing about it. If I would, I would have informed you that day.

Derek: You won't tell me about his family?

Vivian: I am sorry Derek, but I can't. It is my duty to keep the balance. But you tell me one thing. Does it matter to know who he is and who were his biological parents?

Hearing her question, Derek leaned back on the couch. He thought for a moment then shook his head.

Derek: No it doesn't matter. Nothing matters. Only Moon matters.

Derek replied with a smile. Seeing him, Vivian smiled and nodded her head.

Derek: I have one more question. I thought that baby died right here. I can remember she died right in front of us. Then who is that girl who claims to be the daughter of Sam Knight? Who is Ocean Knight?

CHAPTER 22.

TWO DAYS AGO...

Zeus was sitting on his office chair, swinging on it left and right. He had sent a few wolves from his pack to find out why Moon was suffering. But till now, no luck. He had called a few witches into his pack house. He wanted to do everything to pull Moon out of the pain. But he knew nothing about it.

Zeus heard a knock on the door. He looked up and found his beta, Daniel standing. Zeus signalled him to come in. Daniel came in and knelt down on the ground.

Beta Daniel: All the witches have done whatever they could, Alpha Zeus. They couldn't find anything.

Beta Daniel informed Alpha Zeus with a shaky voice.

Alpha Zeus: Then why are they here? They all are useless.

Zeus roared in anger. He stood up and threw the paper weight on the LED screen of his office. Shredded pieces of the LED were on the ground. Beta Daniel got scared but didn't stand up. He knew disrespecting his Alpha would lead him to his grave. Or worst, Alpha Zeus would disown him and he would be nothing but an abandoned dog.

Zeus ran his fingers through his hair in frustration. It had been so long and he wanted a way to help his baby brother.

Beta Daniel: If you ask me Alpha, I know someone who could lead us somewhere. You can get answers there. I kept looking for a better way.

Alpha Zeus: Who?

Alpha Zeus asked in a firm voice.

Beta Daniel: My uncle Xanta knows someone who can help you, Alpha. My uncle will take us there.

Alpha Zeus: Then let's go and meet your uncle.

Zeus said and went to the door. Beta Daniel followed him behind. They hopped into Alpha Zeus' truck and drove off. On their way to beta Daniel's uncle, he called his uncle and told him that Alpha Zeus needed his help. Xanta was more than happy to help his Alpha. It was once in a lifetime opportunity. They stopped the truck in front of Xanta's house, he hopped in and they started their journey towards an unknown territory. Xanta gave directions to Alpha Zeus. Alpha Zeus was very shocked to know that he never knew anything about that part of his territory.

Alpha Zeus stopped the truck in front of an old but beautiful small cabin in the middle of the forest. He never had visited this part of the forest ever before. Alpha Zeus knocked at the door. In a few minutes, a very beautiful old woman opened the door. She smiled seeing Zeus in her territory.

Vivian: I read it this morning, today is my lucky day. I didn't know Alpha Zeus would be visiting me. Come on in Alpha.

Vivian said with a wide smile. She led Zeus into the cabin and made him sit on one of the couches.

Vivian: What would you like to have Alpha?

She asked Zeus. He shook his head.

Alpha Zeus: I am not here to have anything. I want some answers and I have heard you can give me.

Vivian: Depends on the questions you are here to ask Alpha. Sometimes, we are bound not to answer. But still I will try my best to lead you towards them.

Alpha Zeus: Who are you? How do you know my name? And how do you even live here?

Vivian: My name is Vivian. I know you since you were born, Alpha. Your mother is a really good friend of mine. And I live here because it's my territory.

She replied with a chuckle.

Alpha Zeus: You are not a witch. I know that. What are you?

Alpha Zeus asked suspiciously.

Vivian: You are stronger and smarter than your father. I can see that in your eyes. No, I am not a witch. I'm an enchantress.

Alpha Zeus nodded his head and pulled out the plastic bag from his jacket pocket. He handed it to Vivian.

Alpha Zeus: My brother, Moon. His life is in danger. Something's wrong with him. I want to know what is going on with him?

Vivian pulled everything out of the bag. It had a t-shirt, a pen and watch and a handkerchief.

Vivian sniffed the handkerchief and her eyes glowed.

Vivian: What is wrong with him?

Alpha Zeus: He is angry all the time. He can lunge himself at anyone. He would scream at our parents. Except for his girlfriend, he is angry around all of us. He doesn't trust us anymore, he doesn't even let us touch him.

Vivian listened to Zeus careful. She then took a deep breath and closed her eyes.

Alpha Zeus: It all started since his biological parents stepped into his life. Everything was perfectly fine. I don't know what they did to him.

Vivian: Moon's biological parents?

Vivian asked in confusion.

Alpha Zeus: Yes. They came to take him back with them. But he chose to be with us. I will be grateful to his girlfriend Ocean forever. She was the one who made him choose us over his biological parents.

Alpha Zeus explained happily.

Vivian: I can't tell you the reason behind it Alpha Zeus but I can tell you that you can find the answers you seek in Pennsylvania. You have to go to the territory of the Redfords. Go and meet Master Vincent Redford. He will answer all of your questions. Take this ring, show it to Vincent and he will invite you. As per Moon's biological parents, you need to be careful Alpha. Because as far as I know, Moon's biological parents are dead. That means whoever came and calmed him as their flesh and blood, were liars. And I don't know what they wanted to do to him.

Vivian gave him a ring with a green stone on it. It was like he was looking into Moon's eyes. It smelled like Moon as well. Like it belonged to him. Zeus took the ring and put it inside his pocket.

Alpha Zeus: What are you saying?

Zeus asked in a shocked tone.

Vivian: I am telling you what I know Alpha. Be careful. Moon is a very special kind in us creatures and Ocean is the center of his world. Keep them both safe. Anything happens to Ocean and you will witness the wrath of the most horrible and undefeatable monster. Moon can get himself out of any kind of trouble but Ocean, anyone can do anything to her. Moon would kill himself if he ever gave her a scratch. Think what he would do to this world if anything happened to Ocean. Keep her safe and well hidden.

Zeus eyes widened in horror knowing that Moon would be devastated without Ocean. He had seen him living in the dark because of her. At that time, he was just a kid. Now he is an adult and more powerful than anyone in Zeus' pack. He can imagine what would happen if Ocean got hurt. He nodded his head and stood up.

Alpha Zeus: Thank you for your help. I will keep that in mind. I will protect her for my brother. I promise you.

He said and exited her cabin. He stepped into the truck, started the engine and drove off.

CHAPTER 23

Both Xanta and his nephew, beta Daniel could smell them. Their worst enemies. But it was like Alpha Zeus couldn't even smell them. He kept driving without sparing them a single glance. He stopped the truck in front of a huge mansion. It was almost like a castle. Alpha Zeus stepped out of the truck and half shifted into his wolf. His eyes glowed golden and he roared loudly. Hearing his loud roar all the creatures of the Redfords territory circled around his truck. One of them tried to lunge himself on Alpha Zeus but he growled loudly. Hearing his loud and powerful growl, he stopped in mid way. They all heard a clap and everyone bowed their heads in respect for their Master.

Zeus turned around to look at him. His eyes widened as he looked at the person standing in front of him. He shifted back into his human form and walked closer to that man. He fished out the ring Vivian gave him and showed it to that man.

Alpha Zeus: I am Alpha Zeus. I am the one who rules over New Orleans. I am sent here by the enchantress Vivian. She gave me this ring. You must be Vincent Redford?

Seeing that ring, Vincent nodded his head and signalled his creatures to calm down.

Vincent: Calm down my people. They are not here to harm us. They are our guests. Serve them the best of the Redfords. Show them how hospitable we are.

Vincent said it and all the creatures welcomed beta Daniel and Xanta. Vincent looked at Zeus and invited him into his mansion. Zeus followed him behind without a single word. Vincent could feel the thousand questions in Zeus' mind but he didn't ask him anything. He led him into a big hall and locked the door. They both sat down on the couches.

Master Vincent: What brought you here?

Alpha Zeus: My brother's sickness brought me here.

Zeus replied but his eyes were still scanning the face of the old man in front of him. Vincent smiled and cleared his throat.

Master Vincent: Are we that similar that you can't take your eyes off of my face Wolf?

Alpha Zeus: Who are you? I mean, what is he yours?

Zeus asked in confusion. Vincent's smile faded away from his eyes. Zeus could see hurt in his eyes.

Master Vincent: He is my blood. He is my flesh. He is my grandson.

Alpha Zeus: What? He can't be.

Zeus replied and shook his head.

Master Vincent: You can't take your eyes off of my face and yet you are still denying it. You can see his face, can't you?

Alpha Zeus: But if you are... then he is... Is he an immortal? A vampire?

Master Vincent: Yes he is. He is a vampire. I can't believe it's been eighteen years. He is an adult now.

Vincent said happily.

Alpha Zeus: If he is a vampire. Then I know what is wrong with him. Why did Vivian send me to you then? She would have told me that Moon is a vampire.

Zeus asked in confusion.

Master Vincent: She has sent you here for two reasons. First, because he needs my blood. Without it, he will be nothing but a blood sucking monster. It is kind of a tradition we have. And second, to know the truth about him, his life and his destiny.

Alpha Zeus: Tell me what do you mean?

Master Vincent: There was a reason I had sent him away. He is my grandson and the blood of my son. My son Aiden and his wife Sandra, they both fell in love and got married. Sandra was a human but her father was a male undine. I am not a person who would stop anyone from love. I set them both up, they got married but they couldn't live their happily ever after. They both were murdered. And the person who murdered them, was after my grandson. I did whatever I could and sent him away so he would be safe. I am glad he has a family now. I know he must be very happy. That's all his father had wanted in his life. I know he won't be different.

Hearing him Zeus smiled.

Alpha Zeus: Yes he is. Everyone loves him.

Master Vincent: I want to request you to let me meet him once. I want to see him, hug him. I want to know how it feels to have a grandson.

Alpha Zeus: I will bring him here.

Master Vincent: No no no. Never send him here. I will visit your territory. I still don't know who is with that murderer and who is not.

Vincent replied in a low tone. Zeus noticed the horror on his face.

Alpha Zeus: Is he not dead? The murderer?

He asked in confusion.

Master Vincent: No, he is not. But he will be soon, very soon. Anyways.

Saying that Vincent stood up and went to the bar. He pulled out a bottle that was filled with blood. And also a glass tube which had blood as well.

Master Vincent: Here, go back home. First give him this tube, then this bottle. He will be fine then. Tell him to feed once or twice a week. Always feed on animals. We Redfords don't drink human blood. We are creatures of night not monsters.

Zeus nodded his head. In a flash, Vincent was by the door. He unlocked the door for Zeus.

Alpha Zeus: I will see you around. And his name is Moon, Moon Kart.

Vincent smiled and nodded his head. Zeus went back to his truck where Xanta and beta Daniel were talking with the other vampires happily. They all bid their goodbyes and started their journey back to New Orleans.

BACK IN TIME.

Ocean: I felt something sharp on my neck.

She replied breathlessly. He looked at her neck. She was right. He left hickies all over her neck. And just above her pulse, he saw two dots. He examined it closely and found blood. His eyes widened in horror. He quickly crawled off of his bed. He went to one of the corners of his bedroom and sat on the ground. He held his head in his hands. Ocean also crawled out of the bed and went to him. She sat beside him and stroked his head lovingly. He backed away from her. He didn't even look at her

Ocean: What is it, Moon?

She whispered softly. She felt hurt seeing him like that.

Moon: Stay away from me. I don't want to hurt you.

Moon replied. He had tears in his eyes.

Ocean: Why would you hurt me, Moon?

She asked and tried to get closer to him again but he backed away again. It was like he was running away from her and that was very painful for her.

Moon: Because I am becoming a monster.

He replied and his tears flowed freely from his eyes. Ocean came close to wipe his tears. But he pushed her away.

Moon: I said stay away from me? Can't you hear me? Why are you here? What are you doing here? I don't want to see you here now get out.

Moon yelled at her and she backed away. Hearing his harsh words she felt pain in her chest. Sobbing quietly, she ran away. Just as she stepped out of the mansion, Zeus stopped his truck. He quickly hopped out of the truck and ordered beta Daniel to follow Ocean. And to take her to her uncle's house safely. Beta Daniel nodded his head and drove off. Zeus quickly ran back to the mansion where Moon was yelling crazily at Maria. On time, Zeus jumped on him and opened his mouth forcefully. Moon tried his best to shut it back but failed. Zeus quickly pulled out the glass tube, opened it and emptied it in Moon's mouth. As the blood of the ancient vampire slipped through his throat, he gasped loudly. Zeus stood up and gave the bottle to Moon. Moon's eyes glowed brightly as he opened the bottle and downed it's content in one go.

CHAPTER 24

Moon: I said stay away from me? Can't you hear me? Why are you here? What are you doing here? I don't want to see you here now get out.

Moon yelled at her and she backed away. Hearing his harsh words she felt pain in her chest. Sobbing quietly, she ran away. Just as she stepped out of the mansion, Zeus stopped his truck. He quickly hopped out of the truck and ordered beta Daniel to follow Ocean. And to take her to her uncle's house safely. Beta Daniel nodded his head and drove off. Zeus quickly ran back to the mansion where Moon was yelling crazily at Maria. On time, Zeus jumped on him and opened his mouth forcefully. Moon tried his best to shut it back but failed. Zeus quickly pulled out the glass tube, opened it and emptied it in Moon's mouth. As the blood of the ancient vampire slipped through his throat, he gasped loudly. Zeus stood up and gave the bottle to Moon. Moon's eyes glowed brightly as he opened the bottle and downed it's content in one go.

Breathing heavily, Moon looked at Zeus who was smiling. He knew that his brother was finally okay and out of danger. He went to Moon and pulled him in a brotherly hug. Moon hesitated for a few moments but then he realized that he is perfectly fine. He quickly wrapped his arms around his brother. He had missed his brother. Zeus patted Moon's back while Moon cried happy tears.

Zeus broke the hug and made him sit on the bed. Both Maria and Derek came back into the room and looked at their younger son worriedly.

Zeus: Your son is fine ma. He won't be yelling at anyone again.

Zeus said and chuckled. Maria came close to Moon who had a guilty expression on his handsome face. Maria sat beside Moon and he quickly laid his head on her lap. Crying quietly, both mother and son shared their moment together. Derek finally sighed in relief, seeing his family back together again but still, he felt someone missing. He looked around for the angle of their family who wasn't in Moon's room.

Derek: Where is Ocean?

He asked in a worried tone. Moon didn't look up at his father. Moon hid his face onto Maria's lap and started crying like a baby. Maria rubbed his back lovingly and tried her best to calm him down. But Moon knew he had hurt her so much and he doubted that she would ever come back to him again. Zeus signalled his parents and they both stepped out of Moon's bedroom, leaving Moon and Zeus alone in the room. Zeus wiped Moon's tears with his handkerchief.

Zeus: What happened between you two? I saw her running away, crying hard.

Zeus asked his brother. Tears tickled Moon's eyes as he remembered the harsh words and tone he used with his Ocean. He couldn't help though. He thought he would hurt her.

Moon: I yelled at her. Told her that I don't wanna see her again. Also shouted at her and told her to get out very harshly.

Moon replied but kept crying. Zeus patted Moon's back and hugged him again.

Zeus: Don't worry. We will go to her and apologise to her then tell her everything. I will do everything to get her back here, I promise.

Zeus promised his brother and Moon tightened his hold. They both stood up and went out of Moon's bedroom. Zeus led him to the living room where both Maria and Derek were waiting for their sons. They both took their seats and Zeus took a deep breath. It was time to tell everyone about Moon.

Zeus: Moon is a vampire. He turned eighteen and his powers started rising up. I just met his grandfather.

Zeus explained and both Maria and Derek stood up in shock.

Moon: What are you talking about? I can't be a vampire.

Moon replied angrily.

Zeus: It's okay Moon. I don't care whatever you are. For me, in fact for us all, you are our baby Moon. Now don't be upset over this vampire issue. Your grandfather said you have to feed one or twice a week. And drink animal's blood only. You ancestors don't drink from humans. They are creatures like us, not monsters.

Zeus explained with a wide smile. The family hugged the youngest one of the family together but they all felt the sadness because they were missing Ocean.

Ocean was running away when a familiar truck stopped by her side. She gulped in fear as she thought someone was there to kill her. The man came close and bowed his head in respect.

Beta Daniel: Alpha Zeus sent me. Get in. I'll drop you wherever you would like to go. It's not safe for you to run on foot like this all alone.

Ocean didn't say anything. She narrowed her eyes and hopped into the truck. Beta Daniel also hopped in and they drove off.

After about an hour, beta Daniel stopped the truck in front of Knight's Villa. Ocean quickly hopped out and went into the villa. She didn't look at anyone and ran into the room she had been using since she came here. She shut the door and laid down on the bed. She couldn't control herself anymore. She buried her face into the pillow and started crying. She felt so much hurt and the person who had hurt her was Moon. She couldn't believe it.

On the other hand, Melody had seen Ocean running towards her bedroom. She ran behind her but Ocean had shut the door. She called her sisters and told them about Ocean being back into the villa. They all smiled mischievously because their parents weren't home. They were on vacations. They knew that there was nobody who could save Ocean now. Melody fished her phone out and dialled Mala's number. She picked up on the third bell.

Mala: What do you want now Melody?

She asked in an annoyed tone.

Melody: I just wanted to inform you that our little cousin, Ocean is back home and mom and dad aren't home.

She replied and chuckled darkly.

Mala: I am on my way.

She said and hung up. The triplets searched for the ropes to tie Ocean. Now they were waiting for Mala to come and get Ocean.

Ocean was crying. She didn't understand why Moon did that to her. He never even had raised his voice with her. She just wanted to help him so he could get out of the pain he was in. It had been long since he had touched her last. She wanted to feel his hands all over her. She wanted him to kiss her until their lungs would start to burn. But he just broke her heart. She couldn't believe her Moon broke her heart.

In the garden of the Knight's Villa, Melody, Marina and Monica were walking back and forth, eagerly waiting for Mala. It had almost been an hour. They couldn't wait for her to be at their place. They couldn't wait to have some fun with Ocean.

Mala parked her car in the Knight's Villa and hopped out quickly. She also couldn't wait to meet that Ocean who changed Moon. Who stole Moon from her.

Mala: Where is she?

She asked as soon as she locked her car.

Monica: Inside of her room. Come, we'll show you.

Monica replied and the triplets led Mala to Ocean's room. She smirked and started banging Ocean's bedroom door. Ocean heard the banging but she wasn't ready to talk to anyone. She didn't say anything. Mala signalled the triplets to bang the door with her. They all did as they were told. Gritting her teeth in anger, Ocean opened the door but she didn't know what was about to happen to her.

She looked at Mala with a frown. Mala smirked and grabbed Ocean's hair harshly. Ocean yelped in pain. Mala started dragging her downstairs. Ocean was screaming for help but there was no one who could help her. There was no one who could hear her cries.

Mala dragged Ocean to the living room. Melody pulled a chair from the dining room and they all forcefully tied Ocean on the chair. Ocean was already very hurt and she didn't know why they all were hurting her. No one said a single word. They all were laughing darkly. Ocean shivered seeing their devils taking over them all.

Mala pulled her lather belt off of her waist. Ocean gave her a confused look with teary eyes. Mala smirked. She signalled Monica and she tied a blind on Ocean's eyes. Ocean was very confused over the situation. She didn't know what was happening. Suddenly, she felt a sharp pain on her hip. She screamed loudly and struggled to get herself free from the ties. But all her struggles were useless. Ocean kept crying and begging for mercy but Mala kept whipping her mercilessly.

Ocean's body started to feel numb as the whips weren't affecting her anymore. Her body was brutally bruised. She even had cuts all over her body due to the brutal whipping. Her breathing was shallow. She was initially praying that her Moon would come and save her from this hell.

Someone pulled the blinds off of her eyes and she found Mala fuming. Her gaze dropped to Mala's hand. She was holding a knife. Grinning mischievously, Mala started carving Ocean's face. Ocean screamed and tried to free her head from Mala's grasp. But the more she tried to free herself, the more damage Mala caused.

Ocean was unaware of the reason behind this torture she was facing. She knew that Mala was jealous of her. Mala always wanted Moon but Moon was never interested in a bitchy person that Mala was.

Mala was done carving her face. Melody brought a mirror and showed it to Ocean. Ocean screamed loudly seeing her horrible face. The triplets and Mala laughed at her misery. Mala still didn't feel satisfied with whatever she had done to Ocean. She gritted her teeth and cut both of Ocean's wrists.

A satisfied smirk made its way to Mala's lips as she dropped the knife on the floor and exited the villa. The triplets saw the whole scene with their own eyes. Seeing Ocean's blood on the floor, they all got panicked. The triplets ran out of the villa, locked the door, they all hopped into their car and drove away as fast as they could. Ocean on the other hand was left to die slowly and painfully. She didn't know the reason behind someone's hatred. She shut her eyes and smiled as she saw her Moon. She saw her Moon smiling. She saw him teasing her. She saw him kissing her. She saw him making love to her. She prayed to God that the only thing she wanted before she would die was to see her Moon one last time. She wanted to see him and tell him that how much she loves him and he is his life. But she doubted that she would be able to say all this to him.

Moon rubbed his hands on his jeans to get rid of the sweat on his palms. He was getting nervous by every passing minute. Zeus told him to sit into the car and wait for him. But he just couldn't wait any longer. He wanted to see her. He wanted to hug her. He wanted to hold her. He wanted to kiss her. He wanted to tell her that she meant the world to him.

But Zeus, he wasn't coming out of the mansion. Frustrated with the situation, Moon started honking the horn of the car. He kept his hand on the horn until he saw Zeus stepping out of the mansion. Moon sighed in relief and smiled like an innocent baby.

Zeus hopped into the car and looked at his patientless brother angrily. Moon gave his brother a puppy look and Zeus chuckled. He shook his head over his brother's childishness. He started the car and drove off.

After an hour or so, Zeus parked his car in front of Knight's Villa. They both hopped out of the car. As soon as they hopped out of the car, they both smelled something unusual. They both sniffed the air and their eyes glowed brightly like stars.

Zeus' eyes glowed golden and Moon's eyes turned red. Moon was a baby vamp but he knew it was blood. They both ran towards the door. Zeus kicked the door open and they followed the sweet vanilla scent. It was coming from the living room.

They both ran to the living room and Moon felt his heart stopped beating. The most horrible scene he had ever witnessed. He saw his Ocean in pain. Her facial wounds and the bruises all over her body. Moon felt a sharp pain in his chest.

They both ran to her. Zeus' wolf claws came out and with an easy swing of his hand, he cut all the ropes. Ocean fell on Moon's lap and lazily opened her eyes. She smiled because God had granted her a chance to see her Moon again.

Ocean: Moon, I love you. You are my life. But I can't stay with you. I'm sorry. I'm not a cheater, I just didn't get time.

She whispered and closed her eyes. Zeus looked at Moon whose face started to change. The soft hearted Moon suddenly started to look like Lucifer. Like he is the devil, ready to take down the world.

CHAPTER 26

Ocean: Moon, I love you. You are my life. But I can't stay with you. I'm sorry. I'm not a cheater, I just didn't get time.

She whispered and closed her eyes. Zeus looked at Moon whose face started to change. The soft hearted Moon suddenly started to look like Lucifer. Like he is the devil, ready to take down the world. Her pulses were getting weaker by every passing second. And Zeus didn't understand what was going on. He knew no one was in the villa except for Ocean. Moon looked up with teary pleading eyes.

Moon: Please do something. I can't live without her. She is my everything.

He said between his sobs. Then Zeus remembered what Vivian had told her when he visited her.

"Vivian: I am telling you what I know, Alpha. Be careful. Moon is a very special kind in us creatures and Ocean is the center of his world. Keep them both safe. Anything happens to Ocean and you will witness the wrath of the most horrible and undefeatable monster. Moon can get himself out of any kind of trouble but Ocean, anyone can do anything to her. Moon would kill himself if he ever gave her a scratch. Think what he would do to this world if anything happened to Ocean. Keep her safe and well hidden."

Zeus knew it was time for him to make a decision. To do something to save Ocean. In an instant, Zeus' wolf came out of the cage. Howling loudly, the wolf made its way to Ocean. Moon didn't let go of her but he knew Zeus' wolf was there to help only. An ear piercing growl left its lips and it dipped its head down at Ocean's arm. Its eyes were glowing golden like fire. It opened its mouth and bit her arm. She didn't even have strength left to scream. She just opened her eyes when she felt a sharp pain on her arm. Just suddenly she closed her eyes again and fainted.

Zeus told Moon to take her to the car and wait. Moon did as he was told. He scooped his Ocean in his arms and took her out of the villa. Zeus' wolf howled loudly then Zeus turned back into his human form. He ran back out, hopped into the car and drove off.

They reached home safely and Moon took his Ocean back to his room. Zeus had told him that it would take a few hours for her to fully turn into a wolf. Moon was eagerly waiting for her to open her eyes again.

OCEAN'S POV:-

I opened my eyes again and found myself lying on the ground, a dusty ground to be specific. I sat up and looked around. I was into a forest. It was beautiful but it was dark. The Moon was shining brightly in the sky. A chilly breeze hit my body only then I realized that I was naked. I quickly covered my breasts with my hands.

I felt like I was being watched. I turned around and found a very stunning creature sitting on the ground. It was a huge wolf. Almost the same as I had seen that night when Moon rescued me. Its furs were pure white as snow and its eyes were like two blue stars. I felt myself drawn to her. It was looking at me like it could see my soul. And the funniest part was I didn't get scared of it. It was like I knew it would never hurt me. Like I had known her for ages.

Woman: Yes you do Ocean. You have known her for ages.

I heard a woman. She came in front of me and I looked at her. She was old but still very stunning. She felt like I had seen her somewhere. But I couldn't remember at all.

Ocean: Who are you? And how do you know my name?

I asked her. She smiled and sat beside the wolf.

Woman: My name is Vivian, Honey. And I have known you ever since you were born.

She replied and started patting that wolf's furs.

Ocean: Where have I seen you before?

I asked. I mentally slapped myself for asking such a stupid question.

Vivian: In your dreams. Dreams like this one. You remember them, don't you Ocean?

She replied and then I remembered it all. Why that wolf and that stunning woman looked familiar to me. I had seen them in my nightmares. Whenever the man with red eyes used to visit her dreams, Vivian and that wolf always came to rescue her.

Ocean: You always saved me from that man. Who wanted to kill me.

I said and they both nodded their heads.

Vivian: Not wanted to, he still wants you dead. So he could get what he wants and you are the only one standing in his way.

She replied and I gave her a confused look.

Vivian: He is still alive Ocean. And he wants to kill you so he could get to Moon. Now, he couldn't get to you because of this wolf, but he sure will try to get Moon. And you are the only one who can kill him. It's your destiny.

She said and I rolled my eyes.

Ocean: I am already dead. I know.

I replied in a dah tone.

Vivian: No Ocean, you are still alive. Vixen saved your life. Zeus as well. You are still alive. It's just you are meeting your wolf for the very first time.

She replied. I looked at the wolf.

Ocean: She is Vixen?

I asked and Vivian nodded her head. Vixen then stood up and came to me. It was so tall that I had to lift my head up to see her face. She howled loudly then licked my face. I felt something warm into my chest, like we both were sisters.

Vivian: It's time for you to wake up Ocean. Because your mate is eagerly waiting for you to wake up and give him your dimpled smile.

I nodded my head and patted Vixen's head. She licked my face again and sat down on the ground. I sat beside her and laid my head on her back. I closed my eyes and I felt like I fell asleep again.

I opened my eyes again and found myself lying on Moon's bed. He wasn't around. Suddenly, a strong scent hit my nostrils. It was the most delicious smell I had ever sensed in my life. I sniffed more than inhaled as deeply as I could. I filled my lungs with that delicious scent.

Moon's bedroom door opened and I felt Vixen getting excited to taste him. I took a very deep breath to fill my lungs with his scent in my lungs again. It was weird. I hadn't felt anything like that ever before for him. He slowly walked towards me with a smile on his face. My heart started beating hard and fast into my rib cage. Like it would jump out of my chest and end up in his feet to accept me. I started to feel nervous. I didn't know why I was feeling all this about him. He was handsome and tall and sexy and any girl could feel that way for him but that wasn't something I had ever felt in my life. I felt like jumping on him and licking his delicious body hungrily. "Why am I feeling like this for him?" I thought to myself.

Vixen: Because he is our mate.

Vixen replied and started dancing inside me.

CHAPTER 27

OCEAN'S POV:-

I opened my eyes again and found myself lying on Moon's bed. He wasn't around. Suddenly, a strong scent hit my nostrils. It was the most delicious smell I had ever sensed in my life. I sniffed more than inhaled as deeply as I could. I filled my lungs with that delicious scent.

I hadn't felt anything like that ever before for him. He slowly walked towards me with a smile on his face. My heart started beating hard and fast into my rib cage. Like it would jump out of my chest and end up in his feet to accept me. I started to feel nervous. I didn't know why I was feeling all this about him. He was handsome and tall and sexy and any girl could feel that way for him but that wasn't something I had ever felt in my life. I felt like jumping on him and licking his delicious body hungrily. "Why am I feeling like this for him?" I thought to myself.

Vixen: Because he is our mate.

Vixen replied and started dancing inside me. She was dancing crazily, it made me chuckle. He gave me a confused look and I shook my head. I had never felt this nervous ever in my life. He sat on the edge of the bed and I controlled myself. I didn't want to jump on him and lick his body. I smiled at my thoughts to lick him like I would lick honey. Seeing my smile, he smiled at me and that's when I lost my control over Vixen. I grabbed his arm and pulled him on the bed. His head hit the pillow and I sat upon him. He was so shocked by my actions that he didn't get a chance to free himself from me. I intertwined my fingers with his and leaned over his ear.

Ocean: I don't know why but I feel like I want to eat you alive Moon.

I said in a low seductive voice and he chuckled. His chuckle felt like music to my ears.

Moon: I feel the same baby.

He replied and with an easy swing, he was on top of me. He leaned in and captured my lips in a hungry kiss. I bit his lower lip and he parted his lips with a smirk. My tongue slipped into his mouth and devoured him. It was like he was the only source for me to get rid of my thirst.

He pulled back and leaned down to my neck. He licked my neck and I growled loudly. I was enjoying whatever he was doing to me.

Moon: I am so sorry for being a total jerk. I am so sorry I yelled at you and used harsh words with you.

He apologized but I didn't want his apology. I knew he wasn't in his senses.

Ocean: Just shut up and keep doing what you have started.

I replied and he chuckled again. He ripped my dress off of my body then my bra and my panties as well. He ran his hands all over my body and I arched my back. He ripped his own clothes as well. I ran my fingers on his hard chest then his abs and at last on his shaft. I grabbed his shaft into my hand. It was big. I stroked it and Moon threw his head back in pleasure. Moon then leaned in and took one of my nipples in his mouth. His tongue started teasing my nipples and I felt it getting hard. His lips captured mine again and his fingers pinched my nipples harshly. I moaned loudly in pleasure. One of his hands traveled down towards my cunt. The wetness was pooling out of my virgin cunt. He rubbed his fingers on my clit a bit harshly and I bit his lower lip so hard that I tasted blood in my mouth. He smirked and kept rubbing his finger on my clit. He then dipped one of his fingers into my hole. It felt so good. I moaned loudly into his mouth. He pumped his finger inside me for a good minute then pulled it out. He brought it to his mouth and sucked his fingers like he was sucking the honey off of his finger. He pushed me on the bed and positioned himself between my legs. He teased my clit and my hole with the tip of his shaft for a few seconds. Then he pushed himself so hard and deep. I felt pain for just a second then it vanished like it never happened. My hole quickly got adjusted with his huge shaft and he started moving inside me hard and fast. Suddenly, he started moving very fast inside me. He was thrusting inside me like 5 times in a second. He was using his super speed. Soon my walls tightened around his shaft and he growled loudly like an animal.

Moon: Come for me my Ocean. Don't hold it. Let it go.

He said those words and I screamed his name loudly. He and I both came together. He unloaded his seed inside me. He laid beside me with his shaft still inside me.

Moon: That was epic. I can't believe we actually did that.

He said with a smile that made me shower him with kisses. He chuckled as I kissed all over his face.

Ocean: I don't know what came to me but I loved every second of it.

I replied shamelessly. Moon's eyes widened as he looked at me with shock visible on his face. I gave him an innocent smile and he chuckled.

Moon: I like this new self of yours. I like you shameless.

He replied and pulled himself out of me. Suddenly my smile fell as I remembered what Mala had done to me. I jumped off of the bed and went to the closet. I stood in front of the full size mirror. It was like I had never been to my uncle's house. Or Mala hadn't touched me at all. All bruises and cuts were now gone as they weren't there at all. Moon hugged me from behind and bit my shoulder. I moaned and looked at his face in the mirror.

Moon: You are now one of us. They all are healed. Don't worry, even if they would be there, I would still have made love to you with the same passion. It isn't your face or your body. It's our souls. They are connected.

He answered my unasked question. I smiled and he scooped me up in his arms. He carried me to his bed then threw me on it. I looked at his shaft which was standing erect again. Ready to fuck me again. I smiled and parted my legs for him. In a blink of an eye, he was inside me, fucking me hard and fast again. Vixen was enjoying his passion towards us. He was fucking me so hard that I felt like we would break his bed. Soon, we both growled loudly again as we reached the edge of our ecstasy. He again came inside me and it felt heavenly. The warmth of his seed inside me was so good. I can't remember how many times we had sex that night, but I was sure the whole town must have heard our moans.

MOON'S POV:-

Things were getting better. My sweet sweet Ocean was again with me. My arms were wrapped around my whole world. My heart stopped that day seeing her. Those bitches, I had smelled them all over the place. I was sure that the next time I would see them, they would all end up bloody. I was thankful that Zeus was with me that day, or otherwise she would have died. I could not even imagine living without her.

I was so drowned into my thoughts that I did not realize, Ocean had woken up. She grazed my nipple between her teeth and I growled under my chest.

Moon: What are you doing?

I asked her in a husky tone.

Ocean: Tasting you.

She replied. We both were still naked on our bed. She licked my bear chest and moaned loudly.

Ocean: How come you taste better than the chocolate chip cookies?

She asked me and I chuckled. I grabbed her hand and pulled her on top of me. She sat on my belly, then leaned in and kissed me hungrily. Just before we both would have felt excited again, we heard a loud knock on our bedroom door.

Moon: Yes!

I asked but I already knew it was my mother. I could smell her scent.

Maria: Your pa is waiting for you both downstairs. Get ready. He wants to take you somewhere.

She said and I growled lowly in my chest.

Ocean: We will be downstairs in ten minutes.

She replied and I smirked. I leaned in to capture her lips but she easily ducked me. I gave her a confused look. She giggled and jumped off of the bed.

Ocean: Ten minutes to get ready. I did not say we can have fun either.

She said and ran into the bathroom. I chuckled seeing her playfulness. She was different. But she was more beautiful. I could feel a strong aura around her.

Ocean: Moon, what are you waiting for? Come in now.

I heard her yelling at me. I stood up and stepped into the bathroom. She turned on the shower and we both stood together under the shower. I wrapped my arms around her and held her close to me. She rubbed my back then broke the hug. She pecked my lips then picked up the shampoo.

After a lovely bath together, we both stepped out of the bathroom and went to the closet. I wore my casual jeans and t-shirt and she pulled out a knee length summer dress. Once done, I grabbed her hand and pulled her out of our bedroom.

We went downstairs where everyone was waiting for us. We took our seats on the table. Zeus gave us both a sharp stare then started laughing hysterically. We both looked at each other then at him again.

Derek: This is dining hall Zeus. You have to show some respect to the bestowed meal you have in front of you.

Pa said and Zeus clapped his hands over his mouth. He was trying to suppress his laughter. Ocean was getting uncomfortable with the situation. I growled loudly and everyone looked at me with shock visible on their faces. I was even shocked. It was a very loud growl, louder than Zeus' wolf growl.

Moon: Why are you laughing like you are crazy?

I asked him angrily.

Zeus: You two could not even wait until your mating ceremony.

He replied and started laughing again. Ocean gave us all a confused look for a few seconds. Then her cheeks turned pink along with the tip of her nose and she buried her face on the crock of my neck. I gritted my teeth seeing her uncomfortable.

Maria: That's enough Zeus. Firstly, you are making them both uncomfortable in their house. Secondly, they don't need any mating ceremony. They got mated the day they were born.

Ma said and all our mouths hung open except for pa.

Pa parked his car in front of a very beautiful cabin. It was small but beautiful. All the way Ocean and I were asking him to tell us where he was taking us but he did not say a single word. When he turned the car towards the darker part of the forest, my heart started drumming inside my rib cage. I know one thing for sure that no one was allowed to visit the darker part of the forest.

Ocean and I hopped out and looked at pa. He just gestured to us to go inside.

Derek: I can not go inside today. It's not my day to go inside. Go, I am waiting for you both here.

Pa said and we both nodded our heads. I grabbed Ocean's hand and pulled her towards the cabin. I rang the bell and we waited. In a minute, the door opened and an old woman opened the door. She invited us in with a wide smile. We both stepped inside and followed her behind. She took us to the living room which was fully decorated and a table was filled with a variety of food.

Ocean: Aren't you Vivian?

I heard Ocean and turned to look at her. She was staring at the old woman. Just then I realized how similar they both looked. It was like I was looking at an old replica of Ocean. She smiled and my eyes widened seeing the exact same beautiful smile as Ocean. She nodded her head and gestured to us to sit down on the couches. Ocean and I sat together while the woman sat on a couch in front of us.

Vivian: Nice to see you again, Ocean.

She said and Ocean looked at me.

Moon: You both know each other?

I asked in a shocked tone. Ocean nodded her head.

Ocean: She is the one who introduced me to Vixen.

She replied and I frowned.

Moon: Vixen, who is Vixen?

I asked in confusion.

Ocean: Vixen is my wolf. The day Zeus bit me, I was introduced to Vixen by her, Vivian. She was the one who told me that I was not dead. And I have a life ahead.

She replied and I nodded my head.

Ocean: But I did not get it. Why are we here?

Ocean asked Vivian.

Vivian: Because you both need to know about your past. There are so many questions in your minds. I can feel them. You are here to get all the answers. You are here to know about yourselves. You are here to know about the bond that is between you.

Vivian said and we both exchanged looks.

Moon: And how come you know everything about us?

I asked with a raised brow.

Vivian: Because I am an enchantress.

She replied and our mouths hung open again. I have never known that enchantresses are real. I thought they were nothing but fantasy stories. But I guess I was wrong.

CHAPTER 29

OCEAN'S POV:-

Sometimes, things become too shitty than ever expected. That's what happened to us while we were at Vivian's cabin. Last thing I remember was Moon and I both were sitting with Vivian and she was about to start telling us a story. Our story. The story of our past. And the minute I was standing in the same part of the forest. But it looked a lot different from the one we had seen before we entered Vivian's cabin.

Moon: Ocean, honey are you alright?

I heard Moon's worried laced voice and turned around. I gave him my cheeky smile and nodded my head.

Ocean: I am fine. Don't worry about me. Where are we?

I asked and looked around for any sort of clue.

Moon: It looks like the same forest. The same one where pa brought us.

He replied while looking around.

Ocean: Yeah, but still it looks different.

I replied and he nodded his head. Suddenly, we both heard a loud roar. Moon pushed me behind his tall figure. His fangs grew bigger and his eyes glowed bright red. Exactly like the man in my nightmares. But he was different. Not like my Moon. My Moon was sweet and caring and very protective. Not an ass hole like the one I had seen in my nightmares for years.

Both of our mouths hung open when we looked at a tall man running. We both exchanged looks. The man looked exactly like Moon. Except for his eyes. His eyes were blue as ice. Something inside me, forced me to follow the man. I grabbed Moon's hand and we both started following him. He was looking behind like he was being followed. He had a baby in his arms, wrapped in a baby blanket.

The baby started crying and the man tried his best to keep him quiet but the baby did not stop at all. Then we heard noises, like someone was coming closer. Moon quickly grabbed my hand and we hid behind a huge tree. The man started running again as he heard the noises as well. We followed him behind.

We ran until we reached a very familiar place. Our eyes widened as we looked around. It was the same lake. The lake where we both started dating each other. The man hid behind a hide rock. That's until the baby started crying again.

The man looked around and tried to shush the baby but the baby did not stop. We heard a few heavy footsteps coming towards the lake. The man looked around then he did something that made my heart stop for a few seconds. He threw the baby inside the lake and ran away. The people who were after him, they started following the man.

I tried to go to the lake and save the baby when I looked at him again. The man in my nightmares. He was there. For a mere second, it felt like he was looking at me. He had the same smirk on his face that I used to see whenever I was trapped. But then he just ran away. I sighed in relief when he was out of sight.

Just then, we both heard an ear piercing howl. Vixen got alert as she heard the howl. It sounded familiar. Like I had heard it before. Moon again stood in front of me and I wrapped my arms around his waist from behind. Vixen was all calm, that worried me a little. I knew she must be ready to attack whatever was coming to get us.

Then we both saw them. Our mouths dropped on the floor as we saw them. It was Mr and Mrs Kart. They both looked young. They both came close and started sniffing the air. Their eyes glowed golden brightly as they both went closer to the lake. Mr Kart tore his clothes and jumped into the water. In a minute or so, he pulled out the baby. The baby was not crying anymore. He was asleep. They both smiled and kissed the baby's forehead.

The baby started choking. It looked like he was having trouble breathing. Mr Kart's bones started cracking and he turned into the same grey colored wolf that had attacked me that night. Mrs Kart held the baby in her arms and quickly hopped onto the wolf. The wolf started running towards the darker part of the forest.

Moon scooped me up in his arms and he followed them behind. We both were having the same feeling. Like whatever it is, we would find that out if we followed Mr and Mrs Kart. We followed the wolf until it reached the same cabin, Vivian's cabin. We followed them inside.

As soon as I stepped in, my eyes filled with tears. I was still in Moon's arms. He tightened his hold around me as I looked at my dad. He was standing with a baby in his arms. Mr and Mrs Kart also had a baby, the same baby that was rescued by them. Vivian came out of the room and I gasped loudly. I looked at Moon whose face had the same shocked expression as mine.

It was like I was looking at myself in the mirror. The same dumplings, same blue eyes, same style and same voice. She came out and bowed her head in front of Mr and Mrs Kart.

Vivian: How can I help you, my Alpha?

Vivian asked and then I understood why Vixen was all cool. He was the Alpha that time and Vixen knew that.

Mr Kart: This baby is dying, Viv. Save him please.

He said and she nodded her head. She then looked at my father. He was sobbing quietly.

Sam: My baby is dying too. Please do something. I have heard you can do anything.

My dad said between his sobs. Vivian smiled and held both babies in her arms.

Vivian: Don't worry. You all wait here. I will be back in a few.

She said and went back into the same room she had come out from. Moon and I followed her behind. To our surprise, we saw three babies in the room. One was on the bed in pink frock. And the other two were on the table with Vivian. Vivian looked at both of them. The baby boy Mr Mrs Kart brought was okay but when she looked at the baby my father brought, Vivian gasped loudly. The baby was already dead.

CHAPTER 30

MOON'S POV:-

Vivian: Don't worry. You all wait here. I will be back in a few.

Vivian said and went back into the same room she had come out from. I and Ocean followed her behind. To our surprise, we saw three babies in the room. One was on the bed in pink frock. She smelled like vanilla. And the other two were on the table with Vivian. Vivian looked at both of them. The baby boy ma and pa brought was okay but having trouble breathing for some reason. When she looked at the baby Mr Knight had brought, Vivian gasped loudly. The baby was already dead.

Seeing such a horrible moment right in front of my eyes, all I could feel was pure sadness. But at the same time I was curious that if that baby had already died then how Ocean is still standing with me. I could see Ocean had the same curiosity in her head as well. It was written all over her face. She looked at me with a confused frown on her beautiful face. I wrapped my hand around her when I saw tears in her eyes. I knew she was wondering how her father would react with this whole situation.

Suddenly, the same man stepped into the room. The same man we had seen in the forest. He came in and looked at Vivian. She bowed her head in respect.

Strange man: He is here Vivian. And he is not just here for this baby but for his daughter as well.

The strange man said while looking around like he was being followed.

Vivian: What? Why is he here now? He can not have my daughter. He just threw us out.

Vivian replied angrily and went to the baby that was on the bed. She held the baby in her arms and held her close to her chest.

Strange man: Viv, he is here because they both are connected since birth. It's the first time in the history of supernatural creatures that two babies are born mated.

Saying that, the strange man held the baby boy in his arms and took him to Vivian. Then we saw something we had never experienced. Both the strange man and Vivian stood facing each other. The babies intertwined their fingers and stared into each other's eyes and their eyes went pitch black like the dark night without any moon or stars.

Strange man: No matter how much everyone would try to separate them, they will find their ways back to each other. It's not something in our hands. It's what God had made them like.

The strange man said smiling, seeing both babies smiling at each other.

Vivian: What should I do with my baby? He will soon be coming to get his daughter if he comes to know that they are connected.

Vivian said worriedly. Just then her eyes widened like she had gotten some idea. She took the baby to the dead baby. She laid her baby on the table as well and went to her bedside table. She opened a drawer and pulled out a glass bottle with something shimmery pink inside. She came back and started chanting a spell. She then opened the bottle and dusted the shimmery pink powder on both babies. Soon we saw that both babies' faces changed. She quickly exchanged their clothes and nodded her head at the strange man. The strange man handed the baby boy to Vivian as well.

Strange man: I hope you know what you are doing.

He said and Vivian nodded her head.

Vivian: It's the only way. They both will find their ways back and will be one. That day will soon come.

Vivian replied while looking at the sky, out of her window.

Strange man: I should be going then. Or he will get my scent here. Make sure to bury this baby in front of him so he would be sure that his baby did not survive.

Saying that, the strange man jumped out of the window. Vivian pecked the forehead of the baby girl lovingly.

Vivian: I hope I will see you soon my baby girl. Your mother will always be waiting for you and she will try her best to keep you safe from your evil father.

Vivian said with teary eyes. Then she pecked the baby boy's forehead lovingly.

Vivian: Take care of my baby. I know you will bring her to me one day.

She said and took a deep breath. Her tears disappeared like they never flowed from her eyes. She held her head high and stepped out of the bedroom. We followed her behind. She handed the baby boy to ma and pa and the baby girl was handed to Mr Knight.

Vivian: Your baby is named as Ocean, Mr Knight. And he is Moon, my Alpha. I want to tell you that both these babies are connected to each other now. If you try to separate them, they will not survive after they will turn eighteen. They are meant to be together. That is how I could save their lives.

Everyone nodded their heads and stepped out of the cabin but I and Ocean were glued to our places. Our mouths were on the floor with our eyes open wide. I just could not believe what we just saw. Only then it started making sense. Why Ocean resembled a lot with Vivian. And how Ocean was the only person in her family who had supernatural powers. It made sense how Ocean turned into a werewolf within a few hours. It was not normal for a normal human being to be turned into a werewolf this fast. Unless, the person has that power caged inside. I knew Vivian did not just make the baby look like the dead baby, but also caged her beast inside her so she would not hurt anyone. Because a beast without its Alpha is like a bomb without the trigger. It could blow up anytime and could hurt everyone without any intention. The blood lust of the beast is something only an Alpha could control. That is why, all the creatures follow an Alpha.

Everyone left and Vivian went back to her bedroom. She scooped up the dead baby in her arms carefully and stepped out of the cabin. She wrapped the baby in a small blanket and tied the baby inside. She then started digging a hole in the ground. Once done, she picked the baby and with tears in her eyes, she pecked the back and laid her down in the hole.

A familiar scent hit my nostrils and Ocean wrapped her arms around my waist from behind. I have never come across that scent ever but still it felt familiar. I looked around and found the same man who was running after the strange man. He went to Vivian and grabbed her neck. He pulled her aggressively and forced his mouth upon hers. He kissed her forcefully while she was struggling to get herself free from his hold. But it was like he was way more stronger than her. At last, he let her go and she gasped so loudly like someone was choking her. His eyes glowed red and when he smiled I saw his fangs. He was a vampire, just like me.

Ancient vampire: Where is my baby, Viv darling?

He asked her as if she was his wife or something.

Vivian: Can you not see? Your baby girl is dead. Who the hell do you think I am burying here?

She asked him and started sobbing loudly. He grabbed her by her neck and slammed her on the ground. I and Ocean ran towards Vivian to help her but that's when everything went dark. Dark fog engulfed us like it was a black hole and it's gravity sucked us in.

MOON'S POV:-

When I opened my eyes again, Ocean was not by my side. She was hugging Vivian tightly and sobbing. My heart clenched seeing her crying like that. But I knew I could not interfere. They both had longed for each other. It was a mother daughter reunion. I stood up and Vivian opened her arms for me as well. I smiled and went to her. She hugged us both together. She held us tightly. It felt so good to know that I and Ocean were born mated. But still I had some questions inside my head.

We finally broke the hug and sat back on the couches. Vivian asked us to eat something. Our stomachs were growling by then. We both hopped off of the couch and filled our plates with food in front of us. Vivian chuckled as we started eating. Ocean giggled and wiped my lips. I had smudged cream all over my lips.

Vivian: I can see you have questions in your head Moon. First of all, thank you for bringing my daughter to me. Secondly, I am here to answer all your questions. Just ask me.

Vivian said and I nodded my head. I set my plate aside and looked at Vivian.

Moon: I have heard ma and pa talking about the baby of Sam Knight, who died that day. How come ma and pa know about that when they did not see Ocean at all? I mean the dead baby.

I asked and she sighed.

Vivian: Your father was an Alpha that time. Of course I needed to tell him everything. I needed his protection. I was not this powerful by then. Also, Sam Knight came back when Ocean was very sick. She nearly died. And that happened right in front of your father. That was why he knew that Ocean was dead. But in reality, I was able to revive her.

She replied and I nodded my head.

Moon: What happened to you after you told him that his daughter died?

I asked and she smiled.

Vivian: You should not have to worry about that. It was my mistake. I had to bear the consequences.

She replied.

Ocean: What do you mean? What did you do?

Ocean asked in a worry laced voice.

Vivian: I fell in love with a demon. You just can not expect a demon to love you back. He would use you and would throw you away like trash.

Vivian replied in a sad tone. Ocean and I exchanged looks then looked back at Vivian.

Ocean: Does that mean that I am the daughter of that demon?

Ocean asked Vivian. I looked at Vivian who sighed and narrowed her eyes like she was ashamed of something she had done in her past.

Vivian: Unfortunately yes! He was your father. Vincent Redford's father adopted him. He was the same age as Moon's father. But because Vincent's father adopted him, he was known as Vincent's brother. Vincent Redford is your grandfather, Moon. Nobody knew about that secret except for the people closest to the Redford family. It was a dark secret. Everyone hid it exactly like one.

Vivian explained. We both were looking at her with wide eyes. We were shocked hearing about Ocean's father. But what worried me more was the look in Ocean's eyes. I saw fear in her eyes. Like Vivian had told us about Ocean's demon. I wrapped my arm around her waist and she looked into my eyes. I pecked her forehead lovingly and she took a deep breath.

Vivian: You two should leave now. We do not want your father to find out about you both so soon. You two have a lot to learn now. And you also need to learn to fight. You both are more powerful than anyone could imagine. And to polish your powers a bit more, you have to learn to fight.

She said and we both nodded our heads. We stood up and so did Vivian. She walked us to the door. One last time, she hugged us both. It was like she did not want us to go but she was helpless.

Vivian: Do not try to visit me again. If your enemies find out, they will hurt you and that will kill me. I had done everything in my power to keep you both safe. Do not ruin years of my hard work.

Vivian said and we both nodded our heads. We stepped out of the cabin and went to my father's car. Without a single word, we all hopped into his car and drove off.

THIRD PERSON'S POV:-

Killing the guards out of his way, an ancient vampire made his way towards the basement of the castle. The castle was old and damaged. But of course, nobody cared for that. The ancient vampire was here to get his work done. He knew that the time had come. He unlocked the door and stepped into the huge hall that was guarded by the two vampires. The ancient vampire let his velvet cape fall down on the dusty ground as he saw the last two guards lunging themselves on him.

With an easy swing of his flexible body, the ancient vampire captured one of the guards head in his hands. And without wasting any time further, the ancient vampire ripped the guard's head off. The other guard pulled out the dagger that was given to him when he was appointed to guard that old castle. The dagger was not a usual pine tree wood. It was an enchanted dagger that was made of the wood of the summer sun tree. It could only be found in the fairy land. An enchantress made sure to bring the huge beach of the summer sun tree and made a few daggers out of it. Myth says that the summer sun tree from fairy land has pure rays of the sun running into its veins.

The guard lunged himself at the ancient vampire. But it was not his lucky day. Before the dagger could even touch the ancient vampire's body, the ancient vampire ripped the guard's heart out of his chest. The guard fell on the ground with a loud thud. The ancient vampire threw the heart on his face and went away. He could hear the knocking that was driving him crazy. He knew that the time had come. It was time to get his master out of the coffin that his master was locked in.

He ripped the locks off of the coffin and grabbed the slab of the coffin. He moved it off of the coffin. He then made a small cut on his palm and let the blood drop on the coffin's cover. The blood traveled towards the charmed circle. It broke the magic that kept the devil locked inside the coffin for years. The ancient vampire opened the coffin and gasped loudly as he looked at his master. He was still the same as he was years ago when he last saw him. Kneeling down on the ground, he welcomed his master back into the world.

Ancient vampire: Welcome back, father. I had been waiting for this moment for so long.

Ancient vampire said to the vampire master.

Vampire Master: I know my son Parko. You must have been through a lot to get me out of here. I know my son. But do not worry anymore. I have a surprise for my first born.

The vampire master said and the ancient vampire smiled and stood up.

Parko: What is it father?

Parko asked his father in an excited tone.

Vampire Master: I will give it to you but you have to give me something as well. You know, I have been out for years and I need my strength back to get started again.

Vampire master said and Parko bowed his head in respect.

Parko: Anything for my beloved father. What can I serve you, father?

Parko asked.

Vampire Master: Your life...

Vampire master said wickedly then grabbed Parko by his neck. He held Parko up from the ground. As Parko struggled to breathe, the vampire master opened his mouth with his sharp and long fangs ready. He bit Parko and sucked all the blood he had in him. Parko struggled to get himself free from the devil but it was too late. The devil was stronger than any other vampire he had ever confronted. Soon, Parko was lying on the ground lifeless. Vampire Master pulled Parko's handkerchief out of his pocket and wiped his face.

Vampire Master: What a fool you were to follow me instead of your mother. Your mother tried her best to get you out of my hold but... tsk tsk tsk tsk, poor Parko son. You were no good for me to let you live except for your blood that gave me my strength back. Now, it's time to find my beloved daughter who's powers have awakened a few days ago. Along with the son of my beloved nephew. But first, I need to find my beautiful wife and have her whole. My dear wife, I am coming.

Vampire Master said and within a flash, he was out of the castle.

THIRD PERSON'S POV:-

With a loud gasp, Vivian opened her eyes and looked around. She sighed in relief when she found herself in her cabin. It was a nightmare. Scariest of all nightmares she had ever had. It was him. She saw him again. The very person who destroyed her life and threw her out of his life like trash. But that did not concern her. She was more concerned about the figure she had seen with her demon. As she remembered what made her gasp for air, she clapped her hand upon her mouth. She could not believe it.

Vivian: Parko!

A soft whimper escaped her lips and she held her head in her hands. She had been waiting for her son to come back to her. She had always believed that one day, he would understand why his mother used her powers to cage his father. But she was wrong. He never came to her. And the dream was not a lie. It was a true dream. More like something that had happened. She just saw how brutally her son was murdered. And the person who dared to kill her son was none other than his father.

She had longed for both of her children. With Ocean, she was hopeful that Moon would bring Vivian's daughter. And that happened. Moon brought Ocean to meet her mother. But Parko, Vivian was very worried about Parko. He was stubborn and he never believed whatever she had told him about his father. Parko thought that his father was a very nice man who wanted to rule his territory. But that was just a delusion his father had created for him. The reality was totally opposite. Because in reality, Parko's father never had any territory to rule. He was just an orphan that was adopted by Vincent's father.

Vivian crawled out of her bed and made her way towards the bathroom. Tears were flowing freely from her hazel eyes. She was wiping them off of her cheeks but they were nowhere to be stopped. Of course, how could a mother stop her tears whose son was brutally murdered right in front of her eyes. She stripped her nightgown off of her body and went towards the shower. She could not help but think if her son missed her with the very last breath he took. She could not help but think if her son was able to forgive her. She could not help but think if her son finally understood the reason behind her betrayal to her husband.

She turned on the shower. She was so lost in her thoughts and her tears that she did not realize. The door of her bathroom was opened. She shivered as the cold breeze hit her naked body. She did not even notice that she was standing in the hot shower and it was impossible for the cold breeze to enter the bathroom like that.

She held her breath and her heart stopped for a few moments when someone grabbed her shoulders. She knew who it was but deep inside her heart, she was praying for it to be a dream or her delusion. They turned her around and she gasped loudly. It was him. It was that devil who had destroyed her life. It was the very person who had killed her son. And it was none other than the person for whom she had fought against her kind. At last, her father had to cast her out of her territory. It was her husband. It was Valtor Redford.

Valtor: Tsk tsk tsk... Nobody took care of you after I left. You did not think that I would never return, right?

Valtor said with the same evil grin plastered on his face that used to destroy everything. Vivian shook her head. She was shocked seeing him there. Of course, she knew one day he would come back to take his revenge and take them with him. But she never thought it would be this early. It was just eighteen years she had a peaceful life. But he came back to end it as well.

In a blink of an eye, Valtor also stripped his clothes off of his body. He came back into the shower and cupped Vivian's face.

Valtor: You are as stunning as you used to be. You look old now. But I know this is because you were away from me.

Valtor said in a seductive tone. Vivian shivered again and tried to free her face from his hold. But his hold was firm and he was stronger than she had imagined. Valtor leaned in and forced his mouth on her. She tried to slap him away or push him hard so he would stumble and she would be free but nothing helped her at all.

He smirked at his victory and grabbed a fist full of her hair. He pulled her hair aggressively. She whimpered and he got a chance to push his tongue inside her mouth. He moaned softly in her mouth as he remembered the taste of her mouth. It was like it was on the tip of his tongue all those years. Like he had never forgotten her taste.

What she did not know, her wrinkles started to vanish. Her gray and silver hair started changing its colors. Her hair turned back into its real color. She had red curly hair. Ocean's had the same hair color, but her hair was straight like Valtor's.

Vivian started punching his biceps to get herself free from his hold. She was almost out of breath and she needed oxygen. Her lungs were burning due to the lack of oxygen. His smirk became wider and he broke the kiss. She gasped loudly and fell on the floor. Before she would have hit the floor, he grabbed her by her waist and pulled her close to his chest. Breathing heavily, she looked at him with tears in her eyes. Her eyes were begging him to tell her the truth. She wanted to know if Parko was really dead or it was just a dream. A very dark and disturbing dream.

Valtor: Do not ask me like you know nothing. You were there, were you not? You saw him dying. You saw him taking his last breath. Tsk tsk tsk. He was a very good kid. But what he did not know, only I can become the reason for your teary eyes. No one in this world is allowed to make you cry but me. No one can make you submit but me.

He replied firmly. She broke into sobs and tears. She was expecting him to at least spare the life of his own son. But of course, it was Valtor Redford, he shows mercy to no one. The only person knew him inside out was Vivian.

Vivian: How could you do this to me? He was my son.

Vivian asked him between her sobs. She shivered when she saw his face changing its colors. From cheerful to angry. He grabbed the back of her neck aggressively and made her look at him, forcefully.

Valtor: He did not obey me when I warned him not to make you cry. Only I can make you cry, my Vivi. I have longed for you. Now I want you.

He yelled at her first then his voice was as low as a whisper. Before Vivian could do anything, he carried her bridal style. He turned off the shower and started walking towards the bedroom.

OCEAN'S POV:-

Two weeks passed since I had visited my mother with Moon. I was happy to know that I had a mother. After the death of my parents, I felt like I was left alone into this world. I was thankful that God had granted me another family. I had a big brother in that family who would rip anyone's heart out if they would dare to harm me. I had a mother who always looked after me. I had a father who would protect me from every evil eye.

With Moon by my side, I was fearless and carefree. But Alpha Zeus would not let me do anything. Ever since we came back from my mother's cabin and told Zeus everything. He became extra cautious with everything. He hired his friend named Lucas to train Moon. Lucas was a vampire, just like Moon. As for me, Zeus was handling me. He said he could train me better than anyone. And that was right.

Whatever he was teaching me, it was better than whatever Moon had learned. I was able to defeat Moon in battle easily. Zeus was still annoying us with this mating thing. He said we should have waited until the ceremony. While Moon's mother would shush him saying that we were born to be together. That we did not need any mating ceremony. It always annoyed me wherever he said that I did not have control over my body.

To be honest, he was right. Moon was like a part of me, apart from me. Ever since we had mated with each other, that missing part in both of us, that hollow was filled with love. As my mother had told us, we did not go back to her cabin to meet her. I knew she must have her own reasons to keep me apart from her. Otherwise, which mother would separate herself from her children.

I was so drowned into my thoughts that I did not realize when our training was over. Zeus pulled me out of my thoughts when he snapped his fingers in front of my eyes. I looked at him with a questioning look on my face. He chuckled and shook his head. My cheeks burned as I knew Zeus had caught me dozing off. He gave me a bottle of water and I downed its cold content in one go. I was more than thirsty. Zeus was so tough with the whole training thing. He said he needs to teach me everything he knows. I did not argue, as I knew he was doing everything for my safety.

Moon came towards me as his training was over as well. I was sitting on a bench. He knelt down on the ground in front of me. He cupped my face and captured my lips in a loving kiss. As I tasted his mouth again, all my tiredness vanished away. It felt like I had taken an energy drink or something that boosted up my energy.

Zeus: Yo lovers! Go somewhere else and have your moments together. Do not get started out here.

Alpha Zeus said in an annoyed tone and threw a bottle of water towards Moon. Without even looking at the bottle, Moon caught the bottle. Moon grinned as Alpha Zeus rolled his eyes in annoyance. Moon chuckled and went away mumbling some curses.

Ocean: Why is he like this? I can not believe that a handsome person like Alpha Zeus had not found his mate yet.

I asked Moon and he shook his head. But his fun mood was long gone and a serious Moon was sitting in front of me. He sighed and cupped my face again.

Moon: Never ask him that question. He is my brother and I know him very well. He will not be happy at first. And second, you know nothing, what kind of devil my brother really is. Never in my life I want you to see that devil. Tell me Ocean, will you do me this favor?

Moon replied with the most serious face I have ever seen in the two years I had spent with Moon. I gave him my cheeky smile and nodded my head. He then smiled and pecked my forehead.

We stood up and Moon grabbed my hand. He pulled me into the mansion. We went to our bedroom and Moon took me to the bathroom. He stripped my clothes off of my body and turned on the hot shower. He pecked my shoulder then left me into the bathroom.

I smiled and washed my body. Hot water soothed my tensed muscles. I knew whatever Alpha Zeus was doing, was for our own good. My mother had told us that we had to be ready for the time when the darkness would unleash itself upon us. Something inside me was screaming that it would be the same darkness that I had been dreaming since childhood. No matter what but I had to be ready before that darkness would engulf the world Moon and I had built together.

I wrapped a towel around my body and stepped out of the shower. I looked into the mirror. My arms that were bruised because of the hard training I was having were healed fully. It was like they were never on my arms. Being a supernatural creature is way cooler than I had fantasized it while reading stories and myths.

I stepped out of the bathroom and Moon went in. As always, before I was inside the closet, Moon had already done bathing. He stepped into the closet with me. I rolled my eyes seeing his show off. He chuckled and helped me wear my clothes. He never stopped caring for me. Even with those powers, Moon was always around me. He would not let me leave the mansion alone. He was possessive and he was very caring towards the people he loved the most.

Once done he wore his clothes then he pulled me out of our bedroom. He pulled me towards the kitchen. My stomach growled as I inhaled the aroma of the strawberry pie. Moon chuckled softly and shook his head. We both froze into our tracks as we captured the scent of an unknown person inside the mansion. Vixen was fully awake inside me and was ready to leash out any second. While Moon's eyes glowed red and his fangs and claws grew bigger. We both stepped into the kitchen and got shocked seeing that unknown person we had caught the scent of.

Alpha Zeus: Ah! Moon and Ocean are here. Moon, meet your grandfather, Vincent Redford.

Alpha Zeus said in a calm tone while both me and Moon were frozen like ice. It was him. The same person who had brought Moon to my mother.

CHAPTER 34 .

MOON'S POV:-

It took me a moment to change my clothes. I then grabbed Ocean's hand and pulled her out of our bedroom. We walked towards the kitchen together, hand in hand. I heard the sound of her stomach growling as she inhaled the aroma of the strawberry pie ma had baked for her. I chuckled softly and shook my head seeing how cute she was. We both froze into our tracks as we captured the scent of an unknown person inside the mansion. I sniffed the air twice then my eyes glowed red and my fangs and claws grew bigger. I pushed Ocean behind me and both of us stepped into the kitchen. Seeing that unknown man inside our mansion my eyes widened in shock. I looked at Zeus who was talking with that man. Zeus looked at us and smiled while standing up.

Alpha Zeus: Ah! Moon and Ocean are here. Moon, meet your grandfather, Vincent Redford.

Alpha Zeus said in a calm tone while both me and Ocean were glued to the ground. I remembered him. It was really him. It was the same person that brought me to Vivian. And she saved my life. Of course, Zeus had already told us that he would visit us soon. I did not think it would be this much sooner.

My grandfather stood up and came to me. I was both happy and nervous at the same time. Happy because I finally got the chance to meet someone with my own blood. And nervous because I knew nothing about my bloodline and our traditions. My palms were getting sweaty. I finally understood what Ocean felt when we went to Vivian. Of course, that feeling of meeting those who share the same blood and the same DNA as yours, for the first time, it's something that can never be defined with words. It was both a magical and joyful moment of my life.

He stood in front of me and looked at me from head to toe. A satisfied smile made its way to his lips as he grabbed both of my shoulders and pulled me in a fatherly hug. What I felt was my shoulder getting wet, it was his tears that started soaking my shoulder. Tears of joy. Tears of reunion. He was patting my back in a proud full way. He broke the hug and I saw emotions dancing in his green eyes. His eyes made me think like I was looking into a mirror that shows the future. Like I was looking at my older self.

Vincent Redford: Look at you. It almost feels like yesterday when your mother was in labour and I heard your sweet melodious voice for the first time. Now look at you. You are a fully grown man standing in front of your old grandfather.

My grandfather said with teary eyes. Hearing him, my eyes also filled with salty water. He cupped my face with both of his hands and wiped my tears with the pads of his thumbs. He patted my cheek then turned to look at ma and pa.

Vincent Redford: Mr and Mrs Kart, I can never thank you enough for taking care of my Moon. To give him the family that was snatched away from him when he was born. I know, I would never have given him anything that you have given him. Don't think that I am here to take him away. He is part of your family. I just want to see my grandson sometimes whenever I feel lonely. I don't have anyone in my family except for him.

My grandfather said with a shaky voice that hinted how broken and weak he had become. I knew the person who had taken me to Vivian was a strong man. But this man was both weak and broken. I could not blame him. He had lost his child. I could not imagine his pain. Pain of losing someone precious. I could see how much he had suffered because of that old bastard. I did not know what to do. I also knew that he was Ocean's biological father. And I did not have courage to ask her what she thought of her demon father.

Maria: Moon is equally yours as he is ours Mr Redford. He is your blood. You can come here anytime to see your grandson.

Ma said in a calmed tone and my grandfather nodded his head.

Darek: Moon and Zeus are equal for us. As we think of Zeus, Moon is exactly the same for us.

Pa said while patting the back of Zeus. Zeus chuckled softly and shook his head.

Alpha Zeus: Well, to be honest, Moon is more important for all of us in this family than any of us.

Zeus said and my grandfather nodded his head. In all our chats we actually forgot about Ocean. She was standing in the corner of the kitchen. I turned to look at her with a frown on my face when I smelled fear. In a blink of an eye, I was standing beside her. I rubbed her back that made her look at me. It was like she had seen a ghost in front of her. I was sure Ocean could never be afraid of my grandfather. I did not understand why she behaved like that. I whispered her name softly and that was when she looked at me.

It felt like I had woken her up from a dream. More like a nightmare she was having. She looked at all of our faces for a good minute then she took a few steps backwards. Before I could grab her hand to stop her, she ran away from the kitchen, leaving us all shocked with her puzzled behavior.

Vincent Redford: I think she did not like me. Or else she would not run away like this.

My grandfather said in a disappointed tone. He was sad because of Ocean's behavior. I almost felt angry at her for doing something so stupid. Before I could go out and mess everything up between us, Zeus stopped me. I looked at him and he shook his head.

Alpha Zeus: You stay with your grandfather. He is here to meet you, Moon. Let me go and talk to her. I am sure there must be a reason behind her inappropriate behavior. You know her well, she never does that.

Zeus said to me in a worried tone. I nodded my head and went back to my grandfather. Zeus excused himself and went after Ocean to find out the reason behind her childish behavior.

CHAPTER 35

OCEAN'S POV:-

I looked at his grandfather. I recognized him. He came to Moon and pulled him in a bear hug. I was also happy seeing my Moon. He was happy and that was what mattered. But suddenly, the world around me started spinning and then everything went dark.

I opened my eyes again and found myself lying on the dusty ground. I sat up and looked around. It was the darker part of the forest. The same place where I had met my mother. I stood up and found Vixen sitting on the ground as well. I frowned because I knew only one of us could be out at a time. But seeing her out as well made me think if everything was fine.

Ocean: I thought either you would be out or me?

I asked her in a questioning voice. Vixen stood up and shook her head.

Vixen: Now we are never going to be together. Everything is finished. He did that all. He destroyed everything. And we were not able to stop him.

She replied with teary eyes. I patted her head and we both hugged each other.

Ocean: What do you mean? Who did it? Who destroyed everything?

I asked her while my eyes roamed around. I could see the destruction around me. Everything was fully trashed. Like a monster had leveled up the whole forest. The trees were down. The few were standing at their places but they were on fire.

Vixen: Our Moon did that. We were not able to stop him. Valtor was the one who killed us. After that, nobody was able to control Moon. He destroyed everything.

She replied and I quickly broke the hug to look into her eyes.

Ocean: What do you mean by he killed us?

I asked Vixen in a shocked tone. She narrowed her eyes then a few more tears escaped her eyes.

Vixen: Moon, he could not control the monster inside him. He had the bigger demon inside him. We were not able to see that demon. And when the time came, we were not able to control him. You were trying so hard to stop him but in the end, Valtor slit your throat like you were nothing but a goat for him.

She replied with a shaky voice. I clapped my hand over my mouth. I could not help but think what made Moon's monster lash out like that. As far as I knew, Moon's monster was in his control.

Ocean: But he would never do that. He would never become a monster. I have been with him. He is more loving than anyone I have ever met. He cared for me more than my dad ever did.

I replied but Vixen shook her head. Between my sobs, I realized that Vixen started to get blurry. I then realized that she started to fade away. I sat beside her and tried to hug her again but I only got fog that was left behind Vixen.

I then stood up and started running into the direction where my mother's cabin was. It took me a while to reach my mother's cabin. I opened the door and quickly ran inside. Then I saw him, he was sitting on the couch with the same devilish smirk on his face that I had always seen in my nightmares. Then I heard a loud scream followed by loud sobs.

Valtor Redford: Bring her down, my pet. Do not dare to touch her. She is mine. I am the only one who can hurt her. No one had any rights over her.

He said in his monstrous voice that sent chills to my spine. The sobs became louder. Then I saw what Vixen was trying to tell me. Moon came into that room. He was dragging my mother with him. She was wounded. She was screaming and was crying for someone to help her. But she was all alone.

Vivian: Moon, for God's sake, just stop. How many people have to die before you come back to your senses. He killed your Ocean right in front of you but you did not do anything. How can you do that? How can you let him kill her? I trusted you because I thought you love her more than I could ever love her. But I was wrong. In the end, you became his pet.

My mother said and tears started flowing freely from my eyes.

Valtor Redford: You can not imagine. It was easier than I thought. I thought he would give me a hard time but instead, he actually came to me, asking for help. No no, he was actually begging me.

He said with that same smirk on his face. I went to Moon. I stood in front of him. His eyes were pitch black. He looked like a walking dead. He was covered in blood from head to toe. His face looked different, like he was a deadly monster.

Valtor Redford: What he did not know, I was the one who killed his grandfather and Ocean, not those stinky creature, Alpha Zeus. Now you will forever be my pet. Who will save you from me now?

He said and grabbed my mother's neck. He was choking her. I ran towards my mother and tried to help her but instead I felt someone's hand on my back. Before I could see who it was, the darkness engulfed me again.

I felt like I was awoken by someone from a nightmare. Moon was standing behind me. He was rubbing my back gently. I was shaking with fear. The fear of the monster I had seen in that nightmare. He was more scary than the monster I had been seeing in my nightmares since my childhood. Moon whispered my name and I looked around. I then looked back at him. He had a soft smile on his face. But still his face reminded me of that monster.

I looked at all of their faces for a good minute then I took a few steps backwards. I could not bear the pressure that was making me gasp for air. Like I was drowning into the ocean and my lungs were burning for oxygen. Moon tried to grab my hand to stop me but I ran away from the kitchen. Everything I had seen into that nightmare, it was playing inside my head like a film. I just wanted to run away so I would be able to keep myself safe.

I went to the garden and sat beside the huge tree. I hugged my knees tightly and started sobbing. I shut my eyes and asked my God to give me back my mom and dad. It was just too much for me to handle. I was happy with my life with my parents. I was happy in New York. I wanted to go back into that world and forget about everything.

OCEAN'S POV:-

I sensed someone around. That was when I looked up. It was alpha Zeus. He sat beside me and patted my head like a big brother.

Alpha Zeus: What is wrong? First you ran away like you did not like Redford and now you are crying like a baby. I know something is wrong with you. Tell me what is it?

He asked me in a worried tone. I could not stop myself anymore. I broke into sobs and started telling him everything. I told him that I was happy but everything changed as I had that nightmare. I told him everything I had seen in that nightmare. By the end of the whole story, my hiccups were nowhere to stop. My sobs became louder.

Alpha Zeus: Your job is done here, Ocean. Leave the rest upon me. Go back inside and tell everyone that you had a horrible vision and because of that you ran out. Trust me, I will do everything to keep you and Moon safe. Will you trust me, little sister?

He asked me and I nodded my head. I wiped my tears off of my face and forced a small smile on my face.

Alpha Zeus: That's the strong she-wolf I know. Now go back in and don't tell anyone what you saw. Are we understood?

He asked me again and I again nodded my head. I stood up and went back inside.

Derek: Ah! There she is. She is back. Come here sweetie.

Derek said in a loving tone. I smiled cheekily and stepped into the kitchen. But instead of going to Derek, I went towards Master Redford.

Ocean: I apologise for my behavior earlier. I had a vision that made me behave rudely. Will you forgive me Master Redford?

I asked him with a puppy face I always made whenever I would apologise to anyone. He laughed out loud seeing my puppy face then he stood up. He pulled me in a fatherly hug.

Master Redford: who will not forgive such a cute little thing. Of course I will forgive you, but on one condition.

He replied to me and I frowned. He broke the hug and I gave him a confused look.

Ocean: What is the condition?

I asked him in a low tone. He chuckled and patted my head.

Master Redford: The condition is, you will never call me Master Redford again. From now on, like Moon, you will call me Gramps.

He replied to me and I sighed in relief. I smiled cheekily then nodded my head. In all that, I actually forgot about my stomach that was still empty. My stomach growled loudly, reminding me of my hunger. Maria chuckled softly and came to me. She grabbed my hand and pulled me towards the dining hall. Everyone followed us behind. We all took our seats. Like always, Maria served me first. But of course, I was not ill-mannered. I waited for everyone. As Derek took his first bite, we all started digging in from our plates.

A WEEK LATER:-

I was walking back and forth into our bedroom. I was waiting for Moon who had not come back home. Our lives had changed a lot after Moon's grandfather had visited us. As Alpha Zeus was busy with his work of managing the whole territory, Moon decided to jump into the business so Derek would also get some rest. Moon said it was their time to enjoy their lives and be with each other. He was right. I did not step into his decision. I supported him and helped him with everything.

But that day, I was more than scared. I did not know what to do. When I came to know which day it was, I panicked. Alpha Zeus was not around either, he went back. Derek and Maria were not home either. They were on vacations, more like a second honeymoon they did not get a chance to have. I and Moon were all alone in that mansion. I called Moon to come back home immediately.

He tried to calm me down but I was all panicked. He sighed and said that he would be home in an hour. It had been almost an hour but he did not come home. I was about to dial him again when I heard him honking the horn of his car. He parked the car in front of the door and stepped into the mansion. I ran to him and hugged him tightly. I started sobbing as he wrapped his arms around me.

Moon: Ocean, babe, why are you crying? Tell me, what is it? Is everything okay?

He asked me in a worried tone. We walked together towards the living room with our arms still wrapped around each other. He sat on one of the couches then he pulled me onto his lap. He wiped my tears with the pad of his thumb then he pecked my forehead lovingly. His warmth and his scent calmed my nerves a bit. But that panic was still buzzing like an alarm inside my head

Moon: Come on, tell me what is it? There must be something bothering you. Otherwise you would never call me like this. Tell me, so I can help you with your problem.

He asked me in his honey sweet tone that he always used with me whenever I am crying. I sniffed then rested my head on his shoulder.

Ocean: Do you know what day is today?

I whispered softly and he looked at me. He frowned hearing my question. He kept quiet for a good minute then he shook his head.

Moon: It's Friday, why? What happened?

He replied and I sniffed again. I buried my face in the crock of his neck.

Ocean: And what was on Friday, Moon?

I asked him and broke the hug. He looked into my eyes and tried to remember. Then it hit him. He remembered the reason behind my panic. His eyes widened as it hit him.

Moon: Oh shit! I forgot and now we are doomed. It's your first full moon.

He replied in a tone that hinted his panic as well.

CHAPTER 37

OCEAN'S POV:-

Moon: Oh shit! I forgot and now we are doomed. It's your first full moon.

He replied in a tone that hinted his panic as well. Moon grabbed my hand and took me to our bedroom. He pulled his phone out of his pocket and dialled someone.

Ocean: I have tried to call them. No one picked up. I am so worried about you, Moon. I don't want to hurt you.

I said in a sad tone. While my voice cracked at the word hurt. I was so afraid, I did not want to hurt him. Moon quickly put the phone aside and came to me. He grabbed my hand and pecked my knuckles.

Moon: The only Moon that affects you, is your Moon. And I know you will be able to control it. I know we can do that. We need to be strong.

He said and I nodded my head. He wiped my tears and pecked my forehead lovingly. His minty fresh breath calmed my nerves a bit. He pulled me onto his lap and I hugged him tightly.

Moon: I can remember the time when I was revolving. You did not leave me for a second. You were beside me all the time. You even bore my rude behavior. But you did not leave me alone.

He whispered in my ear and I felt something funny in the pit of my stomach. I could not help but break the hug. I looked into his eyes then I stared at his lips. He smirked mischievously and grabbed the back of my neck. I shut my eyes as he came close to me. He crashed his lips on mine. I sucked his lower lip and he chuckled inside my mouth. I pushed my tongue inside his mouth as he parted his lips to let me in.

Taking the full charge, I rubbed my tongue on his. Then he caressed my tongue with his tongue. As the moon started rising, I felt Vixen inside me getting wild and ready to leash out. I broke the kiss as I heard the loud roar of vixen inside my chest.

I looked at Moon who was still smiling. He stood up and gave me his hand. I smiled and accepted it. He pulled me up and his eyes glowed red. He was feeling the same desire for me as I was feeling for him at that moment. He cupped my face with both of his hands and pecked my lips. He then stared into my eyes. As if he was asking permission. I smiled and nodded my head.

He pulled me up in his arms and carried me bridal style. He took me into the bathroom.

Moon: Strip your clothes off. We are bathing together.

He ordered me and I happily obliged. I stripped my clothes off of my body and Moon did the same. He turned on the shower then he pulled me into the shower. The hot water soothed my tensed muscles and it also helped me with my panicked mind. Moon grabbed my hair and leaned over my shoulder. My breath hitched as his warm breath touched my bare shoulder. He placed a soft kiss over my shoulder. He then sucked the skin of my neck and I moaned.

He then turned me around and crashed his lips on mine. This time, he did not let me take the charge. This time, he grazed my lower lip between his teeth. I moaned and he pushed his tongue inside my mouth. I felt dizzy as I tasted his mouth. He caressed my tongue and I was just enjoying everything.

He broke the kiss and I looked at him. He had a smirk plastered on his face. He helped me shower and I did the same for him. As the moon went up, my eyes glowed. I started breathing heavily as I felt Vixen clawing inside my chest.

I moaned loudly as I felt my Moon teasing my clitoris. He rubbed his finger in my pussy then he pushed it inside my wet core. I threw my head back as the lust for him rose inside me. Once my center was wet enough, he pulled his finger out and licked his fingers like it was covered with honey. He did not ask me to do anything. His dick was already standing erect in front of my eyes.

Moon: Looks like I don't need anything to be ready for you. The site of your naked body is enough for me to get my little friend excited for you.

Moon whispered in my ear seductively. My cheeks burned hearing him. He then stroked his dick a few times, then he teased my entrance with the head of his dick. I started breathing heavily as my core ached for him to stretch my walls with his dick.

He pushed himself inside me and I held his shoulder to balance myself. The blood lust I was feeling because of the full moon was long gone. The only lust I was feeling into that moment was lust for my mate. I could see his eyes were glowing red and his fangs and claws grew bigger. He was feeling the same lust for me as I was feeling towards him.

Ocean: I love you so much. Please, start moving. I can not take it any longer. I can not wait any longer. Please, fuck me.

I begged him and he chuckled.

Moon: Whatever you say, my queen.

He replied and pulled himself out of my hole. Then he again pushed himself inside, filling me fully. Before we had sex for the first time, I felt like I was empty, like I was missing something. When his dick stretched my walls for the first time and he took my virginity, that feeling faded away. Since then, every time we had sex, I felt myself complete. Like my missing part is connected to me. Like we were made for each other.

Moon: Oh baby! You are so tight. You are still so tight. It feels like your walls are squeezing my dick. It feels so good.

Moon whispered in my ear and kept fucking me hard and fast.

Ocean: Moon, I am so close.

I said while breathing heavily.

Moon: Hold it for a while. You can not come without me. Wait for a while.

He replied and I shook my head.

Ocean: I can't. I am so close.

I replied.

Moon: Hold it I said. You can not cum without permission.

He replied with a smirk on his face. I hugged him tightly and held my breath to hold myself. But it was getting impossible. He was teasing my clit and sucking the skin of my neck.

Ocean: Please let me cum, Moon. I can not hold it any longer. Please.

I pleaded to him and he chuckled.

Moon: Do you want it to be more intense than ever?

He asked me and I just nodded my head. My mind was occupied with keeping myself from cumming. I screamed loudly in pleasure as he dug his fangs into my neck. He started sucking my blood and I felt the most intense pleasure I had ever felt before. His dick became more hard inside me, hinting that he was close as well.

Moon: Now, Ocean. Cum for me.

He said and I let go. Moaning his name loudly, I came hard. He also growled loudly and unloaded his warm seed inside me. Once he pulled himself out I felt myself exhausted. He chuckled and carried me bridal style. He kept me inside the shower for a while. As both of our bodies were cleaned, he turned off the shower and took me back into the bedroom. He dried my body and my hair. Then he laid me down on the bed and covered my body with the comforter.

He dried his body and hair as well then laid beside me. He sneaked an arm around my waist and pulled me closer to him. We cuddled with each other and I soon slipped into my dream land.

OCEAN'S POV:-

I opened my eyes again and found myself lying near to the lake. I went to the lake and looked at my reflection. I could see Vixen in the water. She had a satisfied smile on her face. Seeing her smiling carelessly, I also smiled and sat on the ground. She came out of the water and laid on the ground beside me. I rested my head on her back and started patting her. Her white fur was so soft for my palms. I hugged her like I was hugging my sister.

Vivian: Perhaps, she is your sister, my dear Ocean.

I heard my mother's voice and quickly turned around. As my eyes fell on her, I stood up and ran towards her. I jumped on her and hugged her tightly. She giggled and rubbed my back lovingly.

Ocean: You have no idea. I was dying to meet you. I have had the most horrible nightmare of my life, mama.

I replied to her while sobbing quietly.

Vivian: Shh... I know everything. Whatever you have seen, it was for your own good. Now that you have told everything to Alpha Zeus, he will find a way out. He will save your Moon.

She cooed me and kept rubbing my back.

Ocean: I know, he has been around you. Has he hurt you? What does he want from you? I'm talking about my father.

I asked her in a worried tone. She broke the hug and took me near the lake. We both sat down on the ground and I hugged her tightly.

Vivian: He wants what you both have. You have to promise me that you will never give up. You are his strength. Moon only depends upon you. You have to be with him till this all will end. Promise me, you will never leave him alone.

She asked me and I nodded my head.

Ocean: I will never. I promise, I will be with him till the last breath I will take. But you have to promise me something as well. You have to promise me that you will take care of yourself and will call us if he would come to hurt you.

I asked her and she also tightened her hold around me.

Vivian: I promise my dear. I will call you if he would come to hurt me.

She promised back and I sighed in relief. She then stood up and went away. I again hugged Vixen again.

Ocean: How is it possible? How come we survived our full moon that easily. And that too our first full moon.

I asked Vixen in a curious tone. She wrapped her tail around my neck as if she was protecting me from cold. Her warm fur helped me survive the chilly weather.

Vixen: Our bond is powerful and the lust between us and our mate was greater than the blood lust all the wolves feel on the full moon. His passion became our shield and it protected us from leashing out. Or hurt our mate like a newly born wolf. We might have met each other a bit late but we have been together ever since our birth.

She replied and I nodded my head.

Ocean: Will you be with me and protect our mate like he had protected us last night?

I asked her and she nodded her head with a huge smile on her face.

Vixen: Of course I will. We will fight Valtor together and we will do everything we can to save Moon. I promise, I am with you.

She replied and I pecked her back.

Ocean: Thank you, Vixen.

I thanked her and she nodded her head. Then we both closed our eyes. Cuddling with each other, we both fell asleep.

MOON'S POV:-

I woke up in the morning and looked at my mate who was smiling while dreaming. Seeing her peaceful smile, I could not help but stare at her. I rested my elbow on my pillow and my head was rested on my hand. I chuckled when I remembered our steamy shower together. She frowned little as I chuckled a little louder. She slowly opened her eyes and looked at me. She smiled and opened her arms for me. I leaned in and hugged her tightly. I buried my face in the crook of her neck and inhaled her sweet vanilla scent deeply. She giggled as I rubbed the tip of my nose with her neck.

Ocean: Stop it. You are tickling me.

She said with giggling. I always loved to hear her giggles. They were more melodious than any music in this world. I sat up on the bed and pulled her onto my lap. She rested her head on my chest and I wrapped my arms around her tightly.

Moon: I can still remember the first time I saw you. That day, I thought I would never be able to meet you again. Now look at us. We are mates and we cuddle with each other every night.

I said and she giggled. She was very shy since she had woken up. I pinched her chin lightly and guided her gaze towards mine.

Moon: What is it? Talk to me. Why are you not saying anything? You never felt shy around me.

I asked her in a worried tone and she shook her head with a smile on her beautiful face. She leaned up and cupped my chiseled face by her soft and fragile hand. She first pecked my lips then she sucked my lower lip. She then broke the kiss and looked into my eyes like she could see her dream land in my eyes.

Ocean: Last night was magical. I will never forget it. Now that we are mates, no one will ever be able to separate us, ever.

She replied in a cute dreamy tone that made me feel something warm inside my chest. She was not just cute, she was more than adorable. And I promised myself to adore her for the rest of my life. Every time I saw her beautiful and adorable face, it just made me feel how lucky I was.

I grabbed her hips and with an easy swing, I was on top of her. I pinned her on bed and leaned in, to bite her again and drink her blood. Usually, us vampires never liked a wolf around us. But Ocean was different. The taste of her blood was sweet and it smelled like a fresh vanilla cake. My fangs grew bigger and she held her breath. She knew it would be pleasurable for her as well.

As I was about to bite her, we both heard a loud thud along with a painful cry. Ocean and I both recognized that voice. We both hopped off of the bed. My claws grew bigger and I ran towards the door. In all that, I totally forgot that Ocean did not follow me.

I reached the garden of our mansion and quickly went towards my grandfather who was lying on the ground. He was badly wounded, like he was in a fight. He opened his eyes and tried to say something to me but he lost consciousness. I looked around and understood what he was trying to tell me. About fifty vampires were standing in my garden, ready to attack me and tear me into pieces. I gritted my teeth seeing them invading my territory.

MOON'S POV:-

I reached the garden of our mansion and quickly went towards my grandfather who was lying on the ground. He was badly wounded, like he was in a fight. He opened his eyes and tried to say something to me but he lost consciousness. I looked around and understood what he was trying to tell me. About fifty vampires were standing in my garden, ready to attack me and tear me into pieces. I gritted my teeth seeing them invading my territory.

Moon: You must be new around, or you would never have invaded Alpha Zeus' territory. I give you a chance to get your useless asses out of my territory. If anyone stays, I will tear them apart like a piece of paper.

I threatened them and they all started laughing. I smirked knowing what the future holds for them all.

A newborn vampire: Master Valtor ordered to kill the old man. He wants this one alive. He will be our Master's pet soon. Keep your target at the old vamp.

A newly born vampire ordered the other baby vampires and they all nodded their heads. I was ready to fight them but I was worried about my grandfather. I did not want to lose him like I had lost my parents. Ma and pa were my parents but I had a hole inside my heart and that belonged to my biological parents.

As they were about lunged themselves at me all together, we all heard an ear piercing howl. I looked up and smirked mischievously. I saw Vixen standing in front of me. She had the head of a dead vampire in her jaws. She came running towards me and spitted the head in front of all the vampires. They all looked at vixen with their eyes widened and their jaws on the floor.

A newborn vampire: You killed him. You will pay for it, creature. I will bring the hell down on you.

He roared at Vixen and ordered one of the vampires on his left to attack Vixen. I was about to move, to kill him first until I heard Ocean inside my heart.

Ocean: No, Moon. Let me teach him a lesson. He belongs to Vixen.

I chuckled hearing my strawberry sweet Ocean talking about killing a vampire. I wrapped my arms above my chest. That vampire reached to Vixen but with a single swing of her paw, she separated his head from his body. I was kinda impressed with her actions. She was wild and it made me feel proud. That my mate was more brave than me.

After killing that vampire, she howled again. This time louder than the last time.

A newborn vampire: What are you all waiting for? Kill her and the old man.

He roared at his vampires and they all nodded their heads. We then heard another howl. It was not Vixen's howl. I looked at the gates of the mansion and found Zeus in his wolf form. Vivian was standing behind him. He howled again and Vivian and Ocean bowed their heads in front of him, showing respect for their Alpha. Zeus came to me and stood beside me. He held his paw up for me and I bumped my fist with his paw.

Just as we were about to attack them, Vixen howled again and in a few minutes all vampires were lying dead on the ground. Both me and Zeus were looking at her with our mouths agape and wide eyes. She turned towards us and we both saw a mischievous grin on her face. I chuckled and in a moment I was beside her. I grabbed her face and kissed her in her wolf form.

Zeus opened the door of a room and Vixen stepped inside the room. She had my grandfather on her back. She made him lie on bed then she went away. I knew she went back to our bedroom to wear her clothes. Vivian went to my grandfather and looked at his wounds. She then started chanting a spell again and again. At first, nothing happened but in a minute or two, I saw his wounds vanishing. Vivian was really powerful. But I just did not understand why she was wearing a mask and a hooded cape. I only recognized her because of her scent.

Ocean wrapped her arms around me from behind and I smiled. She pecked my back and I taped my finger on her arm. Her arms were still wrapped around my waist but she came beside me. I kissed the top of her head and she gave me her cheeky smile. I always loved to see her deep dimples whenever she smiled.

Vivian: Master Redford will recover soon. He needs rest. He will be fine soon.

Vivian said and I sighed in relief.

Ocean: Why are you wearing all this stuff. Don't worry, no one will hurt you here, mother.

Ocean said in a humorous tone. Vivian and Zeus exchanged looks. She then sighed and took off her mask. As she undid her cape, Ocean's jaw dropped on the ground.

Moon: Holly mother of Jesus Christ. What is going on here?

I yelled loudly and Zeus started laughing hysterically. I and Ocean, both glared at him and he clapped his hands on his mouth.

Vivian: It was a gift from your evil father. I am sorry, my baby. I did not want you to see this but I just could not do anything against the Alpha's orders. He ordered me to come here.

She replied and I rolled my eyes. Ocean looked at Zeus and nodded her head. But I was still in shock. Vivian was standing in front of me but it was like I was looking at Ocean. She was young. She looked even younger than Ocean.

Moon: What did he do to you? You look like, you are Ocean's twin sister, or her younger sister.

I said in a shocked tone and Ocean giggled hearing my shocked question. She came to me and pecked my cheek.

Vivian: The war has started, Moon. And none of us knows how to kill that evil vampire.

Vivian said in a sad tone and Ocean hugged my arm tightly. As if she was afraid of losing me.

Derek: Who said no one knows how to defeat him, Viv. I know someone who can help us. But only Zeus can go to her and ask her the only way to kill that bastard.

Pa said from behind and we all turned to look at them. Ma and pa both came back at the time when we needed them both.

CHAPTER 40

THIRD PERSON'S POV:-

Zeus was standing in front of the cabin his father had told him about. He smirked and stepped into the cabin. According to Derek, there was only one person who knew how to kill Ocean's evil father, Valtor. And that was an enchantress who was twice more powerful than Vivian. But Zeus was not sure why Derek did not tell him her name.

A wolf who was standing outside of a room where that enchantress was, stopped Zeus. Zeus glared at him as he did not show any respect for the Alpha.

Young wolf: Pardon me, Alpha. But you are not our alpha. We only obey our mistress. If you want to go inside and meet her, you should get into the line and wait for your turn.

A young wolf said to Zeus in a very disrespectful way. Zeus would have fumed in anger and would have beheaded him. But he was worried about his brother and his family. He knew Valtor would take any chance he would get to destroy everything and make his baby brother Moon, a puppet.

Zeus just glared at the young wolf and went away. He went into the line and waited for his turn. After what it felt like eternity, but in reality, five hours later. The young wolf called Zeus that he was now allowed to meet the enchantress.

Zeus entered her room and he cursed under his breath as his eyes fell on the most powerful enchantress. Enchantress Hellenora.

Hellenora: Welcome, Alpha Zeus. We finally met again. I have been waiting for you.

She said in a taunting tone that made Zeus grit his teeth in anger. But he again controlled himself. He had a family to save from an evil vampire. And Ocean had already told him what would happen if Zeus did not find a way to kill Valtor.

Alpha Zeus: So that was the reason why pa did not tell me your name, Hellenora. How are you?

Alpha Zeus replied in a sarcastic tone. He poured his anger into his words. He was not visiting Hellenora for a fight. But to find some answers he was looking for.

Hellenora: I am fine, Alpha Zeus. You look fine as well. How come a man like you is fine? How could it happen even after whatever you have done?

Hellenora asked Zeus who balled his fists to control his anger. Zeus took a deep breath to calm himself down. He then went towards the couch that was set in front of the couch, Hellenora was sitting on.

Alpha Zeus: Look, Hellenora. I am not here to pick up a fight. I know you are angry at me. But right now, I don't care about anything. I am here to ask you about the only way you know to kill Valtor.

Hearing Valtor's name, Hellenora dropped her sarcastic behavior and signalled Zeus to carry on. Zeus nodded his head and comfortably sat on the couch.

Alpha Zeus: As I told you, I want to know how to kill Valtor. He is back and the only way to stop all the destruction he is here for, is to kill him. And pa said only you know how to kill him. So tell me, what is that way?

Zeus asked Hellenora and she raised a brow at him. She was pissed at him for everything he had done. And she knew it was time to make him pay for his sins. She also knew, even if Valtor destroyed Zeus' territory, she would kill Valtor later. Even Derek knew that. That was why he sent Zeus to Hellenora.

Hellenora: Hold on a second, Alpha Zeus. Why are you in a hurry?

Hellenora asked him in a calmed tone that made Zeus' blood boil in anger.

Alpha Zeus: You know if he gets his hands on Moon, even you will not be able to stop him. So how about you start telling me everything you know.

This time Zeus was the one who used a sarcastic tone. But hearing his tone and his threatening words, Hellenora could not help but laugh out loud. As it was nothing but a joke for her.

Hellenora: You and I both know. Not Valtor, not even your brother or them both together stand a chance against me. My hatred is much bigger than the problem you are here to explain to me.

She replied once her laughter fits, subsided. Zeus understood the reason behind her sarcastic tone and her carelessness. She was still pissed at him. He sighed and stood up. He knew he would not be able to look into her eyes while apologising to her for his sins.

Alpha Zeus: I know why are you doing all that? Look, I am not also proud of whatever I had done in the past. I am guilty and I am sorry. You just can not punish my family and an innocent, newly mated couple for the crimes and sins I had committed in the past.

Zeus apologized to her in a low guilty tone. He was not lying. It was true. He was not pleased with the fact that he had committed crimes that even the devil would be ashamed of his deeds. But he could not change what was done. Of course Zeus wished to change it all but he knew there was no way to do so. Hellenora also stood up from her couch in anger when she heard Zeus' meaningless apologies.

Hellenora: Just like that, huh! You think, you will apologise to me for everything you have done to an innocent girl who was just seeking love, and I would forgive you for your sins. Not happening that easily Alpha. You have to try harder to convince me to help you.

Hellenora replied to Zeus angrily. She folded her arms above her chest and waited for his reply.

Alpha Zeus: So what do you want? Do you want me to jump into the volcano? Or are you waiting for me to skin myself alive and in front of my whole territory? Tell me what do you want from me? You know very well, that I would do anything to save my baby brother and my family.

Zeus asked her angrily and she smirked. That was the very moment she had been waiting for. Ever since Zeus had hurt that pure soul, Hellenora had been waiting for that day to come when Zeus would do anything, Hellenora would ask him to do.

Hellenora: I have been waiting for this moment. Now we can discuss your punishment. I will tell you everything and would give you a way to kill Valtor. But in return, you have to give up on everything you have. You will be nothing but a lonely, scared and powerless wolf. So tell me Zeus, what would it be? Your ego, or your family? You as Alpha, or your baby brother, Moon? The choice is yours. Don't worry, I will give you some time to think, thoroughly. You have twenty four hours to think about it. If you have made a decision, you can come over and we can have this deal sealed with our blood.

She asked him and Alpha Zeus kept staring at her with wide eyes and mouth agape. He was out of words. He did not know what to do or say. He did not look at her. He stepped out of her cabin and hopped into his car to go back home.

THIRD PERSON'S POV:-

Zeus stopped his car into his mansion's garage and stepped out of the car. He went towards the garden where Vivian was waiting for Zeus. As she saw Zeus, she stood up and bowed her head in respect. Zeus could not help but chuckle. He sat down on one of the benches in the garden. Vivian also took her seat beside Zeus.

Vivian: Pardon me, my Alpha. But did you get it?

Vivian could not control her curiosity anymore. She asked Zeus when he did not tell her anything. Hearing her question, Zeus started laughing hysterically. He was staring at the sky blankly. He shook his head once his laughter subsided.

Alpha Zeus: She did not tell me a thing. Hellenora wants revenge. She wants to take away everything I have in exchange for the information we are seeking. She is burning in rage. There is nothing we can do to make her forget about everything.

Alpha Zeus replied and stood up. Vivian wanted to stop him but she did not. She wanted him to make his decision. And she knew she had to be patient.

Zeus on the other side, he stepped into the mansion. He was drowned into his thoughts that he did not even sense his worried parents and brother. Without looking at any of his family members, he went upstairs, towards his bedroom.

Zeus had his bedroom into the mansion but he had not stepped into that room for half a decade. He opened the door of his bedroom and stepped inside. He shut the door behind. He did not want anyone to disturb him. He wanted to be alone. He went to his closet and opened the door.

As the door opened, he heard that same girlish giggle. The same giggle that used to be ear piercing for him years ago. But all he could do was just to crave for that giggle to reach his ears again. But it was long gone. And he knew there was no way he could get it all back.

FLASH BACK:-

Zeus opened the door of his bedroom. He looked around but it seemed like no one was around. He sighed and ran his fingers through his hair annoyingly.

Zeus: Dabria, come out. This is not funny.

Zeus called while he looked around into his room. He smirked mischievously as he heard a girl-ish giggle again. He knew where it came from. But he decided to play along.

Zeus: Oh Dabria, if you did not come out now, I will ask your father to keep you at home for two days.

Zeus threatened her as he sat on the edge of his bed. The door of the closet swung open and a cute girl stepped out. She had a horrific expression on her beautiful face. She went to Zeus and sat on the ground. She rested her head onto his lap and wrapped her fragile arms around his strong and long leg.

Dabria: Please, tell me you will not do that. You know, he would listen to you. Please, don't do that. I promise, I will not do anything to trouble you.

She said in a pleading tone while her betraying tears again betrayed her. Her tears started flowing freely from her big blue eyes. She tried to keep her voice as low as possible but Zeus was a werewolf. He heard her sobbing loud and clear. He pinched her chin lightly and guided her gaze towards his.

Zeus: It's your fault. You did it, now you have to be ready for the consequences. I just told you your punishment. You will stay at that palace for two days. You can not come here.

He replied and she shook her head. She was stubborn and desperate.

Dabria: No, please. I will do anything you would ask me to do. But please don't tell my father. I will be nice from now on.

She pleaded to him but he was enjoying her pleads. It always gave him some sort of pleasure he could not have with fight or food or sex. Dominating her gave him a pleasure that was incomparable to any other pleasures in the whole world.

He scratched his chin for a minute as if he was thinking of something.

Zeus: Anything, did you say anything?

He asked her and she nodded her head instantly.

Dabria: Anything you would want me to do. I will not say anything. Please, don't ask my father to keep me into that hell for two days.

She pleaded to him but he was nowhere to melt. As if he had a rock inside his chest. Even the devil would melt down hearing her desperate pleads. As if she was suffering or suffocating.

Zeus: Why do you hate that palace in the first place? Can you not think of it as your palace and you are the princess of that palace?

He asked her and grabbed her hand. He pulled her up and made her sit onto his lap. She quickly wrapped her arms around his waist and rested his head on his bicep.

Dabria: You don't know. I hear her screaming every day and night. She does not let me sleep. The only time I don't hear her is the time when I am here with you.

She replied with a shaky voice. She started shivering in fear. She was very sensitive but Zeus never cared. He never cared how much she cared for him. He never cared if she would be wounded. He would not even care if she would be sick. Even his friends showed mercy on her but Zeus always enjoyed seeing her misery. Like it granted him some sort of strength to see her in a miserable state.

Zeus: How many times do I have to tell you? There is no one in that palace. Why do you tell me the same old stupid story every time you come here?

He asked her angrily. He was annoyed with the topic of this screaming girl she talked about almost every day she visited Kart's mansion.

Dabria: I tell you everything because I know you don't make fun of whatever I tell you. The others think that I am crazy. You know, I am not crazy. You know that, right. You know I don't lie, especially to you.

She replied to him with a shaky voice but this time she was afraid of the wolf she was with. She was hell scared of Zeus. But she just could not help. She felt herself safe around him. But she ignored every time he misbehaved with her or yelled at her or punished her. She did not even cry for ones no matter how hard punishment Zeus would decide for her. She always completed it with a smile on her face.

CHAPTER 42

THIRD PERSON'S POV:-

Zeus closed the door of the closet and went back towards the bed. He sat on the edge of the bed and leaned in. He pulled a box out from under his bed and pulled it upon his bed. He opened the box and emptied it on his bed. It was filled with all her belongings.

All the gifts she had bought for him. The letters she had sent for him. The flowers she had sent for him. He could not help but feel as if someone squeezed his heart as he looked at everything. A tear escaped his eye as he grabbed the cutest little teddy bear she had gifted him.

She gifted that teddy to him on his birthday. She sewed it with her own hands. It took her two days to make him that teddy bear. She gave up her meals and good night sleep just to make a perfect teddy bear for him. She chose his favorite colors. Brown and black. Without any care, she made him that teddy.

Once it was ready, she packed it into a box and wrapped it in a black paper. Then she decorated it with golden ribbons. The ribbons were the exact same color as the eyes of the Zeus wolf, Ares.

She went to Zeus and gave him the box. The smile on her face was so generous. But Zeus, how could he not behave like a total jerk to her. He did not unwrap the paper or ribbons, he tore them apart. Then he opened the box. He pulled out the teddy bear out of the box.

Seeing a cute little teddy bear into his hands, his friend, Harry came to him and started laughing. He snatched the teddy bear from Zeus.

Harry: Aww! I did not know that you still play with teddies, Zeus. Or I would have brought you a teddy bear. A bigger one, not a tiny cockroach like this one.

Harry said and Dabria balled her fists in anger. Zeus snatched the teddy bear away from Harry then put it back into the box it was packed in. He grabbed Dabria by her arm and pulled her towards his bedroom. He pushed her inside his bedroom and locked the door. He came to her and she shivered seeing him so angry.

Zeus: Did you come here to humiliate me? That was your plan, right. Because even a fool would know that I am not a baby who would play with dolls or teddy bears. You brought me this stupid teddy so you can humiliate me in front of my friends.

He yelled at her angrily. But she did not move a muscle. She stood there like a statue. She did not want to make him feel disrespected.

Dabria: No, I did not. You know, I would never do anything to make you feel humiliated in front of your friends. I just wanted you to cheer up after your loss.

She replied with a small smile on her beautiful face. She tried to hold his hand and he pushed her backwards. She fell on the floor. He pulled the teddy bear out of the box and glared at it. Then he threw it on her face and left.

She broke into tears as she grabbed the teddy bear. She brought it to her nose and inhaled its scent. It smelled like Zeus. With teary eyes, a small smile made its way to her pink lips.

Dabria: He did not like you. He did not like you at all. But you smell like him. He did not let me touch him. I don't know why he hates me this much. I swear, I did not do anything. I swear I try to make him smile every day. It's just... maybe I am ugly. That's why he won't even look at me.

She complained to the teddy she had made for him. He did not even look at it. She had worked so hard to make it perfect for him. Crying crazily, she opened the drawer of his bedside table and pulled out a pen and paper. She sat the teddy bear on the bedside table and wiped her tears.

Dabria: I am so sorry, Zeus. I swear, I did not know you would feel humiliated with this teddy. Or I would never have made it for you. I just wanted to cheer you up. I don't know but every time I try to do something to make you look at me once, it all falls into my feet. I mess up everything. I just can't help it. I love you so much. I just want to see you happy. I did not think once and make this stupid teddy bear for you. But your gift is due. I will buy you something you like. I tried to ask you but you never tell me anything. I'm so sorry. I will apologise to all your friends as well. Just please don't be mad at me. You know it kills me when you are mad at me.

Dabria wrote into the letter and grabbed the teddy. She opened the door and stepped out. She made sure no one would notice her. She knew her eyes would be puffy because she was crying. And she did not want Mr and Mrs Kart to be mad at Zeus because of her. She stepped out of the mansion and went towards the dumpster.

Moon: Did he make you cry again, Dabria?

Moon asked her and she looked at him. She forced a small smile on her face and knelt down on the ground.

Dabria: No, he did not. I just did something and he got angry. Promise me, you will not tell that to ma and pa

She asked Moon and he just nodded his head. She smiled and pecked little Moon's cheek.

Dabria: Thank you, Moon.

She thanked him and he cutely nodded his head. He then grabbed the teddy bear she had in her hands.

Moon: Did you buy him a teddy bear?

He asked her while looking at the teddy, dreamy eyes.

Dabria: No, I made it for him. But he did not like it. So I am going to buy him something. It's ugly, that's why Zeus did not like it. Now I don't like it either.

She replied and her tears again betrayed her. Moon wiped her tears with her tiny hands. He then took the teddy from her and hugged it tightly.

Moon: If you don't mind, can I keep it. I like it very much and I don't have any homemade teddy bears.

He asked her and a sob escaped her lips. She nodded her head because she knew her voice and her words would betray her. She opened her arms for him and he hugged her. She looked at the sky with teary eyes.

Dabria: I just don't know how to make him happy. Everything I do, seems to anger him more than the last time. I can die to see him smiling. I can die a thousand deaths just to spend one day as his mate. But I know, he will never accept me. I am ugly and he hates me. I don't know why I love him.

She said all that while hugging Moon. Moon rubbed her back with her tiny hands. He did not know how to console her. His brother was always jerky to her. She broke the hug and stood up.

Dabria: You can keep it if you like it. But please, don't show it to Zeus. He would not like to see it.

She pleaded to little Moon and he just nodded his head. She wiped her tears again and went away. Moon hid the bear inside his shirt and went towards the mansion. He noticed someone standing by the wall. He had tears in his eyes. It was the same man who had called Dabria's teddy a cockroach.

Moon: She is already suffering a lot just to make my brother realize how much she loves him. My brother is blind, will you be blind either after seeing her love. You called it a cockroach while you don't even know that she made it with her own hands. Don't make it even harder for her.

He said and went away while Harry stood there. He was feeling guilty for saying everything without realizing how it would hurt Dabria.

CHAPTER 43

THIRD PERSON'S POV:-

Zeus put the teddy bear back into that box. He then grabbed all the letters she had written for Zeus. He opened a card she had made for him.

Dabria: The best day of my life when I saw you for the first time. You are the sunshine of my life. You are dawn for me. Without you, I am incomplete. You are the only one and you will always be the only one till the last breath I will take. I love you, Zeus. And I can die for you.

That was what she had written into that card. It was her confession card. She confessed her love for him into that card.

Dabria: Zeus, please don't do this to me. I beg you. Don't push me away. I will die if you do that. Why do you hate me so much? Tell me, am I ugly? Is that the reason why you hate me? Please Zeus, you are my hope. Don't take away my hope. Please come back. I will do everything you would ask me. I would even become a slut if you want. But just don't go away.

She wrote that letter to Zeus when he was going to Pennsylvania. She even asked him to take her with him. But he did not. He went away alone. Leaving her in the hell she wanted to run away from.

Zeus heard a knock on his bedroom door. He looked up and found Moon standing. He forced a small smile on his face and nodded his head. With his permission, Moon stepped into the room. He went to Zeus' bed and sat beside him.

Zeus: Do you still hate me for doing all that to Dabria?

Zeus asked his brother as he held the teddy bear in his hands and kept staring at it.

Moon: You hate yourself for doing everything you have done to her. I can not help it, Zeus.

Moon replied in a low tone. Making sure he would not hurt his brother more than he was already hurt.

Zeus: How do you know that I hate myself for everything I did to her?

He asked Moon with a frown on his face.

Moon: It's obvious, brother. You have not stepped into this room ever since she left crying. You kept all those things she had left. You don't even live with us. In all those years, I have found my mate but you don't even look around for yours. I would have denied all this but I am not blind. I can see the way you behave with Ocean. Although you think of her as your sister but her innocent face and her stubbornness reminds you of Debria. Did you think I would not notice that?

Moon replied in an obvious tone and Zeus nodded his head. He sighed and put everything back into the box Debria had left before she went away forever. He pecked the box again and put that back under his bed.

Moon: Listen brother. You don't have to do anything that you don't want to do. We will find another way to defeat that bastard. But please, don't force yourself for me. You are my brother. I will not be happy seeing you unhappy.

Moon said and Zeus nodded his head.

Zeus: It's not just that. I need to do that. I knew one day it would be on my plate. I just did not expect it to be so late. Let's just say, it will ease my pain as well. Let me do it, brother. Maybe not for you but for me. Just promise me, you will take care of Ocean.

He asked Moon and Moon nodded his head. He pulled Moon in a brotherly hug and patted his back. Zeus then broke the hug and stood up. He nodded at Moon then stepped out of the room. He went back to his car, hopped in and drove off.

Zeus stopped his car in front of the cabin of Hellenora and hopped out. He went to the door and knocked it twice. The door opened in a minute and Zeus was invited in. Zeus knew that Hellenora would be inside her living room. Without wasting another second, he went straight to the living room. Hellenora was sitting on one of the couches.

Hellenora: I thought you would take more than a day to leave everything that you love more than anyone's feelings. But you came back just in three hours. That's impressive.

Hellenora taunted Zeus in a sarcastic tone. She signalled Zeus to sit down and he nodded his head. He sat down on the couch in front of her.

Zeus: I know better that I can not run away from it. Not anymore. I knew one day it would be on my head. I just expected it to be earlier. But I guess I was wrong. I just want to know, why now?

Zeus honestly replied to her then curiously asked her a question.

Hellenora: You were not guilty enough before. Ocean, she was the one who made you feel that guilt that you had buried deep in the core of the earth. Did you think that mother nature will never spit it out on your face again?

Hellenora taunted him again and he just nodded his head guiltily.

Zeus: I deserve all that. Will you honestly tell me something?

He asked her with a hope filled tone. She nodded her head and signalled him to ask.

Zeus: How is she?

He asked her but did not dare to look into her eyes. Hearing his question, she started laughing hysterically.

Hellenora: Living that same life in that hell. In a different way. You know, it's not easy for an innocent person like her to deal with demons. I can't believe that you hurt her this much. But don't worry. One day you will meet her. That day you will realize how much you have corrupted her. Till then, you have to wait and cope up with your guilt.

She replied and he nodded his head again.

Hellenora: Don't worry, Zeus. Those are your sins you are about to face. Your baby brother Moon and his innocent wife Ocean, along with your whole family. They did not do anything to deserve any kind of punishment. Even if it gets out of their hands, I will jump in and kill Valtor myself. But just for you to know, I won't let him destroy those innocent lives.

She reassured him and he forced a small smile on his face.

Zeus: What do I have to do?

He asked her, making his final decision.

Hellenora: Just get ready for your punishment. The rest will be taken care of. I promise you, they will not get a single scratch. I will be responsible for their security. All you have to do is to write a goodbye letter for your brother and get ready.

She replied and offered him a pen and a notebook. He nodded his head and took the pen and the notebook. He wrote a letter for Moon, to explain everything to him. With final goodbye, he gave the pen and the notebook back to Hellenora. She took it from him and nodded her head.

He stood up and nodded his head. She also stood up and handed an empty glass to him. He held the glass tightly with both of his hands. She started chanting a spell again and again. Zeus felt a sharp pain inside his body. Due to the unbearable pain, he was unable to hold the glass. The glass fell on the floor and broke into million pieces. Hellenora kept chanting the spell. She did not stop at all. Soon, a bright light filled the room and blinded every living being in the room and also outside. Hellenora stopped chanting the spell and went to her bedroom. She pulled a box out of her closet and blew the dust off of it.

Hellenora: It's time.

She thought to herself.

(If you want to know what Zeus did to Debria and who was Debria, you can read my story, Eve's Dark Destiny. And Let me know in the comments if you want to read the story of Zeus. There is a lot more than you have read about Zeus in this story. Thank you, enjoy reading.)

CHAPTER 44

OCEAN'S POV:-

I heard Vixen roaring loudly inside me. That woke me up. I sat up abruptly on the bed. I was catching my breath and Moon also woke up. He sat up and started rubbing my back. He then filled a glass with cold water and handed me the glass. I downed its content in one go. My throat was dry. The cold water helped me a bit.

Moon: Is everything okay, Ocean?

He asked me in a worried tone and I looked at him.

Ocean: I think something bad has happened to Alpha Zeus. I don't know what but something is wrong. I can feel it. Because of Vixen, I can feel it.

I replied in a panicked tone and Moon shook his head.

Moon: I told him not to do anything stupid because of us. But he is a stubborn ass. He never listens.

He said in an angry tone. He hopped off of the bed and in a blink of an eye, he was in his clothes. I also crawled out of the bed and wore my PJs along with my nightgown.

Once done, he grabbed my hand and we both stepped out of our bedroom. He took me straight to the living room. I was not surprised at all when I saw Mr and Mrs Kart in the living room. Mrs Kart was sobbing quietly and Mr Kart was trying hard to contact someone. I was sure he was trying to contact Alpha Zeus.

I went to Moon's ma and hugged her. I rubbed her back as she cried her heart out. Moon went to Mr Kart and hugged him. Mr Kart patted his back but I could say he felt better after seeing Moon.

Maria: Why did he have to do that? Please tell me he will be back home soon. Please tell me he is unharmed. Oh God, I can't live without my Zeus.

Maria was crying and whispering her prayers in my ear. I could not do anything to ease her pain. I just kept rubbing her back.

Vixen growled inside my chest as my eyes glowed like stars. I hopped off of the couch and Vixen was ready to leash out any minute. It was not a full moon. It was all because I could smell some strange scents in our territory. My mate was already by my side as we always fought side by side. We were not just mates in bed, but also in the battlefield.

We all heard a loud boom and suddenly, a bright light blinded us all. We all shut our eyes but Vixen was ready for the fight. We all covered our ears as we heard ear piercing cries of the people who were gathered around the mansion. The bright light subsided and the cries went silent. The doorbell rang and Moon looked at us all.

I grabbed his hand and we both went to the door. To my surprise, Vixen was calm inside me. That made me sure that whoever was at the door, would not be dangerous. Moon looked at me and I nodded my head with a small smile. Signalling him that everything was fine. He opened the door and I saw a woman standing.

Vivian: I was not expecting you to be here so early. What brought you here, Hellenora?

My mother asked in a sarcastic tone as she made her way towards the woman that was standing in front of us.

Hellenora: I have made a promise. I am here to keep my side of the bargain.

She replied and my mother stared at her blankly.

Vivian: Where is Alpha Zeus? What did you do to him?

My mother asked Hellenora and both Moon and I looked at her.

Hellenora: He is where he has to be. He had committed sins. And the time for his punishments has come. He is on his way to his tests.

She replied and Moon gritted his teeth. I felt the same anger as Moon for Hellenora. Moon was about to lunge at her but we all heard a growl. I knelt on the ground as I thought he had become the new Alpha. I looked up and found everyone doing the same except for Moon and Vixen. It was strange. Because Vixen always bowed inside me for the Alpha.

Derek: Tell me, he will be fine? His mother will not be fine until she will see him by her own eyes. At least, you should have let him say goodbye. At least to his mother.

He asked Hellenora and she sighed. She stepped into the mansion and went straight to pa.

Hellenora: He has said his goodbyes to all of you. You will hear that soon. I can not help. It is his fate that took him where he is right now.

She replied and patted Pa's shoulder. He nodded his head. He was trying hard but I could see the reflection of his sadness and his broken heart into his eyes.

Derek: Why did he have to do that?

He asked and his voice was shaky. He was trying hard to keep everything in control. He knew if he gave up, ma would lose herself.

Hellenora: It was time for him to pay for everything he had done. He did it to save you all. He did it all for his brother, Moon and for Ocean as well. You need to understand that there is always a price to pay for our deeds.

She replied and I gritted my teeth hearing her. She was speaking like Alpha Zeus had done something so bad that he deserved to be punished. I was worried about him. He was the Alpha. And if anything happens to him, our territory would be in danger. First my evil father and then this Hellenora who took my brother away.

Moon: Where is my brother?

Moon roared at Hellenora and I again bowed in respect. But this time, it happened on its own. And Vixen's head was also bowed in respect. I did not understand why I was bowing. And that too in front of Moon. Hellenora turned towards Moon and she as well knelt down on the ground. My mother gasped as she saw Hellenora bowing in front of Moon. She also bowed and Moon frowned in confusion. I looked at pa who also knelt in front of Moon. Ma also came and joined us all by kneeling down on the ground. Hellenora looked up at Moon and smiled.

Hellenora: We all need your permission to stand up again, Alpha Moon.

She said and Moon's jaw dropped on the ground.

CHAPTER 45

MOON'S POV:-

Moon: Where is my brother?

I roared at the woman whose name was Hellenora. I frowned as I saw my Ocean kneeling on the ground in front of me, showing respect for me. I did not understand why she was submitting in front of me. I knew Zeus was not around. But I also knew pa had taken his place as he was the most powerful wolf in the whole territory after Zeus. Hellenora turned towards me and to my surprise, she as well knelt down on the ground. Vivian gasped as she saw Hellenora bowing in front of me. Vivian also bowed and I became even more confused. I looked at pa who also knelt in front of me. Ma also came and joined everyone by kneeling down on the ground. Hellenora looked up at me and smiled like she knew what was happening.

Hellenora: We all need your permission to stand up again, Alpha Moon.

She said and my jaw dropped on the ground. I glared at her and she narrowed her eyes in respect.

Derek: Moon, you heard her, son. Take the charge.

Pa said but his eyes were still glued to the ground. I gritted my teeth because I hated to even think of taking Zeus place. I was not the Alpha, Zeus was.

Moon: Rise you all.

I said in an angry tone and they all stood up. I went to Hellenora and she looked at me.

Moon: Care to explain this melodrama?

I asked her in an angry tone and she nodded her head. She signalled us all to follow her. We did as she asked us. We all stepped into the living room of our mansion. Everyone was standing and looking at me. I rolled my eyes and sat down. Then I signalled everyone and they also sat down. But my Ocean did not. I offered her my hand and she finally smiled. She came to me and sat beside me. I wrapped my arm around her shoulders and then I looked back at Hellenora.

Hellenora: As I said, Zeus has said his goodbyes to everyone. Zeus left this letter in my hands. He wanted you to read it first, Alpha Moon.

She said and gave a folded paper to Ocean. Ocean gave it to me and I unfolded it. She was right, it belonged to Zeus. As I recognized his handwriting on the letter I was given.

Zeus: My dear brother, Moon.

My time has come. I have to go and pay for everything I have done. As for everything that was my responsibility, Hellenora will guide you through. She knows a way to kill Valtor. Make sure you and Ocean do exactly as she will tell you. I know you will not be at ease until you will find me. But to be honest, I don't even know what would happen to me or where I would be? It's my time to go to the hell I have created for myself. Don't waste your time, looking for me around. I am leaving and trusting my whole territory in your hands. As the Alpha of Dark Moon pack, I announce you as the new Alpha. The whole territory is obliged to respect you and follow your orders. Don't forget the promise you have made before I left. Once everything is finished, pa will arrange a ceremony that would be your final mating ceremony. You are the new Alpha of my territory and Ocean will be your Luna. I don't know when or if I would ever come back. So this is a goodbye. Take care of ma and pa. And keep it in your mind, I can die to keep you safe. Because you are my brother and I love you.

I read the letter loudly for everyone to hear. I would have broken into tears if it was not for Ocean who hugged me tightly when I needed her. Her scent calmed me a bit and I looked at Hellenora.

Moon: What we have to do so Valtor will be dead. And will his death help me to bring me back my brother?

I asked her and she sighed. I nodded my head as I knew that this all would do nothing to help Zeus. My grandfather stepped into the living room and I stood up. He nodded his head and sat beside my pa. I sat back down on the couch and signalled Hellenora to tell me everything.

Hellenora: Let me start from the beginning. As you might have learned everything about you and Ocean. You both were born mated. You both are inseparable. But Ocean's father, Sam Knight took her away. He always kept her away from water to keep her away from you, Alpha Moon. He was told everything when he took Ocean. I was the one who told him that Ocean was not his daughter.

She started and I and Ocean both looked at Vivian. She was as shocked as we were, hearing all the facts Hellenora was telling us.

Vivian: I never wanted to tell him that. For Ocean's safety, I kept it a secret.

She said and Hellenora shook her head.

Hellenora: You did what was best for you, you selfish bitch. But what I did, actually kept Ocean safe all these years. It was me who asked Mr Knight to take her away so Valtor would not smell her anywhere in New Orleans. I told Mr Knight how to keep Ocean safe. My plan was to send Moon to New York City where he would meet Ocean and they would safely be done with the mating ceremony. I wanted it all to happen a few months before they would turn eighteen. But of course, your son, Parko jumped in and destroyed everything. I would have been shocked, how did he find Ocean, if I would not have know what kind of bitch you really are.

She said and Vivian narrowed her eyes. As if she was guilty for something we knew nothing about.

Moon: What do you mean? Who is Parko? What does he have to do with me and Ocean?

I asked Hellenora in a confused tone. She looked at Vivian with a disgusted face. Hellenora turned back towards us and started telling us everything.

OCEAN'S POV:-

Hellenora: Parko was actually Ocean's biological brother. He was two centuries older than Ocean but he was her brother. I sent them away for a reason. I knew Valtor had asked Parko to find Ocean and bring her to New Orleans. Ocean was the key to unlocking the monster that is inside Moon. It was until, a few years ago, I went to the land of enchantresses. I had some things to take care of. But before I left, I told everything to Vivian. I also filled her in that Parko was trying to find a way to bring her here. I thought after telling her everything, she would be cautious and would keep a sharp eye on her son. But I was wrong. I never thought of what she was actually thinking.

She said and I gritted my teeth. She was blaming my mother for I did not know what.

Ocean: How can you blame her for me being here? It was an accident that brought me here. My uncle could not leave me there all alone.

I asked her angrily and she glared at my mother. My mother also glared at Hellenora angrily. I found it weird that she was not looking into my eyes.

Hellenora: So she did not tell you, did she?

She asked me and I and Moon exchanged looks.

Moon: Tell us what?

Moon asked and we looked at my mother who did not dare to look at us. Then we looked at Hellenora who was shaking her head in a disappointed way.

Hellenora: It was not just an accident, Ocean. Your parents were murdered so you will be brought here. Parko was the one who killed your parents. He was in the plane. And as they planned, you came here. You almost died if it was not for Vixen. She saved your life. Your father is an evil vampire and your mother is an enchantress who was banished from the fairyland. How do you think you became a werewolf?

She asked me and I looked at my mother with teary eyes. Moon tightened his hold around my shoulders and I hugged him tightly.

Moon: It was Zeus. He bit Ocean to turn her.

Moon replied to her on my behalf. Hellenora shook her head and glared again at my mother.

Hellenora: Let me start from the very beginning. Whatever your grandfather had told you, Alpha Moon. It was all true. But Ocean, you know nothing. Your mother was not an enchantress. She was a fairy. She was sent here to gather up some herbs to perform some rituals. She found your father and they both fell in love. Her father told her everything about Valtor but she stubbornly denied her father. Her father tried to bind her with one of the male fairies in the fairyland. But she got mated with your father. For disrespecting the decision of the king, her feathers were taken away and she was banished from the fairyland.

Hellenora started telling us the love story of my parents and I rolled my eyes. To my surprise, my mother stood up and tried to get away. But Moon growled lowly and my mother froze in her tracks. She went back to her seat and sat back down.

Hellenora: Vixen is not a werewolf. She was the most loyal and faithful protector of the fairyland. The day you were born at the same time when Moon was born...

She was explaining to us but moon interrupted.

Moon: Wait, hold on a second. Ocean is younger than me. A few months, that was what I was told.

Moon asked her and she shook her head.

Hellenora: There is a reason why you both are known as the born mated couple. You both were born at the same time, on the same day. Anyways, before you both were born, Vivian's father came to know the fact that Moon has an indestructible monster inside him. And Valtor is going to use it to rule the world. And the only key to keep it locked was Ocean by Moon's side. In order to save an innocent child, the King of the fairyland sent his son, Vlad to bind Vixen with Ocean. He caged her inside Ocean. As loyal and faithful she was to the fairyland, she stayed inside Ocean to keep her safe. Vixen is actually a gift for you from Vivian's brother. According to Vlad, it was the only way to keep you safe. I understood everything the day you were almost killed by those bitches. Zeus bite did nothing but awoken Vixen inside you. She leashed out and saved your life.

She replied and I looked at my mother who did not even have courage to look at us.

Moon: So what it has to take with Vivian and Parko?

He asked the question I had in mind.

Hellenora: After that incident and the so-called accident, I told Vivian to keep an eye on Parko. She did not listen to me. As far as I was told, she did that on purpose. Otherwise there was no way Valtor would have changed her. Vivian wanted Valtor back and that was the reason she kept Parko alive. She never cared about her children. Ocean to be specific. She was a mare human for everyone. Parko on the other side, he was special. He was the only one who could free Valtor. If she would have cared, she would have killed Valtor by herself.

She said in a taunting tone and Moon stood up along with his grandfather. My mother was glaring at me and Moon.

Derek: Tell me, she is lying, Viv. You can not do that.

Pa asked as Hellenora stood in front of me, as if she was protecting me from someone, my mother was that someone.

Vivian: I wanted my family back. The one which was destroyed by Vincent Redford. You think Valtor was the one who killed that good for nothing Aiden and his wife. I was the one who poisoned them. Otherwise, Valtor was no match against Aiden. He was way too powerful for Valtor to defeat.

She spat those words and I felt the bitterness of her words in my mouth.

Vincent: Then why all that drama to tell me how much you love your baby. Why even bother giving birth to her?

Grandpa asked and she started laughing hysterically.

Vivian: For the power she possesses. Her fate was decided. I was told what Vlad and my father were planning on. I would have killed her so there would be no one to stop Valtor. But I wanted Vixen. Because Vixen was the key to unlock my powers. Vixen actually belonged to me. I created her.

My mother replied as she stood up. Vixen was scratching the walls to leash out but I was keeping her calm. My mother suddenly lunged herself at me. But before she could reach me, she was kicked hard and pinned to the ground. I looked around and found ma in her wolf form. She was growling at my mother angrily.

OCEAN'S POV:-

Vivian: For the power she possesses. Her fate was decided. I was told what Vlad and my father were planning on. I would have killed her so there would be no one to stop Valtor. But I wanted Vixen. Because Vixen was the key to unlock my powers. Vixen actually belonged to me. I created her.

My mother replied as she stood up. Vixen was scratching the walls to leash out but I was keeping her calm. My mother suddenly lunged herself at me. But before she could reach me, she was kicked hard and pinned to the ground. I looked around and found ma in her wolf form. She was growling at my mother angrily.

Moon was suddenly in front of me and so was his grandpa. As pa noticed ma changing back into her human form, he went to her and covered her body with the coat. Ma stood up but her foot was on my mother's chest.

Maria: How could you? You dare to even think about hurting my family. I will tear you apart. No one could ever mess up with Maria Kart's family. Not even you.

Ma growled at my mother and I smirked mischievously. As she told me, I was part of their family. And I loved my family. I grabbed Moon's hand and he looked at me.

Hellenora: Your time is up. Your brother is here, Vivian. You are going back. You have already done enough damage here. I can't afford to see you here anymore. Your stay is a threat to humanity and also the supernatural world. I am meant to protect the supernatural world and humanity as well.

Hellenora said and my mother went pale. We all turned around and found the most gorgeous man I had ever seen in my life. He was tall and muscular. His skin was as shiny as gold. His long blonde hair was pulled up in a ponytail but still it reached his till his lower back. He had a pair of feathers on his back. His golden and black butterfly like feathers took my breath away. His face was like my mother but he was more beautiful.

He came in and went straight to my mother. He nodded his head to Hellenora then grabbed my mother's arm.

Vivian: What are you doing? I was banished by our father. You can not just take me back. I will not go. Leave me, Vlad.

My mother started screaming and kicking but it did not affect him at all. As if he was made of iron.

Vlad: Your time here is up. Now you belong to the prison of the fairyland. Father made sure to get your cell dirty and stinky. As you never liked.

He said and dragged my mother out of the mansion. We all followed them behind. He threw my mother in a cage he had brought with him. He then looked at me and smiled.

Vlad: Father was right, I really can not believe you are the daughter of the most evil parents in the world. But don't worry, without Vivian, Valtor is nothing for you. You can defeat him and don't worry. Vivian will never get a chance to touch you. Father has his plans to torture her for the rest of her life. Take care of her, Moon. She is a gift for you from our father. The king of the fairyland.

He said and Moon and I both nodded our heads. He then flapped his feathers and in a few minutes he vanished into the sky along with the cage, my mother was caged in. Hellenora cleared her throat and we all turned to look at her. She signalled us all to follow her. We again went back to the living room.

Hellenora: After that incident, Zeus asked me to remove your memories from the rest of the family you had left. Now, you don't really exist in their lives. I know it is hard for you but your parents will always be watching over you. They are not alive, but they are with you. Inside your heart, they are inside your heart, Ocean.

She said and I nodded my head. Moon wrapped his arms around my shoulders and I sneaked an arm around his waist. He kissed the top of my head lovingly. We all sat back down and Hellenora opened a box she had brought with her. She pulled out a dagger from the box and came to Moon. Bowing her head in respect, she gave it to me. I frowned but took it.

Hellenora: This is the dagger that was made about a century ago. It's called The Dagger of Eve. Long time ago, Cerberus territory had a female warrior. She was kind and brave. She made this dagger by her own hands. It was made to kill each and every demonic immortal. This dagger is the only way to kill Valtor. But only Ocean can use this dagger. It is enchanted, so no man would touch it. I still don't know why she enchanted it like this. As if she knew what would happen to her.

She said and I looked at the dagger. It was very stunning. It was white and carved beautifully. It had its name carved on it. As the light of the sun touched it, it glowed like thousands of pearls on it.

Ocean: It's beautiful.

Those words escaped my lips in a dreamy tone. Moon chuckled and looked at the dagger. He frowned as he looked at the dagger.

Moon: It looks like a piece of wood to me. Nothing else. Are you sure it would kill Valtor?

Moon asked Hellenora and I frowned. I did not understand why he could not see what I was able to see. It did not look like it was made of wood. It felt like it was made of pure marble or a valuable crystal or stone.

Maria: Moon is right, it looks like it is made of an ordinary wood. I don't think so it can help us kill that evil son of a bitch.

Ma said in an angry tone and I looked at everyone's face. They all had that same disappointed look on their faces. Like it was nothing but a waste of time. I looked at the dagger again. My eyes almost popped out of its sockets as I witnessed the most beautiful thing in this world. The dagger changed its colors. From white color, it turned into blue. Hellenora chuckled seeing the dreamy look on my face. I looked up at her and everyone else.

Ocean: Did you not see that? It changed its colors. It's not made of an ordinary wood. Can you not see that?

I asked everyone in a confused tone and everyone shook their heads. Everyone except for Hellenora. She was grinning proudly as her eyes were at me.

Hellenora: There is a reason why it is called The Dagger of Eve. It chooses its owner on its own. For everyone, it's an ordinary wooden dagger. But as it has chosen you for now, It is showing its true self to you. And if you know the real meaning of every color, it means you will find out when to use it. May the powers of Eve will be with you the day you will use it.

She said and I just stared at her with a blank face. I was shocked hearing everything she had told me. But I knew she was just guiding me. I composed myself again and nodded my head.

CHAPTER 48

MOON'S POV:-

A Month Later:-

As the full moon rose again, everyone including Ocean went out. I was alone at the mansion. After that day, we never saw Vivian again. And I was thankful that we would never see her again. I never thought that sweet loving mother was actually a bitch from inside. After that day, Ma never left Ocean alone.

Ocean once asked me to take her to her uncle. She wanted to see if they were okay. We watched them from afar. Everyone was fine except for Mr Knight. He looked devastated. After every hour, he was asking about something that was missing, something that he forgot about. We both knew that his subconscious was reminding him of Ocean. But it was for everyone's sake. It was specially to keep Ocean safe. Zeus made that decision for a reason.

Ocean had started working with that dagger. For me and everyone else, it was still a piece of garbage but Ocean said it was not even made of wood. She said it was made of real pearls and it was beautifully carved. The gold dust glowed every time rays of the sun touched it.

Hellenora said it was because the dagger only shows it's true self to the people who possess the same power as a woman whose name was Eve. We never even saw Hellenora again. It was like she just disappeared. Pa said it was because her work was done when she gave The Dagger of Eve to Ocean.

Ma and pa were out because it was full moon. But Ocean was out for a hunt. Ever since I became the Alpha of the Dark Moon pack, Ocean stood by my side in every decision I took. And as she was the Luna of the Dark Moon pack, she decided to go out and check if anyone was in trouble or needed her help. Valtor took over my grandfather's territory after Zeus disappeared. All the loyal vampires came to our territory. We all welcomed them happily. Valtor also planned multiple attacks on our territory but as Vlad had said, Valtor was nothing without Vivian.

I hopped off of the couch as I sensed some strange scents in my mansion. I cursed under my breath because Ocean had told me to shut the door before she left. But I was too busy with the Sudoku I was playing that I forgot to shut the door.

Valtor: Finally, we meet. It's time for you to submit to me, pet. Your time to live freely is up.

I rolled my eyes in annoyance as I heard the lamest villain speech in my life. I turned around and found myself surrounded by almost a hundred vampires. Valtor was standing behind them all. I smirked because I knew he was afraid of the monster everyone feared.

Moon: Seriously. You could not come up with something more exciting. Dude, that's the lamest villain dialogue I have ever heard. Believe me, you are not cool.

I said in an annoyed tone and one of his baby vamps chuckled. In a blink of an eye, Valtor slit his throat and he fell on the ground.

Moon: Dude, you have got to be kidding me. Ocean will kill me if she sees this blood stain upon her favorite rug. Could you not have killed that bastard somewhere else?

I angrily asked him and he glared at me.

Valtor: You talk too much. I will make sure to cut your tongue when you will serve me. Or maybe stitching your lips would be better.

He said while scratching his chin like he was thinking of me with my lips stitched. I rolled my eyes in annoyance. He was really a boring villain. He signalled all his vampires and they all lunged themselves at me at once.

Moon: Oh fuck...

I said as they all attacked me all together. I was trying to fight them all but there was no way I could defeat them all on my own. They were too many and I was fighting the monster inside me as well. He was ready to lash out as he sensed the danger around me. I had to keep my monster locked inside me.

OCEAN'S POV:-

I felt a sharp pain into my arm as I was running deep into the forest. I stopped by the lake and drank water to calm myself. I was not in my wolf form. I just wanted to look around if everything was fine. As the full moons were never easy for any werewolf.

Vixen: Our mate is in trouble.

I heard Vixen roaring from inside me. I gritted my teeth and let Vixen take over me. My bond cracked as I tore my clothes off of my body. Vixen leashed out and she ran in the direction of our mansion. I knew on foot I would not be able to reach the mansion as fast as Vixen could. So I allowed her to take the charge.

In a few minutes, I was standing in the backyard of the mansion. Vixen saw two guards standing on the roof of the mansion. I needed to use the roof to reach our bedroom. The dagger was inside our bedroom. Vixen growled loudly and started climbing up. In a minute, she was on the roof. The vampire guards lunged themselves at her but with a single swing of her paw, she slit their heads off. They fell on the ground and Vixen made her way to our bedroom. She entered the bedroom and let me out.

I quickly wore my clothes and grabbed the dagger. It changed its color again. It was red as blood and glowing like lava. As I knew red is the sign of danger, I understood that it was time to use the dagger. I stepped out of the bedroom only to get caught by five more vampires. I gritted my teeth as I knew I needed to defeat them before I would be able to go and help my Moon. I put the dagger under my shirt and got ready to fight them. One of them lunged at me thinking that I would be an easy target. I grabbed him by his neck and slammed him on the ground. Vixen leashed out again and cut him in half.

As one of them was dead, the others attacked us together. Vixen turned around and with her back paws she kicked them all hard, one by one. They fell on the ground and Vixen smashed their brains out of their skulls. I came back out, grabbed a curtain and wrapped it around my naked body. I grabbed the dagger that fell on the ground when Vixen came out again. Then I quietly made my way to the ground floor. I saw Moon was trying hard to fight those vampires.

MOON'S POV:-

I landed on the ground and Valtor put his foot on my head. I gritted my teeth and tried to get up. I was just tired because I was not just fighting those vampires. I was also fighting that monster that was inside me. I could feel him getting angrier with every single punch. He was getting ready to leash out and the worst part was, Ocean was not around to push him back inside.

Last time I felt like destroying the whole world when I almost lost Ocean. It was like that monster was in love with Ocean. That he could only be controlled by Ocean.

Valtor: That's it, my pet. Let him take over. Let him out so I can rule the world. Let him come out because his master is calling him. I am his master and he only serves me.

Valtor said as he pressed his foot on my head. My claws grew bigger and I dug my claws in his leg. He screamed in pain and kicked my stomach. I went flying to the nearest wall and fell on the ground with a loud thud. The sweet vanilla scent made its way to my nostrils and I started laughing hysterically. Just as the scent reached my lungs, my monster stopped threatening me.

Valtor gave me a confused look as my laugh was louder than his roars. He gritted his teeth in anger and stood up from the seat he was sitting on. Suddenly, I felt something I had never felt in my life. I could see everything but I felt more powerful than ever. I looked around and everything was red. Like I had blood in my eyes or someone turned on the red lights. I looked at my reflection in the window glass. My eyes widened as I saw him. The monster was actually out. My eyes were pitch black and my fangs were bigger. My claws were sharper and my skin looked like the frozen water of the lake.

Valtor smiled as he made his way to me. One of the vampires attacked me but I raised my hand in the air and because of my sharp claws, my hand went through his chest. I shook my arm and he fell on the ground with a loud thud. Valtor was almost beside me when Ocean stood between us. I leaned over her hair and inhaled her sweet scent deeply. Valtor's eyes glowed red as he attacked Ocean. But before I could even move my hand, Ocean pushed the dagger into his chest. The dagger cut through his heart. Ocean pulled it out again and turned around. She cupped my face and we kissed each other hungrily.

We broke the kiss and lunged ourselves at the vampires. Before Valtor's head would have hit the ground, all his vampires were lying dead on the ground. I smirked at my brave mate and carried her to our bedroom. I threw her on the bed and we made love. But we were not gentle. We were fucking each other like two wild animals. I finally understood something that I had never paid attention towards. Ocean was my mate and Vixen was the mate of my monster inside me. We were inseparable.

OCEAN'S POV:-

Ma tied my hair in a beautiful bun and handed me the bouquet of flowers. She gave me her hand and helped me stand up. I was so nervous that my palms were sweaty. She giggled and pulled me in a motherly hug. We heard a knock on the door and we turned around.

Maria: You can come in, Derek.

She said and pa stepped into the room. A tear escaped his eye as he looked at me. He came to me and pecked my forehead.

Derek: You look absolutely stunning, my dear. Moon is very lucky to have you in his life. Everything changed the day you stepped into our lives. And I am glad that you were sent here. Our family is complete now.

He said as he pulled me in a fatherly hug. Maria rubbed my back as pa broke the hug. I gave him my hand and he shook his head. I frowned because I was told pa would be taking me to my Moon.

Derek: Someone came here only to take you to your Moon. I can not do that, honey. It's his right to do.

He answered my unasked question and I frowned even more.

Derek: You can come in, Mr Knight.

He loudly said and my heart started beating crazily inside my rib cage. He stepped into the room and tears filled my eyes as he made his way towards me. Ma and pa stepped out of the room, leaving me with him.

Ocean: Uncle Jack, is that really you?

I whispered softly and he nodded his head. I jumped on him and he also wrapped his arms around me. I hugged him tightly. I had missed him.

Jack: All this time I felt like I was forgetting something. It was you, my baby. How could I just leave you alone on your perfect day. I am so sorry for everything you have been through. But at least I can sleep peacefully because I know Moon is with you.

He said and I broke the hug. I looked at him with a frown on my face.

Ocean: Did Moon bring you here?

I asked him and he nodded his head again.

Jack: He did. I thought you died or was abducted. He said you were with him. Now I am glad he took you away. I can see, you are safe and happy with Karts.

He replied and wiped my tears. I also wiped his tears and he gave me his hand. I grabbed his hand and he pulled me out of the room. We stepped into the garden that was decorated with ribbons and flowers and candies and cookies for me. Uncle Jack took me to my Moon and he offered me his hand. I happily took it and he pulled me up on the stage.

The father started reciting something we did not pay attention towards. We were so lost in each other's eyes, we did not even look at each other's outfits. We just answered the Padre when he asked us if we would accept each other.

The Padre announced us as husband and wife and before he could continue, Moon slammed his lips on mine. He pulled me up from the ground and I quickly wrapped my legs around his waist. I thanked God because Maria insisted on me choosing a fluffy dress. Or I would never have hugged Moon like that. We kissed each other hungrily and everyone stood up, cheering happily. Moon broke the kiss and I looked into his eyes.

Moon: Now that we are married, the next mission is to find our brother, Zeus.

He said and I nodded my head.

Ocean: I will follow you to the gates of hell if we needed to, so we could find him. You are not alone. I am with you till the end of this life and even in death.

I replied and he smiled. He cupped my face again and kissed me slowly, lovingly.

CHAPTER 50 .

4 Years Later:-

MOON'S POV:-

I was helping pa with the decorations. It was Halloween and Ocean always loved Halloween. I heard a giggle and turned around with a smile on my face. My eyes widened in horror and I gasped as I saw what was going on. My son was standing with the fountain and he was ready to jump in.

Moon: Sam, stop right there. If you jump in, I will eat all your candies. I dare you.

I yelled at my son loudly and he smirked mischievously. I heard a chuckle from beside me and I turned back towards pa. He was laughing at me.

Moon: What?

I asked him in an annoyed tone and he laughed even louder seeing my annoyance. He went towards the fountain and I followed him behind. He grabbed my son and carried him in his arms.

Derek: That is how we stop them. Not dare them to do something they should not do. Right, champ?

Pa said in a taunting tone then asked my son. He nodded his head and I rolled my eyes.

Moon: I can't help it, okay? He is as annoying as Zeus is.

I replied and my father started laughing again.

Derek: He is not near to what Zeus was in this age. Sam is a very innocent and cute child.

Pa replied and I shook my head. For Sam, pa was his best friend and ma was his enemy because she forced him to drink milk and eat vegetables.

Ocean: Oh there you are. Do you want to be at the party in your boring clothes? What about the costume you have bought so you will look like Alpha Zeus?

Ocean came from behind and asked Sam who was innocently chewing the chocolate he had taken from my father's tuxedo jacket.

Sam: Dada called me here. It's not my fault.

He replied to his mother and my eyes widened. Ocean and I broke into laughter as we heard the most innocent clam.

A familiar voice: Halloween party and without me. I can't allow that, can I?

A very familiar voice made its way to my ears and I turned around. I blinked a few times as I saw her standing in front of me. The same stunning face. But not as innocent as she used to be.

Moon: Dabria... it can't be.

I said as she looked at me. She gave me the biggest smile I had ever seen on her lips. She came to me and waved her fingers. She then looked at Sam who quickly put his pacifier into his mouth. It was a sign that he was nervous.

Dabria: You have a very beautiful boy. I am sure he will not be like his uncle.

She said and I thought she was talking to me. But instead, she looked at Ocean as she ended her sentence.

Ocean: I am so sorry. I don't think we have ever met before.

Ocean asked her in confusion and Dabria shook her head.

Dabria: No we have not. Let me introduce myself to you. My name is Dabria the Curse. And I am the daughter of Mr Kart's friend.

She introduced herself to Ocean and Ocean smiled. Ocean opened her arms for her. Dabria hugged her back.

Dabria: For the first time I felt like the welcome hug was genuine for me. Pardon me but I am not very much welcome anywhere.

She replied and I could see the pain in her eyes. The hurt and betrayal was evident in her beautiful eyes. Hearing that, Ocean again hugged her and Dabria giggled nervously.

Ocean: You are always welcome here, sister. Now let's get you a costume for the party as well.

I smiled proudly as I heard my wife. She was kind and strong.

Dabria: I am not here for the party. I am here to take what belongs to me.

She replied and we all frowned. We did not understand what she was talking about. I sighed as I remembered the box Zeus had in his bedroom.

Moon: Would you like to go to Zeus' room and take it by yourself or I can get that box to you. I don't want you to hurt yourself even more Dabria.

I said and she started laughing hysterically.

Dabria: Oh no. I am not here for that garbage. I am here to take The Dagger of Eve. It is time that I claim it back. I can hear him. He is calling me.

She said and I looked at Ocean. We both looked at each other with confusion evident on our faces. Ocean smiled and nodded her head. She went back to our bedroom and brought The Dagger of Eve. She came to Dabria and handed her the box. Dabria pulled the box to her chest and sighed in relief.

Dabria: Thank you for taking care of this dagger. I would have enjoyed the party with you if I would not have a very important work to finish. But I promise, next year I will be here and will enjoy this beautiful party with you.

She said and turned around to leave when Ocean shook her head.

Ocean: Don't apologize, sister. You can come whenever you want. Just take care of yourself.

She replied with a smile and Dabria turned around to look at her. She forced a small smile on her face and took a few steps backwards. She mouthed "thank you" to Ocean then she went away.

Pa took Sam into the mansion to help him change his clothes while Ocean grabbed my arm and hugged my arm tightly.

Ocean: Who was that woman? She looked like she was in pain. Like she was drowning and trying to keep her head high. And her tone hinted pure hatred towards Alpha Zeus. Why is that?

She asked in a sad tone. I sighed as I knew what was wrong with Dabria. And I knew I had to tell everything to Ocean.

Moon: She was Dabria. She used to be exactly like you. Pure, innocent, kind and very sensitive. But that was until my brother crushed her dreams and her hopes under his feet. For him, it made him feel powerful whenever he used to dominate her. That was what he said but in reality, he used to humiliate her. He corrupted a pure and innocent woman and now she is like the devil's girlfriend.

I replied and she stared at me with her mouth agape and her eyes wide open.

The End.

(Where one story ends, the other one starts. Moon and Ocean have gotten their happily ever after. But Zeus is still out there. What is his punishment and why is he punished like this? Who is Dabria and what did he do to her? Find it out in the story, Eve's Dark Destiny.)
